TRACK AND FIELD MEETS.

"Not what we say, but what we do makes test,
Performance speaks the last word and the best."

So says a very wise blottor on the editor's desk. And yet while we hope to show what we think of track meets by our performances today, we may surely be allowed a few words on the subject as well.

It would be interesting to know when the first track-meet was held. We have a suspicion that Cain and Abel used to run races from palm tree to palm tree in raiment even scantier than that worn by our own track heroes, while Father Adam and Mother Eve looked on and applauded, and the friendly lions, tigers and kangaroos wondered what those strange new brothers of theirs could be doing. Certainly Egyptian boys vied with one another in sport in the days of the Pharaohs and a little later Greek youths met in meets that were not merely for neighboring schools but for the whole nation.

Today we are glad to meet our brothers from Ventura, and King City, from San Luis High, Lompoc, Gonzales, Arroyo Grande and Santa Maria. We know that they will teach us many lessons, we hope that we may be able to show them a trick or two ourselves. Some of us must lose and some will win but we hope that at the end of the meet we shall know we have had a day of clean, healthful sport; that those who have won have won honorably, that those who have lost have lost gamely and that the temper of our bodies and our minds alike is keener and surer because of the California Polytechnic track meet.

AN ANXIOUS MOMENT.

I soon realized the facts. Some one was following me. I could not think, though, who it could be. Several times I tried to rouse my dulled brain to a realization of the case. It was a wonder that I could comprehend anything. With difficulty I quickened my steps and turned the next corner where the murky air drifted along the alley. Feeling the wall as I went, my fingers hit a casing and I stepped into a doorway. Now I knew what I would do. This would be just the place to hide and let my follower go past. Hardly breathing I waited. While leaning against the door my whole frame trembled at the suspense.

I counted to a hundred, and repeated, I could not tell you how often. The way must be clear now, I said to myself. Something told me to wait till I counted another hundred.

Suddenly the door came open and it was with difficulty that I regained my balance. The light from within blinded me. I lifted my hand from my eyes.

"Why, it's you! Patrolman Casey! Casey, someone has been following me."

Casey's face broadened into a broad grin as he said, "It was Casey himself, me lad."

PRESS DAY.
"Let me print a kiss upon your lips."
She nodded her sweet permission;
We started to press, and I rather guess
We printed a full edition.

"But one edition is not enough."
She said, with a charming pout;
So again in the press the forms we placed;
And we got several extras out.

What's a good example of extravagance?
"Wear a clean shirt with a vest on."
JOSHDUB.

My teacher he mak'a da study hard.
Dat's why I get a da P's on my card.
He give a da test dat mak'a you faint,
Dat almost mak'a you swear a da saint.
He no got a da heart, he no got a da head,
He no care if he mak'a you dead.
But I lik'a my teacher,
He kind a lik'a me too,
I no got a da heart to fuss,
So w'at I gonna do.

"Oh Mr. Nix, you ought to have been Mr. Bott when he called upon Jean the other day," remarked Eleanor. "I tell you he looked fine sitting there along side of her with his arm—"
"Eleanor!" gasped Jean, her face the color of a boiled lobster.
"Well so he did," persisted Eleanor. "He had his arm—"
"Eleanor!" said her mother sharply.
"Why," whined Eleanor, "I was—"
"Eleanor," said her father, "leave the room."
And poor little Eleanor left, crying as she went: "I was going to say that he had his army clothes on."

Junior: "The Japanese language has seven synonyms for I."
Sophomore: "Some of our seniors have long felt that our own language is sadly deficient in that respect."

Helen Shipsey: "Do you know Lincoln’s Gettysburg address?"
Archie Plaskett: "Why, I thought he lived at the White House."

He called her "Lily", "Violet", "Rose," And every other sweet flower of spring. She said, "I can’t be all of those, So you must li-lac everything."

The quarter miler neared the tape, And then as if by chance, A button on his track suit broke And made him lose his—race.

The ladies of the Catholic Church have extended a cordial invitation to all members of the visiting teams to attend the St. Patrick’s Bazaar to be held this evening in the old Pavilion Building. Tickets will be distributed this afternoon to out of town guests.

SANTA MARIA TEAM.

We are pleased to have Capt. "Coon" Davis introduce us to his team. They are: "Peave" Peavy, "Bull" Stier, "Sam" Collins, "Irish" Donovan, "Snake" Toy, "Righet" Righetti, "Slim" Zanetti, "Cocky" Cox, "Dud" Brady, and "Slim" Paulson.

AFTER THE JUNIOR-SENIOR PLAY.

Helene: "The public will miss you now that you have left the stage."
Scotty: "That’s why I left: I dislike being hit."

AFTER THE DEBATE.

Ellen: "How was your speech received last night?"
Rollo: "Well, when I sat down they said it was the best thing I ever did."

Hartman: "I’ve got two dates for a nickel dance."
Hodges: "I made two dates and it will cost me forty-five cents."
Fingerhut (interrupting): "That’s nothing, you get nine dates for forty-five cents at some stores."

John Brown: "How many of those five problems did you get?"
John Leonard (Track Announcer): "All but the first two and the last three."

June: "Why to words have roots, anyway?"
Helen Palmer: "So the language can grow, I guess."

Mr. Brooks (in Spanish): "What does ‘eso es’ mean?"
Eva Russel: "Save our ship."
