A Time it was — Oh what a Time it was, A Free Time for Living, Learning, Caring. Whether trying to Ride a Bucking Horse, a Surfboard, or a Skateboard — or Ace-ing those Exams — Endurance and Determination Existed within Us. From all over We came to Cal Poly and mixed together.
...and when We mixed Together, We made Friends along the Way. We Partied, Studied, and Searched for Meaning in things. We were Independent — and Strived both Physically and Mentally to Become what We are Today.
A Word from the President...

Over the years that I have been associated with Cal Poly (including times when I was advisor to the yearbook) this publication has taken many forms. A few years ago production of a student yearbook was virtually abandoned as it has been at some other campuses. There was a feeling then that as an institution the yearbook might be somewhat out of step with the interests of graduating students. During the next few years, because some students felt the need for a similar publication, the office of the Dean of Students produced an annual publication called Pegusus. Last year the Associated Students revived El Rodeo as a campus yearbook, and this year it has been continued as a publication of the Journalism Department. I am particularly pleased to hear of the enthusiasm with which this year's editorial staff have approached their responsibilities. The yearbook is an effective learning vehicle for students, especially those in journalism, because it challenges development of their talents in graphics, writing, photography, and many other areas.

It is good to know that the yearbook has come full circle and that this traditional publication will again be available to those students who value it as a remembrance of the times when they were active on this campus.

A yearbook is more than just a memory book that will open the past for seniors; it not only tells us where we have been, but as we look at a copy in later years, it lends the perspective to show us where we are.

My congratulations to the editor and staff of the new El Rodeo on renewing an important tradition.

Robert E. Kennedy, President
Many thanks to Dean Everett Chandler...
We dedicate our book to you.

Dr. Everett M. Chandler, who became Dean of Students at Cal Poly in 1951, retired in December after 27 years of service.

Dean Chandler, who will always be admired by the administration and students, for he's very outgoing and involved with many campus activities. His enthusiasm motivated him in the effort to renovate Mustang Stadium. In addition to heading a committee, he jogged 22 laps and was personally responsible for raising $3900 during the Jog-a-thon held to raise funds for the project.

Dean Chandler led the development of student affairs programs at Cal Poly to win national recognition. The functions of the program include the admissions program, counseling and testing, student activities, health services, housing, placement, career planning, the educational opportunity program, financial aid, and more.

A graduate of University of California and Michigan State University, Dr. Chandler is married and lives in San Luis Obispo.
School work at Cal Poly isn’t always done within the confines of the traditional classroom. Students learn through a combination of theoretical and practical knowledge and are able to apply it to their chosen fields. The agriculture students work with crops and animals firsthand. Engineering majors are able to work in shops and the outdoors on their various projects. In every major, students learn the practical side of their fields.
... Students Show How It Is Done
Now That’s Entertainment!
Between ASI Concert and Special Events Committees, there is a wide variety of entertainment on Cal Poly's campus.

Rock concerts included Tower of Power, Stephen Stills, Dave Mason, and Montrose. If you like more folk or country in your rock, there was Loggins and Messina, Sea Level, and Marshall Tucker Band. Jazz fans were treated with an evening of Chuck Mangione, and, for those who liked to be thoroughly entertained, in a different sort of way, the Tubes fit the billing. Guest speakers included actress and political activist Jane Fonda, and semi-Evangelist Dale Evans. To bring out our childhood fantasies, the Puppeteers of America entertained us one night and we watched “Creature From the Black Lagoon” with 3-D glasses another.

For those who like art and original pieces of work, “The Gallery”, in the union, exibits projects from students.
From the Tubes to the Puppeteers of America...
... it's a Wild Variety of Excitement!
The whole town of San Luis Obispo comes alive when its Homecoming or Poly Royal weekend.

During the Homecoming festivities, this year the queen, Karen Steele and her host Henry Dimalanta rode in the annual parade on Saturday morning and watched Cal Poly's rodeo at Collet Arena for some wild excitement.

Poly Royal, held in April, is a four day festival in which all schools, clubs, and organizations participate. Educational displays, exhibitions, shows, and a carnival are some activities taking place. Tractor pulls, fun booths, and a two day rodeo entertain not only students and local citizens, but attract visitors from far away.
Homecoming and Poly Royal are hot times in the town day and night...
The Thrill of Victory . . .
Cal Poly prides itself on a strong athletic department which has grown steadily in the past four years. The department consists of a variety of classes offered to all majors which range from golf to fencing.

In 1973 the Women's and Men's Physical Education Departments were two very separate facilities. The athletic budgets were considered separately and the two departments were controlled by two different department heads. Then in 1977 the two joined and became one strong Physical Education Department. Many students are involved in a variety of active intercollegiate sports which have won high recognition.
The Agony of Defeat
It is clearly recognized that one of the basic and fundamental characteristics of our society has been the ability of the people of this country to cooperate with one another in the development of our society. Our country has developed through the years due to the ability and willingness of its people to work together for the common good. Where could we find a better laboratory of teaching this than through a program of interscholastic athletics?
Student Activities at Cal Poly are varied. The Outings Committee provides hiking trips, canoeing, spelunking, camping and ski trips for those who enjoy the great outdoors. For those who wish to worship with others of their own faith, there are clubs such as Concerned Christians — shown here at a potluck in Cuesta Park. Cal Poly’s Band and Glee Club draws students from all disciplines. Both groups have concerts for the student body and public, besides their social activities. The Jog-A-Thon held in Fall 1977 raised money for the rebuilding of a portion of Mustang Stadium. Due to rising costs above and beyond the original estimates, the project was cancelled. Fraternities and Sororities are present on campus also. The first Sorority started in 1973. Pictured here are members of the Alpha Phi Sorority.
... goin' for it!
Passing the Days Away . . .
Farm City Week is an annual event at Cal Poly. Shown here is the display put on by Alpha Zeta, the honorary chapter for Agriculture students. The Farm City Week shown was held at Madonna Inn in San Luis Obispo. Look who are at the games! What would our sports teams do without the spirit leaders? (Shown here at the Homecoming Game.) For the past few years the Dairy Club has sponsored a Milk Carton Boat Race. The object? Build a boat out of milk cartons that will stay afloat and beat everyone else to the finish line. All clubs and individuals are invited to participate. If it’s a little pleasant relaxation you want, have a game of ping pong in the Dorms. Week of Welcome is a time for new students to get acquainted with Poly and San Luis Obispo. Included in the festivities are a tour of San Luis Obispo pointing out stores, restaurants, and other places of interest.
Showing our Stuff
Cal Poly has such a wide variety of student activity. For example, the Rose Float Committee wins prizes annually with their entries in the Rose Bowl Parade. Cal Poly SLO and Cal Poly Pomona work on the float together. In 1978, Poly's float was entitled "Grin And Bear It"; in 1977, "Tons Of Fun"; and in 1976, "High Hopes". If your interest is motorcycles, the Poly Penguins have room for you. If your mind is business-like, try the Society For the Advancement of Management (S.A.M.) Their activities include business seminars as well as social events. The Outings Committee is tailor-made for your outdoor adventures. In Fall 1977, they held an outdoor equipment show in conjunction with San Luis Obispo's sporting goods stores. If it's animals you're into, Poly has livestock to raise and show at Poly Royal. No matter who you are or where you're from, Poly has something for you.

That Was the Way It Was ...
A lot has happened during the past four years. Not only the run-of-the-mill events like registration and graduation, but the San Luis Obispo area itself has added its own brand of experiences. There is much to remember. Days at the beach. Moving in. Avoiding kamikaze skateboard riders. Getting scared by the movie "Jaws"; trying on Beachcomber Bills for the first time... The list is endless, of course. But perhaps looking at these pages will help you to remember what it was like to be a student at Cal Poly.
