CHRISTMAS JINX
OF THE CALIFORNIA
POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL

Everyone is to start off the holiday season with a bang at the Christmas jinx at the Dining Hall on Friday. Plans are on foot for an old-fashioned "grab-bag" Christmas. Everyone will be here and everyone will be remembered. Refreshments will be served at the noon hour.

The following committee is working out the plans:

General Chairman—S. A. Anderson.
Propram—Miss Lillian Bell, sub-chairman;
Miss Pudlley, chairman.

Refreshments—C. L. Slocum, sub-chairman; Miss Hoover, Miss Haydock,
"Chef" Walters.

Decoration—Miss Woods, sub-chairman; Mr. Vernon, Mrs. Halsey, Dr. and Mrs. Wilder, Dr. Eastman.

Gifts—Mr. Agosti, sub-chairman; Mr.
Fry, Mr. Petersen; Miss Chase, Miss Ship-
sey, Mrs. Hedin, Miss Hugskcer.

COMMERCIAL PLAY
IN ASSEMBLY

At our last regular Assembly held before the Christmas holidays, a program of an entirely different type herefore presented this year was given.

After the regular announcements, the Commercial Club had charge of the program and presented a sketch in two acts entitled "Digonese Looks For a Secretary." The theme of the play was the spirit of the present age.

The curtain rose on Jimmy, the office boy, portrayed by Albert Hankerson, in the office of the firm. He has entered and through a dialogue it is understood that he is looking for a new secretary. In turn the various applicants present themselves, only to be turned out. In the second act the mysterious secretary has been chosen, who turns out to be none other than Jimmy himself, who has meanwhile been attending night school.

The entire cast did credit to themselves and much praise should go to Mrs. Niedman, who had charge of the rehearsals.

Those in the cast in the order of their appearance were:

Jimmy ............... Albert Hankerson
The Boss ............. Lloyd Waterman
Miss Cordia .......... Wilma Hoguet
Miss Devine .......... Alta Mayhall
First Applicant .......... Ethel Van Wormer
Second Applicant .......... Fay Hoguet
Third Applicant .......... Crete Spaulding
Marie ................. Rae Mayhall

POLYTECHNIC Mourns
DEATH OF SENATOR
E. L. RIGDON

Senator E. L. Rigdon, who has been one of the staunchest supporters of our school, passed away at the Lane Hospital in San Francisco on Wednesday, November 15, at the age of fifty-four years.

He has done more for us in his lifetime than any other individual, securing many favors and privileges from the Legislature. In the days when our school was small and struggling, it was he who saw that it was given the funds to grow, and it is through his efforts that our institution is what it is today.

Not only has he been active for the good of the California Polytechnic School, but he was a strong and ardent supporter of the good roads movement. He has gained a statewide reputation along this line.

His body arrived from San Francisco last Friday afternoon and was removed to the Lane Hall by the cadets of Polytechnic High School by the cadets of Polytechnic High School.

The funeral services were held in the Lane Hall at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The body was then taken to Cambria and laid to rest.

Those acting as honorary pallbearers were: Judge E. A. Norton, Mayor L. F. Stinehein, President N. Hecadnri, and Messrs. William Sin-

For B. can be determined, it is to a dent supporter of the good roads movement. He has gained a state-

FORMER POLYTECHNIC
MARIED SUNDAY

Last Sunday morning at ten o'clock Laura Miller became the bride of Carl Gill. They were married at the home of the bride's parents on High street in this city. Following a short honeymoon in the southern part of the state they will spend Christmas with the bride's parents and then make their home in Porterville, where they will make their home in the future.

Mrs. Gill is a graduate of Poly, having graduated last June. While here she was quite active in the school life, both the social and practical. Last year she was editor of the Polygram, and for a time previous to that she was on the staff.

Mr. Gill also attended Poly the year before last and during the past year has been to visit us many times. While enrolled here he was the captain of the Dormitory battalion.

The bride wore a gown of blue taffeta during the ceremony and changed to a brown traveling costume. When they started south in Carl's car which was highly decorated, by the way! they were accompanied as far as Santa Maria by some of the individuals around the town.

It was noticed by some of these individuals that Laura is bound to make a good wife, as she has already started giving orders.

SENIORS PLOTTING—
STOP! LOOK! LISTEN

Watch the progress of the Seniors of '21. This year's class is ALIVE and is planning a LIVELY program for the evening of February 2. The plans for this are now in full swing, and those on the committee who are planning this fairly abound with mystery. But whatever it is it will be well worth your while to come.

As far as can be determined, it is to be highly festive such as has never been planned before and will undoubtedly make such a gala display that it can hardly be described.

Plan now to have an open night on February 2 or you'll surely miss some-thing you'll regret the rest of your days.

ADDITIONS MADE TO
SHOPS AND BARS

The auto shop is now equipped with a ten-and-a-half travelling crane. The complete job of installing was done by the students under the supervision of Mr. Strobel. The work was begun three weeks ago and was completed on Deember 15.

This big crane spans the auto shop from wall to wall and travels the full length of the garage. It is capable of raising three thousand pounds from any part of the shop and placing them where desired on the four thousand square feet of floor space. The maximum load to be carried by the crane is three tons and may easily be operated by one man.

Though the barns we also have some improvements. The new horse-barn is now finished and will soon be put in use. New bull pens are being built near the present ones. The floors of these are of concrete. There will also be rows over these in order to protect the cattle from the storms.

EXCHANGE

The list of exchanges to date for this year has not yet been printed, but a partial list is given below:

The “Guard and Tackle” of Stockton High School announces that the student body presented “Everywoman.” They tell all of their being a member of the debating league.

“The Uni of University High”—University High of Oakland is a member of the debating league. They presented a play entitled “A Masque of Christmas” in the assembly hall on December 15.

“The Explosion”—The girls of the Glendale Union High School take an active part in the sports of the school. A school tournament is to be held during the year and inter-school volleyball is to be played.

“The X-Ray”—Sacramento High is under the R. O. T. C. The boys are active part in the sport of the school.

“The Paragon”—A list of coming events is published in each edition of the paper from Reedley High. This would not be such a bad idea for us to try.

“The Trident”—The student body of the Santa Cruz High School have amended several articles in their constitution. Most of the articles dealt with student legislation.

“The Manuels”—Kans City High has just observed American Education Week. The paper states that six per cent of the population of the United States are absolutely unschooled.

“Red and Gold”—Ohio students held a Christmas bazaar and cleared over one hundred dollars.

“Manual Arts Weekly”—The Players Club of Manual Arts High, Los Angeles, have chosen “The Old Curiosity Shop” by Dickens, to present.

Students in the Electric Shop present are interesting themselves in the subject of polyphase currents and the repair of damaged transformers, house meters, and various other electrical appliances. Polyphase currents, however, are not the streams of water you see around “Poly” at the present time. Some of the Federal students are beginning to think that their lab use is to show how little they know about algebraic equations and how hard it is to get along with polyphasies if you don’t know both algebra and geometry.

When new electrical equipment (now being installed) was placed in the new horse barn was a thing of the future, so it was left out of the schedule. Mr. Wilder declared some have made, and as a result, some of the more advanced students are now building new sides for some old burned-out transformers, and soon the horse barn will have as good equipment as the rest of the establishment. There were a number of old house meters lying around with various ailments and these have most all been “put into condition” by Mr. Wilder’s students. In this way, practical experience is obtained here, as in all the other branches of instruction.

From MIZIO GROCERY

Christmas Greetings and our best wishes for your prosperity in the New Year

The White House
“Home of Quality”

SOME STORIES FOR A MERRY CHRISTMAS

In an article entitled “Some Dazzling Errors About Christmas,” G. K. Chesterton points out that we ought to celebrate Christmas every day in the year. For “spiritually, Christmas Day recurs exactly seven times a week,” he says. “When we frankly acknowledge and act upon it we shall begin to realize the day’s mystical and terrible beauty.” But who ever arranged the calendar thought a day of specialisation on the Christmas idea would do the world good and so it is. And in response to this special Christmas time some of the most beautiful pictures have been painted, some of the loveliest stories written, some of the kindest deeds done. A few of these stories may be gathered around the Christmas fireside to help renew again the spirit of the season.

Old Scrooge and Tiny Tim from Dickens’ “Christmas Carol” should be read. Old Scrooge didn’t believe in Christmas, but a friendly Ghost with clanging chains visited him the night before Christmas and presented him with a character sketch of himself. And Scrooge appeared at Tiny Tim’s Christmas dinner in time for plum pudding and a blessing of “God bless us every one.”

“Bird, of Bird’s Christmas Carol,” by W. E. S. Bird, and so did all the little Rugglesses that came to her party. To be sure they had to “wash for short instead of long sleeves” in order to wear little party clothes, but even this ordeal was worth the frollic that resulted.

Mrs. Wiggins’ “Romance of a Christmas Tree” is equally charming but less well known.

Zona Gale in Friendship Village stories tells of first mortal Christmas tree. You’ll enjoy this particularly this year as San Luis Obispo like many cities has taken up the idea and there is to be a municipal Christmas tree on the court-house lawn this year. Yes, with Christmas carols sung, too.

Hugo’s story of Little Cosette and the pretty doll that the escaped prisoner, Jean Val Jean, bought her may be found in “Les Miserables,” and Van Dyke’s beautiful tale about the “Other Whiteman” is to be found in the “Blue Flower,” Van Dyke’s book of short stories.

Christmas legends, many of them hundreds of years old, and such old favorites that they are still loved and listened to by thousands of children every year, may be found in “Good Stories for Great Holidays,” by Miss Olcott. Little brothers and sisters will enjoy them as they gather around the tree.

Christmas grows sweeter and dearer for the associations that grow with it. All the world has thanked these authors for the exquisite expressions of Christmas spirit to be found in these Christmas stories. Many families circle re-read together some of these old favorites every Christmas they. Perhaps Dickens’ “Christmas Carol” is the greatest favorite of all. Be with the old song, “Holy Night, Silent Night,” and the favorite poem, Moore’s “Twas the Night Before Christmas,” you will enjoy reading these stories.

And may your Christmas be big with scope and size, and give as it is received.

A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS.
E. R. PENDRY.

Polygram is your paper-trade with the people that advertise in it.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS,
R. P. HENDRY.
The GOODWILL of our patrons and friends is one of our most valuable assets. The spirit of the season brings to us renewed appreciation of old associates and of the value of new friends. May your Christmas be a happy one and success attend your New Year. This is the cordial wish of

RILEY-CROCKER CO.

GIFTS THAT LAST
MARSHALL’S JEWELRY STORE
“The House of Perfect Diamonds”
Established 1889

SOUTHWICK BARGAIN STORE
Men’s and Boys’ Clothing  Furnishing Goods  Hats and Shoes
est-aed Monterey

We wish you all Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

MOTTO TAXI
The California Polytechnic School will offer a course in the theory of radio-telegraphy and telephony that February promised there are enough qualified students who desire a course of this type. The student entering this class should have completed a one-year course in electrical work.

Dr. Wilder will have charge of the class and it will meet four periods a week. From fifteen to eighteen students can be accommodated in this training.

The equipment used will be one of the most complete sets on the market, a three-step amplifier with regenerative tuning bulbs. It is significant that Poly should offer this course as there is such a demand for trained radio men at this time. Many inexperienced manufacturers are building radio sets that are not a credit to the industry, and as if those men could secure trained workers to design and build better and more sets at a lower cost, the radio world would be enjoyed by more people.

The MERRY CHRISTMAS TIME
The merriest Christmas, with its generous boards.
its fire-lit hearths, gifts, and blazing trees.
its pleasant voices uttering gentle words.
its gentle mist, attended to sweetly its hold memories!

The fairest season of the passing year—
The merry, merry Christmas time is here. — Arnold.

THE POLYGRAM
3

Do your Christmas Shopping Here

Ever Sharp Pencils
Wahl and Waterman Fountain Pens
Kodak, Stationery
Hans’ Fresh Candy
Saylor’s Chocolates

MISSION DRUG CO.
IN MEMORIAM

The late Senator Elmer S. Rigdon will be gratefully remembered as a real friend of the California Polytechnic School.

On several occasions he hinted that he wanted to see the California Polytechnic School become what may be termed the "People's College." He believed wholeheartedly in the type of training the Polytechnic is giving. He himself emphatically exemplified the effectiveness of vocational training in his own life. He believed not only in technical training, but in character training as well. In fact, he thoroughly appreciated that the "real key to success is Character."

During the fifty-four years of his fruitful life he put his best efforts into his work. He endeavored constantly to win the confidence of those with whom he came in contact.

The highest compliment paid him by one who knew him intimately may be summed up in these words: "He was a common man with uncommon virtues."

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Down through all ages, from time immemorial, man's supreme struggle has been a struggle for happiness—contentment. This struggle has manifested itself in a myriad of ways; usually in a lust for wealth and power. It has been, directly or indirectly, to all human strife and suffering and, strangely enough, to all progress. It has given us all our great discoveries and inventions; all that's best in literature and art; all that we accept as law and order; all that we cherish as civilization. Today it governs man's actions absolutely. We do what we do because we want to be happy.

When a young man sows his wild oats, he is but pursuing that elusive thing—happiness. Authors, writers, teachers, preachers preach because each feels that, in his particular line of endeavor, he can best serve humanity and gain happiness. The pursuit of happiness leads us all, as we choose for life work, that work for which we are best fitted, doing which we feel will bring us contentment. "Millions upon millions of devout people, the world over, live what is their conception of a religious life to gain happiness in the hereafter. Up until the time of Christ and the formulation of the Christian doctrine man's religious creed was "an eye, for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth." All nations were barbarous or semi-barbarous and selfishness was their religion. With the coming of Christ and the Golden Rule a new era dawned. The doctrine of Christianity exhorted man to "cast thy bread upon the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit. It symbolizes the whole Christian faith—that happiness is won only through giving. Today we are told that we get out of life exactly what we put into it. Never was there a truer assertion. If we meet life with a grouch the grouch is returned. If we help some one to obtain joy from the waters; for thou shall find it after many days"; taught that, "it is far better to give than to receive." It is this spirit, the spirit of unselfishness, of giving, that we call the Christmas spirit.
OUR SEASON'S PAST

The season of '21 Poly's team was composed of about one-half men who had never even a football except in a sporting goods window. The rest were well experienced, having played with Poly for a couple of years previous. These men were held back because the new men and the result was a good team, to represent Poly in the High School Division. We played high schools and we won several games, but a few, and us as a whole, were very successful.

In a recent article written by Ted Jones, the famous Yule coach, he pointed out the three divisions of the most popular games in America. The first division is the amateur division, composed of grammar school boys who play on the school lot, next door. Elicking the ball back and forth, but they are having football.

The next division is the high school division, composed of these same boys when they reach high school. The average winning high school team is composed of players who have had three years experience at the regular game in a year's back lot. The first division is the high school division, composed of these same boys when they reach high school. The average winning high school team is composed of players who have had three years experience at the regular game in a year's back lot. The last division is the highest division in the third or fourth year of college. With nine years of football experience behind them, they do wonder and it's no wonder.

Compare our own players with these divisions and see where we belong. There are a few who would love the high school division; they are the oldest men on the team and we lose them this year. The rest would vote the high school or with grammar schools. Try to imagine Edie Fickle playing against Nicholas Bivanetz, Jr., yet from the standpoint of experience, that is where he belongs.

Yet the season of '21 found us playing against the members of the last division, who are our seniors by eight years in experience and almost in every instance many pounds heavier and some inches taller. We battled with these teams and in almost all the defiance the score was 20-0 in our opponent's favor; yet they should have beaten us fifty or seventy to nothing in a ratio of experience.

Wasn't there? Simply because we were up against and played harder and fought harder than their opponents.

Defeat was our best gain. We played against Stanford second varsity, in which for three long quarters we held them scoreless and did a big share of the playing in their territory. It was in this game that Troup, Potter, Lumley, and Amin starred in the defense and also in the offense. The whole team played well and played together.

In the last quarter Stanford ran in nine fresh players, Poly didn't do the same, because they didn't have any other time players. Another disadvantage.

Poly played Loyola with a half a team and then in the first quarter Fickle was taken out with a sprained ankle, leaving no one to kick. It was the first football game for many of the players and the last for John Coert, as he was injured and could play no more this season.

We played Fresno, which was win-ner of the conference and the heaviest team in the conference, and held them to a small margin. Poly should rec-eeve credit for their playing as it was by far the hardest fought game of the season. Many penalties and some queer refereing played a big part in breaking the spirit of the hard-fighting Polyites.

Our game at home was our first game and against the weakest team in the conference. We defeated Santa Barbara 13-7 in a hard-fought game. It was the first appearance of our routing section and they proved it's no wonder.

Take into consideration all the dis-advantages we played against and add them up and if you are not proud of what your team did, you are no Polyite. The team has felt they would like to have played Loyola on our home grounds instead of the weakest team to show you what they were up against.

Yet, we have had experience and the season of '21 will find us all in the professional class in experience and in the professional class in fight; if we don't win, we'll make you proud anyhow.

CAPTAIN POTTER

HARRY ROWAN

Holiday Greetings

To All

RENETZKY'S

Shoe Store

Everything in Hardware Line

A Merry Christmas!

C. H. REED CO.

DORM DOINGS

Several of the boys attended the Sucks' dance Thursday evening. All of us are planning on our trip home for Christmas vacation. Most of the gang have started to pack up their personal and non-personal belongings.

Ellsworth Held has gone to Los Angeles to spend his Christmas vacation. Coach Hogue is going to stay at the Dorm—just part of the time. We hope he does not have the opportunity to engage a preacher while we are gone. Imagine what we would miss!

The radio artists are busy now. The outfit in Gammon's room heard Denver, Colo., the other evening. We hope to hear Mars or some long de-pa-kled spirit soon.

Two more join our happy crowd: Lewis from Idaho and Letters from Milton.

Wilson gave a party the other night. He had three apples for ten of us, but we got even with him by breaking three of his combs in parting his hair.

Pet Songs Among Pet Polyites

Alta Mayhah: "Oh, Bring Back My Marty To Me."

George Troop: "Ha! Those Wild, Wild Women."

Helen Rutherford: "Oh, Brother! What a Feeling!"

Forrest Coyner: "Oh, They're Wild, Simply Wild About Me."

Muriel Sellers: "I Might Be Your Once-in-a-While."

Ethel Van Wormer: "I'm All Alone."

Neil Perry: "Sleepy Head."

Marge Bittman: "Love Me."

Marty: "Almost."

Gerritze Trowdale: "Nobody Lied When They Said I Cried About You."

Hank: "Teach Me."

Kenyon Riley: "Tame Me."

Trade with Polygram advertisers!
STOCKINGS
While Santa Claus is rated his picture on the altar. Yes, and he may be as stated.
No artist in his line, and with no talent at amusing himself, he can't find out of the shelf; fill up a woman's stocking—like she can do herself.

ADVICE
When a man kisses you, struggle fiercely at first and then appear to be overcome by his superior strength. Close your eyes and hold yourself rigid, relaxing a little if the kiss endures.

Take your breath in little gasps. Let a variety of expressions adorn your face—anger, sorrow, despair, joy—it is important that all these be registered.

Struggle occasionally as if to free yourself. Scratch and bite if opportunity presents itself, but don't dig too deep.

As he is about to cease you faint if possible. If you will observe these instructions carefully he will most probably kiss you again.

—Ex.

Paul Jackson (tiring with dignity, his figure—Well, I am not exactly prepared for a speech.

Mrs. Theisen—Do let Mrs. Paul, the rest of us are.

Mrs. Stedman—Claude, please report to me after roll call.

Claude—Why me?

Mrs. Stedman—Do you want me to bail you out now?

Gertrude T.—Mr. Peter, has Miss Chase seen you yet?

Perry—Yes; she has looked at him several times since school started, First Special Student—You ought to go to Heaven.

Second B. E. —Why?

First R. B. —Because you are no good on earth.

21.—What are your ideas about the new Instructors' Union?

22.—Absolutely grant them shorter hours at once.

Alta—What's wrong with this car?

It squeaks awfully.

Krause—Only natural; they use pig iron in the axles.

Khal—My friend's birthday is next Saturday, and I want to give him a surprise.

K. Riley—Why not tell him your right age?

Pat Hodges—There it! I lost my notebook.

R. Hogue—Lost all you knew, huh?

Pat—No, lost all my teachers know.

Doc—If Germany doesn't pay, they should march in and crush her as Bismarck did in 1870.

Mrs. Theisen—But two wrongs don't make a right.

Doc—Oh, yes; two minus signs make a plus in algebra.

Mrs. Theisen—Not when you add them.

WHAT THE POLY GIRLS WANT FOR CHRISTMAS
My Dear Santa Claus:

We have been good girls nearly all year, except on weekends. We have taken good care of our dollars and have not cried very much when our mammas wash our saris and get soap in our eyes, so will you please send us the coming things that we want most of all. Thank you.

Ethel: Send me a little book on "How to be a Nice Lady," by S. A. Anderson, and a toy snake.

Helen: Oh, Santy, old dear, please send down some to my house a once a little buckskin hobby horse, a sugar whip, and I would like a little Shoppee and how sweet is love; I wouldn't ask for so much only that I am so lonesome since "Everybody" want to takeher for the whole two months.

Margaret D.: Please, dearest Santy, send a brown-haired baby that has been good to some people nearly all year, a little park bench to sit on at noon hours.

Muriel: I want most of all a little car that will run and some all-day suckers.

Alta: Send at once a book "On How To Win and Hold a Buy," by E. Van Wormer, and you can also throw in a hard sugar club for good measure, as I might need it some day.

Bill K.: I want a carton of cigarettes and a box of powder as I am all out.

Bell T.: Anything will do, but I would like a calendar, having less school days and more Friday nights.

Dorothy H.: I have been a very, very good girl for a long time and must desire a pair of wings and a box of rouge.

Rules for Pedestrians.

1. Cross pedestrians in a straight line, not an angle. Then they use pig iron in the axles.

2. When crossing the right or left, they shall give three short blasts on a horn at least three inches in diameter.

3. When an inexperienced automobile driver is made nervous by a pedestrian, he shall indicate the same, and the pedestrian shall hide behind a tree until the automobile has passed.

4. Pedestrians shall not carry in their pockets any sharp instrument which may cut automobiles tires.

5. In crossing automobiles, pedestrians shall not run more than seven miles an hour.

6. Pedestrians must register at the beginning of each year and pay a license fee of $5 for the privilege of life on earth. There shall be no rebate if they do not live the entire year.

7. Each pedestrian before receiving his license to walk upon the streets must demonstrate before an examining board his skill in dodging, leaping, crawling and extricating himself from machinery.

8. Pedestrians shall be held responsible for all damage to automobiles or their occupants by collision.

Margaret W.: Please send me a book on "How to Be Bad," and a little pocket flask full of something.

Dorothy M.: The only thing that I ask is that you make the most hours over, and then I want a little red kiddie car so that we can go skating to Murray all by ourselves.

Elaine: I am a man-hater so please send me a little boy doll that looks like Doc Jackson and I will be contented.

Ray R.: I truly confess, dear Santy, that I have been quite naughty all year, but won't you please send this blue-eyed baby a little green and gold romper suit and I won't get them dirty before putting them on.

Dorothy L.: I have been a real good girl for a long, long time, except that I have been so sassy, wouldn't mind my mammas or teachers and have got a whipping every day before breakfast for a year, so please reward me by sending me a little tricycle (for a three-year-old) and some pink and blue half-sacks.

Sadie B.: I want a little red-bathing suit and a pair of roller skates.

Gertrude: I must desire a little nurse doll to dress in maternity periods.

Creda: Send me a rush order of sour pickles and a little buckskin hobby horse.

Anna C.: A wooden leg and some dancing clothes, please.

Dorothy P.: I always want a seat in Study Hall next to Pfeiffer and a little car for two.

Alma L.: I have been such a little rascal all year that I want most of all a pair of horns and a bottle of perfume.

Winfred: Some blond ear rats so they will come up my hair and a string of candy beads.

Wildred: I want a little hope chest and a doll for my birthday.

Bernice: A box of hair pins and a pair of big boots.

Reese: A hula-hula outfit and a string of glass beads.

Josephine: A bow (not for the hair) and a can of condensed vacuum.

Mary: A teddy bear and some freckle cream.

Ynez: A cupid and a long-tailed toy monkey.

Jeanette: A few more school holidays and a little bird that can sing "William Tell." Your loving little children.

THE POLY GIRLS

THE BEE HIVE

Wishes You a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

PAUL SADA

Do Your Christmas Shopping at TALNEY'S

J. L. ANDERSON CLOTHING STORE

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

San Luis Jewelry Co.

Greetings of the Year to Our Patrons

LA FRANCE

Remember that XMAS DANCE at Kaiser's Dance Palace

Season's Greetings Extended To All

Mission Rubber Co.

Wishing You a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

MISSION SHOE STORE

272 Higuera Street

AND

EL MONTEREY THEATERS

Wish You

For Christmas

A Happy New Year.
Christmas and Christine

Dear Mammy:

Isn't it just grand! I'm so excited and so thankful. Yesterday I helped Connie make plans for Christmas. We'll have a nice party. The house was already festively decorated, and with a face almost as long as Dad wears in California Polytechnic School. We would close on the following Tuesday to celebrate the birthday of our Lord, and one thousand nine hundred forty-five. Everyone was so surprised. Just think of it, THREE WHOLE five. Everyone was so surprised.

Just think of it, THREE WHOLE five. Everyone was so surprised.

They agreed that he just — Heaven and left you behind because arose and with that the California

as Dad wears in

Just think of it, THREE WHOLE five. Everyone was so surprised.

they worked on our account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.

The task of buying the chicken was

Many times as they were purchasing

were taken for young newly-

on account of their incense.
Some Letters to Santa Claus

Dorm Boys' Letter
Poly Dorm, Dec. 18, 1922.

Dear Santa Claus:

I am sure you would like a few suggestions as to what the boys in the Dorm want for Christmas. I know it is very hard for you to think of everything, but if you will check with everyone, I will tell you what each wants.

Pfeifer, a cigar that won't make him sick.

Hass, a fashion catalog.

Harris, a pair of B.V.D.'s.

Coppler, another case of shoe polish.

Hedges, a bottle of Tanae.

Mellan, a box of spaghetti.

Rock, a new hat.

Puttar, something to make his knees

flow.

Martinsson, a ticket to "The Sheik." I am sure you would like a few suggestions as to what the boys in the dorm want for Christmas. I know it is very hard for you to think of everything, but if you will check with everyone, I will tell you what each wants.

Pfeifer, a cigar that won't make him
sick.

Hass, a fashion catalog.

Harris, a pair of B.V.D.'s.

Coppler, another case of shoe polish.

Hedges, a bottle of Tanae.

Mellan, a box of spaghetti.

Rock, a new hat.

Puttar, something to make his knees
flow.

Martinsson, a ticket to "The Sheik." I am sure you would like a few suggestions as to what the boys in the dorm want for Christmas. I know it is ever very hard for you to think of
everything, but if you will check with
everyone, I will tell you what each wants.

Pfeifer, a cigar that won't make him
sick.

Hass, a fashion catalog.

Harris, a pair of B.V.D.'s.

Coppler, another case of shoe polish.

Hedges, a bottle of Tanae.

Mellan, a box of spaghetti.

Rock, a new hat.

Puttar, something to make his knees
flow.

Martinsson, a ticket to "The Sheik." I am sure you would like a few suggestions as to what the boys in the dorm want for Christmas. I know it is ever very hard for you to think of
everything, but if you will check with
everyone, I will tell you what each wants.

Pfeifer, a cigar that won't make him
sick.

Hass, a fashion catalog.

Harris, a pair of B.V.D.'s.

Coppler, another case of shoe polish.

Hedges, a bottle of Tanae.

Mellan, a box of spaghetti.

Rock, a new hat.

Puttar, something to make his knees
flow.

Martinsson, a ticket to "The Sheik." I am sure you would like a few suggestions as to what the boys in the dorm want for Christmas. I know it is ever very hard for you to think of
everything, but if you will check with
everyone, I will tell you what each wants.

Pfeifer, a cigar that won't make him
sick.

Hass, a fashion catalog.

Harris, a pair of B.V.D.'s.

Coppler, another case of shoe polish.

Hedges, a bottle of Tanae.

Mellan, a box of spaghetti.

Rock, a new hat.

Puttar, something to make his knees
flow.

Martinsson, a ticket to "The Sheik." I am sure you would like a few suggestions as to what the boys in the dorm want for Christmas. I know it is ever very hard for you to think of
everything, but if you will check with
everyone, I will tell you what each wants.

Pfeifer, a cigar that won't make him
sick.

Hass, a fashion catalog.

Harris, a pair of B.V.D.'s.

Coppler, another case of shoe polish.