San Jose Teachers
Poly's Victims, 14-0

Poly's football squad proved their mettle last Saturday when they beat eighteen-year-old Leidt's College 14-0.

Captain Petticord played his regular old hard fighters, leading the team to their victory. He went through the season with the same time and good yardage at other positions.

Leslye is another hard hitter. Because the game was over they went through with that kind of game now.

These two men carried the bull most of the time for Poly. They easily proved themselves the stars of the team on that day.

Mary, who has been playing tennis and is in the tennis tournament, is another hard hitter. She proved it last Saturday.

John, who has been playing football since the beginning of the season, is another hard hitter. He proved it last Saturday.

Why Poly Students Should Trade With Merchants Who Advertise in the Polygram

When a football team supports school traditions, it naturally expects return support from the school. When the United States Army supports the honor of this country in battle it naturally expects return support from the people of this country. When a horse supports a man’s needs by working all day, he naturally expects support in the form of good care in return. So when the merchants of San Luis Obispo support the “Polygram” through advertisements, they naturally expect trade support in return.

The football team receives its “student” support. The Army receives its “patriotism” support. The horse receives his “care” support. Therefore it is only according to the set order of things that the merchants of San Luis Obispo should receive their “support” in return.

CHANGES MADE IN POLYGRAM STAFF

You will notice in this issue that new members have been added to the staff or have taken the place of some other. The students released from the staff are credited for their good work, but other duties are taking up their time.

The new athletic editor is Leslie Oldham, taking the place of Walter Lumley. The former has taken keen interest in school activities and feels confident that he can hold down his responsible position.

Allan Mars who has been a very faithful business manager, resigned his position because of too many other duties to handle. George Crowell has taken over the responsibility and will carry on the work which Bert started. His assistant has not been chosen.

A new feature writer has been added to the staff—none other than Ernest Pashett. His duties are to write up all athletic trips, etc., and we are confident that his column will be of interest to everybody.

RALLY OCTOBER 25

The rally of October 25 to give the team a send-off for their San Jose Teachers College game was held on the lawn in front of the Administration Building, disregarding the keep-off-the-grass signs.

Burt Harris has charged and fifteen rousing cheers were given for the team.

Various members of the team gave their versions of playing their respective positions on the team and were greeted with much enthusiasm.

The coach said he thought the Poly team would put it over on the San Jose bunch.

THE GO-GETTERS

Everything comes to him who waits. But here is something slicker:

The man who goes after what he wants.

Gets it a darn sight quicker.

"Why, this room reminds me of a prison."

"Well, sir, it's all a matter of what one is used to."

HIS MATCH

Don (just ready to propose): "Can you wash dishes?"

"Oh, yes," said Margaret, "can you wipe them?"

"Were you ever pinched for going too fast?"

"No; but I've been slapped."

Fulwider: "You said you didn't like bush league teams."

"That's all right," said Mr. <

"Miss Mayhall," said Mr. Davis, "you are a very handsome young woman."

"Oh!" said Miss Mayhall, blushing.

"Yes, I experimented on hydrochloric acid."

"What are you going to pay for the formation of alcohol?"

"No! All he does is sit at the end of a sofa and talk."

IN ELECTRIC SHOP

Senior: "Hey, young fellow, don't stand on that bare wire; you're liable to get a shock."

"Oh, that's all right, I wear rubber heels that absorb the shocks."

IN SHOE SHOP

Hubert: "Oh, next to nothing, next to nothing."

Mr. O'Donnel (in U. S. History): "The House of Quality."

Mr. Cunningham: "Late again, Wimmer."

Wimmer: "You said you didn't like students who watched the clock."

Dorothy H. was visiting her aunt in the country. It was the joy of her life to hunt eggs in the barn. One day she brought in a very small one, presumably laid by a bantam.

"Acoustics," said Dorothy showing it. "She has that laid this egg didn't have the right recipe."
Although it was warm and balmy when we pulled out of San Luis last Friday morning on our way to Stanford, the climate suddenly changed after we had topped Cuesta Grade and slid down into the canyon on the north. McKinney had forgotten to shave and it wasn't very long before leicets began to form on his whiskers.

Young, who took a gang north in Mr. Peteler's car, wore three pair of heavy socks on his right foot. This added enough weight to his foot that he found no trouble in holding down the gas. He made Eveston put on his helmet to hold down his ears. He said that he was still afraid they made his nervous. They also held back the car to a certain extent, he said.

During the whole trip Young endeavored constantly to get up enough speed to make the Chevy take-off on his fenders. He claims to have succeeded, but we doubt it. The best that we saw him do was when he passed us at King City. He had it wide open than but was still grasing the road at the high spots. Although we don't want to hurt anybody's feelings, we feel it our duty to tell Mr. Peteler that we have grave doubts about his ever being able to make the thing fly. The fenders are too weak.

We couldn't understand why Mr. Cunningham was in such a rush to get to Salinas by noon, but we soon found out. He said that he liked to look at the high school architecture under the mid-day sun. Mr. Cunningham has a wonderful eye for art.

Dick also has an eye for art. We arrived at the school just as the students and teachers were coming out for lunch and we nearly lost him. Gee! There were girls to the right of the line-up against the Stanford Freshmen squad. During the first quarter six new men were put in. During the second quarter nine new men were put in. During the last half of the game they wore a trail from the sideline to the center of the field. When the game was over every man on their squad had seen a part of the game. It seemed as if when one man got up a sweat they put some one in his place.

During the second quarter Paly gave them a scare that made the routers yell "Hold that line." Paly received a punt and ran the ball back to the 50-yard line. By good hard line backs Paly ran the ball down to Stan­ford's 15-yard line in a very short order. Stanford then began to work together again and Paly lost the ball on Stan­ford's 10-yard line.

The new man who went in during the third quarter for Paly were Chas. Chascha, Harkis, McMahon, Weston and Flugger. They were all of them in only a short time but they put up a good scrap while they were there.

In the last quarter Lumley sprained his ankle and had to be taken out. He was replaced by Reed. Reed finished out the game and he played exceptionally good football. He intercepted a pass just before the whistle blew and it looked for a minute as if he would get away for a touchdown.

Now let's just say a few words for Stanford's hospitality. They made all of the boys feel welcome and at home. They also extended their wel­come to us in the future and surely we all appreciate it.

While at Stanford the boys had the opportunity of seeing the Stan­ford varsity play the Olympic Club. This game ended in a score of 40 to 7 in favor of Stanford.

From Exchanges

The students in dramatics at Fresno High have organized a Dram­atics Club, according to the "High Times," the school paper. The pur­pose of the club is to produce plays for the school children of Fresno in the high school auditorium Saturday afternoon.

According to the "Manuscript," school paper of Manual High School, a conference for high school newswapers will be held at the University of Kansas on No­vember 16 and 17. These conferences have been conducted by the journal­ism school for the last five years.

Sacramento High held a tag day which proved very successful. It showed that the school was not lack­ing in spirit and some registrations sold out at 100 per cent. The total sum taken in was $172.60.

Students of the French Club of San Mateo Junior College have de­cided to prepare "A Successful Ca­meron," a comedy in two acts—and guaranteed to be full of action.

"That was a tip-top dinner, waiter. You know what that means."

"Yes, sir. It's one that you top off with a tip."

Miss Chase (in history): "What can you tell about the Caucasian and Ethi­opian races?"

Charles B: "I didn't go. I went to the automobile races instead."
