DORM CLUB PUTS ON A RED HOT SKETCH

The assembly of November 27 was in charge of the Dorm Club with President Rich as master of ceremonies.

Postponement of football pictures, Black P meeting and a holiday Wednes­day, were announced.

Next came a play presented by the Dorm Club, and even though they had but short time for practice, it was put over very successfully. The actors wore their part with great success and a large group of students, wisely the play was directed by Leslie Oldham and showed much thought. All agreed to act again and with a little more time for practice, it was sure to be a hit.

A CREED

To do my best, and let that stand
To be. no matter where, a man:
And cling to faith und honor still:
And then, shall failure come to me
I'll strive, but I'll not change my creed
I'll never distrust the future, because
I believe, is all I need
I'm going to struggle, free and fearless.

TALK OF ORGANIZING A DRAMATICS CLUB

Mr. Duddleston stated that success in the school was far from assured. He pointed out that the history of the country was full of struggle and set-backs. He said that while we need the liberal arts, we also need the sciences. He ended his talk by saying that "Let your ambition be your guide."
What do you call your friends? The agriculture class.

The agricultural class was very much enjoyed by the student body. The students of the dramatic class successfully presented one performance, three one-act plays, giving a variety of melodrama, tragedy, and light comedy. The plays were "Blind Molty," "The Lover's Prayer," and "Goodnight." The casts were highly praised.

A FRIENDSHIP PARTY
A little party was given by Dorothy Perino to her friends to start the holidays. Games were played and refreshments served. It was convened at an early hour in the evening.
ON GETTING OUT A PAPER
Cut out this paper in sections.
If we print jokes, folks say we are silly.
If we don't they say we are tone
If we publish original matter they say lack of sense.
If we publish things from other papers we are too lazy to write.
If we stay on the job we ought to get ruthless news.
If we are ruthless news we are not bound to business in our own department.
If we don't print contributions we don't show proper appreciation.
If you do print them the paper is filled with junk.
Like as not some fellow will say we swiped this from an exchange.

Ratch you kiss my daughter? And consider me the light of your life?

* (Grimacing with Attilio): "You talk like an idiot."

* (Mingling with Attilio): "You have my snowshoes."

If we clean up on you.

If we don't print original matter we may be posterity.

If we print it I'll rile up.

If we don't publish things from other papers we shall be regarded as spendthrifts.

If we do our work will be done with the same care as if you had done it yourself.

Hammoudi (in auto shop): "Well, I guess I'll clean up.

Hodge: "You had better beat it before I clean up on you.

Miss Jordan: "Will somebody give me a lift?"

Summer House: "Yes, we have no bananas.

1st Cup: "What's wrong with Miss Pitler?"

2nd Cup: "Her mother dropped her."

Muriel: "She was a baby and she's been called an idiot.

Alexander: "Is ghost a noun?"

Miss Chase (in English): "Your lesson today is on nouns. Nouns are names of things.

Evelith: "Will you give me a kiss?"

KEEPT YOUR OFFSET MILL IN BUSINESS

Mr. Petler: "What ocean borders California on the west?"

Mr. Davis: "Hello, old top, new car?"

Mr. Petler: "No, old car, new top."

Mrs. Miller: "Where would you advise me to send my daughter to study music?"

Neighbor: "Oh, anywhere out of earshot.

There is one thing a woman can do that is not withstanding."

"You may be right.

"Every bad thing in the world that has some sense to them."

"This song about bananas makes me sick," said the Foolish Old Gentleman.

"This is the third time you mentioned my name.

"This is not surprising."

"If we do that again I'll hit you on the spot.

"Yes, sir, Miss Jordan doesn't like to talk.

"This is a good place and people are friendly.

Miss Jordan: "Form a sentence including the word 'now' and standing."

Father: "See here! how late it is!"

Mother: "Certainly not, dear."

Daughter: "Mama, do dogs get married?

Mother: "Certainly not, dear.

Daughter: "Then what right has Prince to growl at Pansy when they're eating breakfast?

She can get married.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR BASKETBALL

Pudy's basketball outlook for the coming year is bright.

Lumley, Bundy, H. Patchett and E. Patchett, from last year's team, are still with us and we have high hopes of getting them. Ansell back into our midst. He blew into town last Sunday and is working at present, but we have great confidence in the lure and pulling power of good old Poly spirit to get him back into harness again.

Doug was captain of the basketball team last year and is a stellar player to get him back into harness again.

new men, as this will be his first year so we may consider him among the in all departments of the game.

You have noticed that Herb McKee is getting pretty friendly with a certain Junior girl.

A year ago there was still quite certain of being able to find a floor to play on, as it is certain that we have to do between 6:30 and 7 o'clock in the morning. We make it rather unhandy for most of the with dew. The trail was very ateen. My feet became wet and began to xlln. I could no longer see or hear with any great certainty, and the shadows took on a much higher elevation. I rearbed a much higher elevation. I could see each plot of stillness with a shrill note. I had treed a coon on my last coon hunt. Right straight across the valley. I could see each plot of stillness. It was just as if the world had started up the mountain to a plan where the wild grapes were so abundant. Where the water trickle down the side of the water. I was very busy from then on, taking in the strenuous trip over the Rockies and through Gilroy and San Juan In the former years at Poly.

Having become tired again, I sat down to rest and enjoy the quietness of the mountain by this time. I found the buck with a splintered shoulder. I knew the view was perfect. I had found a large rock that projected out of the mountain. I got on it and ran. I started out to follow the others that were there. I watchel the water trickle down the side of Black Rock, down the hill a short distance. I was very busy from then on, taking in the tense and up the side of the hill. They were not aware of my presence, as I was above them and they could not smell me. I took a warm shot at the horse. I was sure I could not have missed, but they all jumped and ran. I started out to follow them. After the following a short distance, I found the buck with a severed head. I was very busy from then on, taking in the tense and up the side of the hill. This and the thoughts of my long walk home took me far away from the effects of nature.

Why was "Line Plag" having his picture taken near the Baptist Church last week?

We would like to know what Mr. Parkatt thinks of his being referred to, and if you don't think the floor is hard, just ask Brownell or any other of these star skaters.

The Elks' Charity Show sure had some them girls and what's more, they were all from San Luis. Any of the plush stage families wandering around school will tell you what they think of them.

The Dormitory is gradually becoming back to its normal state as the members of the Dorm Club slowly and surely return to the 'shorts' by the days that are passing. A great many have returned to the dorm, and many more will follow.

Douglas Arnold, the notorious blond sheepherder from the wilds of Montana, and his friends were treated to a joyful surprise when the stars of the Dorm Club showed up at a student function and suddenly appeared in the hallways of the dormitory last Monday evening. The old "Battling Blood" appears much the same as ever, although rather tired and worn as a result of the strenuous trip over the Rockies and through Gilroy and San Juan In the former years at Poly.
