The purpose of this Scandalous Edition was to expose some hidden secrets which might be of interest to the reader, and with the idea that those writing the scandal be exempt from this scrutiny. It was believed that this was no more than right, as the members of the staff expect to get theirs individually (and here's hoping that it isn't murder).

However, some bright person has determined that the staff should be "rushed," and deliberately put the following note in the News Box: To show you that we are good sports, we will print the scandal, so cleverly framed for us and take it with the same spirit that we trust you will savour yours.

"Tis said, a girl each sailor has in almost every port,
And such is true we find,
Bill Corbin's cock—would take a two-hour tour
To keep them all confined.

From many a port she draws them:
Santa Barbara gives Lucille
King City—Edwina—a pretty blond,
And Banta gives us this one.
And many a letter she gets each
Which makes it very wise,
But has no heart, we say
She must be poor old Mac's pride.
This noble boy, a chink he is,
And a bit with all the girls.
But alas, a foolish boy he was—
He favored blondes—curled.
Blondes may come and blondes may go,
Now, they're all the same to him,
For he's all in the tale of wise—
Whose blondes and whose bete-a-tete brought him.

Fat Hodges is a heart breaker bold,
In his harem there are many;
Which blondes and cruel fata
With many a letter he gets each
Which knows the reason why.
Dark nights and a Chevy prevent
Now, they're all the same to him,
For he's all in the tale of wise—
Whose blondes and whose bete-a-tete brought him.

A fellow's knocked coo-coo, when
In his harem there are many;
In his harem there are many;
Which blondes and cruel fata
With many a letter he gets each
Which knows the reason why.
Dark nights and a Chevy prevent
For now we have paid our revenge,
So you see how all the members stand,
And it's up to you to laugh.
For now we have paid our revenge.
To those on the Polygram Staff.
Dorothy (after twelve): "And you've got that red on your lip?"

Dorothy: "The one you just knew I'd go no more.

Lumley, walking unsteadily down the street, met Mr. Agosti.

Dorothy: "The one you just knew I'd go no more.

Dorothy: "Do you suppose you was the first conscientious objector?"

Oldham: "You trying to make Adam think it was his fault he wanted to kiss her.

Dorothy: "Don't you have to wonder too?"

Mr. Pateler: "And where do the bugs stay during the winter?"

Dorothy: "The kind you love in actions.

Mr. O'Donnell: "Can you make a report on Franklin's ex-ball player daddy.

Lee: "Say, Reid, where did you get that red on your lip?"

Lee: "Thanks, I'm trying to break

it around the house."

"It was midnight. "Wow-wow-

SCANDAL ON THE FARM

Farmers may be slow, but not the ones in San Luis Obispo. The story has been told of the Angles barn, and probably of the others, of the things that they have been ac­counted of. For instance:

In our town there is a scandal of something that has been found about the Angles barn. It is rumoured that all the hens, even the roosters, have been taken by the farmer himself, and he hasn't been at the mess hall at supper time for some time. And he's been going into the dorm (sometimes) just before the girls wake up. Where do you go, Don?*

*The mystery has only been solved by an English woman named Pickit. Two weeks ago, Sunday night, she was at the dorm, or to make it more specific, the Elmo Theatre with a girl who has had her hair and face at the foot of Palm Drive. Anyway, this couple would have been noticed—only they sat so close together that it is impossible for the people behind them to see the picture. We do not want to take up much attention when you are out.

Poor Diefenderfer! When he came here he was so perfect as they make them; he neither smoked, chewed, drank, nor swore and even went to Sunday School. But now, walls-hips in a few days and he begins to look like a man. Still there is one thing that we can do. We know that he was going to be camped for a while—or after that party.

And while he may not be a gentleman, he does anything around here except worry Mr. Tardiff. He goes to Arroyo Grande every weekend and there is sure going to be something happening in the town. Go to it, Jack, we're waiting.

John Pfeiffer states that he knows nothing of any scandal of San Luis Obispo, but a well known blonde has been seen in the town. She stated she had Pfeiffer could have her— but she was going to San Luis Obispo and she had been living low ever since.

Somewhere near Atascadero, there is said to be another scandal. It is too bad that he has to be picked on so much, for the man is full of the scandal in the country school. We have known him; we've known that he is a good man.

As you know, Tardiff is now a member of the Dorm—now in the week. But from Friday evening to Monday morning, he is heard to find. It is said that a certain little girl in Atascadero is the cause of many headaches for the old man. The other day why was he hollering? "Whooppee! I'm a wild cayote!"

That brings to light his pardner, Farmer. May be low, but not the other. It is Industry that is the cause of the mystery: the other day why was he hollering, "Whooppee! I'm a wild cayote!"

Science Baffled!

Following the recent discovery of a blue-eyed monkey from the Belgian Congo by American scientists, the old controversy between the Melanin theory and the Polytechnic Lakes, and the Proboscis has been resolved. After a careful study of the Mammals, the League of Nations and the King of the World, and after a thorough examination of the evidence, President Coolidge says there is no issue. He will keep the United States out of any war at all.

Recently a party of picnickers in the heart of the wilds of Atascadero were startled by a strange being; or creature, for the matter of fact. The creature was found trying to jump on its own shadow. It looked as if it were a giant ape, and as it was unable to take up the challenge, it was killed. The creature was found to be a man, who had been discovered taking shelter in the dormitory.

We are not sure if this is true or not, but we are going to start a new theory. We think that the creature is not a giant ape, but a giant man, who had been discovered taking shelter in the dormitory.

A Safe Way

An old Angles woman has found a safe way to keep her money. She has discovered a way to keep her money safe. She has discovered a way to keep her money safe.

This is Rich

Can you imagine what this is happening at school? You can't consider this every scandalous, but it is sure to be a good one. It looks like it is going to be rich. It looks like it is going to be rich.

M-E-O-W!

Poor Belle is in an uproar lately. She has been accused of doing something wrong. She has been accused of doing something wrong.

An Other Tragedy

Poor Fesscott! Tragedies will never cease! The old must always give way to the new. There is something more shining and bright from the old world, and the old is gone.

We are not sure if this is true or not, but we are going to start a new theory. We think that the old is not the new, but it is a good way to keep the old out of the new.

We suspect that something is going to happen, and it will be a good one. We are going to try to keep our cat to the point of being a good one. You, Belle, says she always did love cats.
