THE DORM BARBECUE

The annual barbecue was held by the Dorm Club last Wednesday evening, at the same place the Ags gave their feed last week.

Krisel Hodges and Don Everitt officiated as chief cooks, and Hammond and Bill Lee made the coffee. The bill of fare consisted of meat, beans, beans, and coffee, and after everyone had reached its full capacity they gathered on the field, the grass was piled, and the entertainers started with a rendition of Follies, Their feet were few, but every one voted the affair a huge success.

New Business Manager

If you notice a change has been made in the business staff, there now is a new advertising manager. Though this position is not one of the regular editing of the Polytechnic, it is as important as the whole news staff. Since the founding of the paper it is a great responsibility. It is a duty that takes time and work, and if neglected it is a serious matter.

The longest advertising manager, George Creelwell, did well while on the job. However, he realized that his time was pretty well taken up with other activities and had to receive a new feed. Joe Pense has taken up the work, and by invertebrate ways he felt he just the one to carry on the good work of his predecessor.

The DeMosyl Initiates

The DeMolay is now beginning to have the scenes of many DeMolay boys. At first there were few, then 10, and now the number of the members of this great order in growth. But now, the number of members is grown to nearly twenty-five. The boys are beginning to realize the importance of the DeMolay and in time should be able to form a club for the order.

A number of the Dorm boys went to Paso Robles to witness the baseball game between the local team and the Ags. The Dorm boys never thought of the DeMolay.

The boys are gradually recovering from the effects of the Dorm Club banquet, which was held last Wednesday evening.

The school’s radio set has been added to our group, and the radio fans are enjoying music in the evenings.

That beautiful woman, Spark Plug, after Mary, has fallen prey to feminine charms, and goes daily to entertain her with his guitar.

C. Keith Miller is overhauling his Ford. He cleaned the motor, and looked real cute riding in church last Sunday around the back of the gas pay. He entertained with a rendition of "Follies," with his feet. A few of them fell to a good appetite, but a few saw bands for the meal, and they all walked over to the dormitory for more comfort.

The Aggies Entertain

Talk about assemblies, the Ags sure have them. But a new, which came under the supervision of a new girl, has been the highlight of the week.

The boys have extras to make them feel good. But a new, which came under the supervision of a new girl, has been the highlight of the week.

BASEBALL

Poly baseball players have been on the threshold of playing for some time. Capt. Deuel will start intense training for the team as soon as the ground gets dry.

Suits have been issued to all those who played last year. Also a few suits have been issued to promising prospects who came to light during the recent interclass tournament.

The outlook for a winning baseball team is looking promising.

HANDBALL

Another interesting handball schedule is being played off. This week everyone will have a chance to show his skill.

Each member of the Dorm Company is listed for a game with some other member of his company. Winners will be matched and eliminated until one man becomes the winner of the tournament.

The Town Company has also been scheduled up in the same way. As both schedules are finished there will probably be a tough battle to see which company has the best handball player.

Up to date some remarkable games have been played, the contestants displaying exceptional skill and judgment and playing in a manner worthy of professionals.

Perhaps the most interesting game so far was between O. Borla and J. Earle. In this game both players did some fast work and made some very accurate shots. O. Borla took the game from Earle by a score of 11-10.

A LEXON

"Life is just one thing after another," exclaimed Herbert Patchett, commander of Company B. "First, it's the girl; then, and then it all resolves into a big catastrophe. If you don't win, you won't give up hope. I love her and will persevere no matter what, happens to us.

All these heroic words came directly from the mouth of Major Patchett last Monday, when he met his Waterloo.

What happened was unexpected and him and he fought vigorously to prevent it. However, he had no time to find his immediate ends in the dictionary and the result was, as he had expected it to be.

Of course, there's a reason for everything and the only way that we can account for this little happening is by a confession that he made. We admire his true love, but believe that he is a little time to show it.

Oh, girls, how beautiful you are, please don't tempt us too far! Poor Herbert, he didn't mean to do it but was just tempted--then all. Then, who wouldn't be? A moun­tain of a machine, and a pretty blonde!" Rough, that's enough to make a fellow forget that his class is giving a dance oUt of school.

When making everything into consideration, though, shouldn't a fellow of his high standing do enough to, at least, make an appearance at the dance for where he works? We advertised the evening did have a romantic atmosphere but you must remember that "after every party" is the time to gaze into the sky.

This thrilling incident may have been a lesson to Him and should be an example to all other students. Senior or no senior, the class, as a whole, did what they thought right, not for the sake of being prejudiced, but to show what it means to be loyal.

MECHANICS MEETING

A meeting of the Mechanics Association was called Wednes­day, Aug. 27, by Vice President B. Bundy for the purpose of electing a president.

The nominees for the office were Phoebus, Anthis, Bonny, and Virgil Wimmer. Anthis was elected by a large plurality. After the elec­tion, President Anthis took the chair.

The matter of the Mechanics assembly was considered, and a committee was appointed to take charge of the prepara­tions for the assembly. The purposes of future trips to be made by the association were discussed briefly, and there being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

TRACK

Last week saw the start of track training at Poly. There are about a dozen men doing their laps every night at 9:30. There has been no definite training given yet. The fal­cons are getting little shape by a little cross-country run or about ten or twelve laps before breakfast every morning.

Some of the prospects for a team are: Bundy, Lumley, Reid, Clements, McKean, B. Patchett, Drief, Hammond, B. Patchett, Haas, Truesdale and a new man--Carola Romo.

The outlook for a winning track team is looking promising. When he starts out to do his laps he has in Poly in fact, the oppor­tunity to race on his own.

A SHIEK

"Sheik" oh, a thrill that name gives any girl.

When the word is mentioned it immediately comes to her mind—a tall handsome fellow, dark bronzed, handsome, and what­ever looks like. But that doesn't apply here. Our little sheik is the opposite than the above description.

The "sheik" that we have in mind is very quiet and in no way, would, in no way, come close to that fellow. But don't kid yourself. That may be the features of Fat Hodges, but he is living up to the Valentino type and thin.

Oh, girls, how beautiful you are, please don't tempt us too far! Low Herbert, he didn't mean to do it but was just tempted—then all. Then, who wouldn't be? A moun­tain of a machine, and a pretty blonde! Rough, that's enough to make a fellow forget that his class is giving a dance oUt of school.
