Mr. Knapp, the director of motion picture production for the California State University, spoke on the motion pictures taken at Poly. He showed the unique activities on the Poly campus, both interior and exterior, featuring the work in the Agriculture, Home Economics, and Household Arts departments, military, athletic and school life. It will be shown in high class programs, and will start in Southern California on November 21. The program includes a special feature, "Code of the Sea," and it behooves every Poly student to boost for a large attendance. From here the picture will be taken northward, to be shown each night in the motion picture houses and high school auditoriums throughout the state.

Mechanics Visit Destroyers

Mr. Rathbone extended a cordial invitation to Poly students who were interested in engineering to come aboard the destroyers which were in port. The Engineering-Mechanics Association went aboard with cooperation. Mr. Murphy and Mr. Earl Coke, as well as the athletic committee, were very obliging in showing the party around. The sailors behaved very well.

We were explained the operations of the deck equipment, including the cooking and boiler rooms. The engines and their auxiliaries were explained, and work in the engineering, to which they were very familiar with free baths. At last, everyone was safely aboard, and we started to look around. The sailors were very hospitable and several were very obliging in showing the party over the ship.

Wilbur Miller was disappointed because he had not had an audience on the radio set; Langenbeck tried to drink the alcohol out of the compass, and Fulwider wanted to blow the whistle, but, on the whole, the binge held very well.

We were explained the operations of the equipment, including the cooking and boiler rooms. The engines and their auxiliaries were explained, and work in the engineering, to which they were very familiar. Mr. Knott began to assume a thoughtful expression, and expressed some concern over the very excellent dinner he had eaten, and several of the boys were getting a little pale, so we decided to return to shore. Fred Louis could not be found, but after a short search, we discovered him in the galley shooting craps with a monkey.

We got ashore without much difficulty and arrived back at Poly about 4 o'clock.

Rainy Day Session

The students were very much disappointed when it was announced Tuesday afternoon that the Poly senior day would be rained out. Dinner was to be served at the Dining Hall at 11:15 and school took up at 12. It is that way we went home at an hour earlier, which was appreciated by us all.

POLY MOTION PICTURE TO BAKERSFIELD

This Thursday noon the football caravan will leave from the Administration building for Bakersfield. On the next day, Friday, the Poly eleven will battle with the Bakersfield John College. Our boys will have no easy contest. During the Poly-Farm and Farm Boys, we put out of Monday's practice and since we are leaving Thursday noon, department that rain, our school only two days of practice for the game.

Since the game with Modesto was decided to be the first annual game on Poly's big football game of the season. At 2 p.m. the Frosh and Sophs will show us what they can do, and at 3:20 P.M., the varsity of Poly's biggest football game of the season will play.

At 7:30 p.m. an Alumni-student banquet will be served at the Dining Hall, and from 9 to 11 p.m. a ball will be given in their honor by the students of Poly.

Circulars are being sent out to the Alumni. There will be a four-day program of events, each telling about the Home Coming.

We hope to have a good crowd coming back to dear old Poly to enjoy the Home Coming and to renew old acquaintances.

Meeting of Agricultural Teachers' Association

A meeting of the San Luis Obispo Valley Agricultural Teachers' Association was held on the campus of the Madera High School last Saturday.

Mr. Rathbone, head of the agricultural department of the Madera High School, attended and spoke on the subject of agriculture at the California Polytechnic School. Considerable interest was shown in Mr. Rathbone's talk and many questions were asked regarding the work here. The invitation from the San Luis Obispo Agricultural Teachers' Association to hold their spring meeting here was rejected.

Other speakers on the program were W. E. Barchet, state agriculture club leader, and Mr. Henry M. Skidmore, supervisor of agricultural teachers' training and formerly with the Federal Board for Vocational Education at Washington, D. C.

For the last two weeks the Dormitory has been filled with queer noises. Some say that it is the members of the band practicing, but it sounds much like a cow with asthma than anything else.

HOME COMING WEEK

The Home Coming Committee, in its sanguine expression puts it, is going at its hard.

This committee was chosen by Mr. Agosti, who, in his Joaquin Y, the idea of representing the student body so much pleased the former. The members from each class were chosen, and besides this the athletic committee is represented and superintendent. As his assistants Mr. Agosti chose Mr. Chace, Mr. Perozzi and Mr. Peteler.

Mrs. Agosti has planned a banquet which will include on November 14 from 6 to 9 visiting classes and shops.

In the evening at 7 o'clock there will be a serpentine down town and at 7:30 p.m. there must have one of those good old time bonfire rallies with lots of pop here on the Poly field. On November 15 from 9 a.m. to 12 a.m. the Alumni will register and visit the grounds, shops and Ag. department. At noon hot coffee will be served and there will be lots of excitement.

At 2 p.m. the Frosh and Sophs will show us what they can do, and at 3:20 P.M., the varsity of Poly's biggest football game of the season.

At 7:30 p.m. an Alumni-student banquet will be served at the Dining Hall, and from 9 to 11 p.m. a ball will be given in their honor by the students of Poly.

The coming annual meeting of the California Polytechnic School, considering the interesting work of the school, will certainly be appreciated by us all.

The banquet will be served at the dining hall, and from 9 to 11 p.m. a ball will be given in their honor by the students of Poly.

The regular assembly was held Oct. 22. Dr. Crandall being in charge.

After the announcements Dr. Crandall introduced Mr. Smith, cashier of the Citizens Bank, who for us a very interesting talk on banking.

Harold Newman came to visit us last Sunday morning. He is a native of Santa Paula. He pronounced Poly in 22. Now he is in charge of a fruit ranch near Santa Paula. Mr. Newman is a very enthusiastic Polyite and comes back every time he gets a chance.

Electric Class Fools Hens

The latest project of the Senior Electric Class is connected with the poultry department of the school shop. It seems that certain members of the Agriculture Department conceived the brilliant idea of causing two eggs to bloom and flourish where but one egg grew before by means of furnishing extra hours of daylight, and it has been reported that the hens cannot be expected to sit up nights to turn out the lights, a very operating the dimming device by means of a time clock is to be worked on, the electricians are exercising their inventive abilities to the utmost to produce the desired results, and it is hoped that the Ags benefiting by their labors will appreciate the effort.

Sox Met Disaster

Poor Stocking must have overcome with the score made by the town company Monday night, for when he was going home his was a participant in a wreck on the Morro Road. Luckless plane was not seriously injured. Well, Sox, we’ll see that you don’t get overcome again.

Letter from Jack Hammond

Capt. Dewel received a letter from Jack Hammond in which he stated that he is attending Davis and is taking the degree course. He is working on the football team and when they play the various high schools of that vicinity. He sent a dollar for the year’s subscription of the Polygram.

Jack is coming home to spend the Christmas holidays and says he is coming up to visit us.

Song Committee

The song committee, consisting of Rae Mayhall, Margaret Bailey, and Joe Earl, is progressing nicely. They have obtained in the neighborhood of four new songs which contain lots of pep. They hope to be able to practise some of these songs at the rally Thursday.
CONFIDENCE

We, who are attending Poly now, or are supposed to know, what our aim is to be in life. Perhaps we do not know just exactly what we wish to do and, even if we do, time may change this view. At any rate we are now on the threshold of manhood and womanhood. If we form ourselves now so shall we be formed by time.

During his talk in assembly Mr. Smith brought out an important point. He said, "Do not over-estimate your abilities, but also do not underestimate them. As one of our instructors is often heard to say, "Strike that happy medium.""

Successful men know their abilities but also know their limitations. The more successful the man, the more able he is to read his own character and mind. The chances are that he who succeeds, became of that self-confidence.

Be confident but not over-confident. A heavy load and a light heart is by a great struggle. If there is anything you know, do it; but be sure you can do it. Don't be afraid to try, but step out and make an attempt anyway. There is a saying that opportunity knocks but once. If you do not enter, you have lost your chance.

A timid person stuggles under a heavy load and an easy task is by a great struggle. If there is anything you know, do it; but be sure you can do it. Don't be afraid to try, but step out and make an attempt anyway. There is a saying that opportunity knocks but once. If you do not enter, you have lost your chance.

Opposite this, we have the opposite idea. This trait soon develops into those that are anti-social and anti-human. The over-bearing person whom everyone de-bates with, is a timid man. They are careful and do not begin to think you are one who is always right and never wrong. Success often turns people's heads, and some people do make a wrong decision. If you can but strike that happy medium, or balance between the two extremes, and have your knowledge to back it up, there is an empty niche in the Hall of Fame reserved for you. The more knowledge a man has, the more potential he has. He is a person that can build victory out of defeat.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

So far this season Poly has played three football games. The last game, which was played with the Modesto Junior College Team at Modesto's field, was our first regular conference game. The schedule in the Central Coast Conference has been shaken up a bit this year. The three new teams we play in this season, whom we did not meet last year, are the Modesto Junior College, Bay Area Junior College, and the Fresno State Teachers College. Our first game of this year is heavier than has been arranged for in the past.

Schedule of games yet to be played:

November 1 Poly plays Bakerfield Junior College here at Bakerfield.

November 11, Armistice Day Poly plays the American Legion, Arroyo Grande Post here.

November 18 Poly plays the Fresno State Teachers College here.

November 25 Poly plays the Santa Barbara State Teachers College here.

TOWN VS. DORM

This year the Town Team paraded in triumph over the Dorm on the football field here last Monday. The Town Team took their revenge, but not as much as they would have liked, for the Dorm Team thronged to the stands of the Coliseum and lured the spectators to the game. This was the first time the teams met in the Central Coast Conference.

The game opened with a tie and a general shake-up in the ranks of the players. In the first quarter, Poly's quarterback, Zanoli, passed to Miller for a gain of three yards, and the Poly offense was on the move. Lumley then passed to Miller for a gain of five yards, and Poly scored its first touchdown.

In the second quarter, the Dorm Team was on the move, but Poly's defense held strong. Poly scored its second touchdown of the day on a pass from Lumley to Miller. Lumley then added an extra point by a place kick. The score stood at 12-0.

In the third quarter, the Dorm Team made a pretty end run with a gain of 10 yards by Modesto. Miller, White, and Reid, out. Eveleth carried ball on end run, 2 yard—a big mistake by Poly.

In the fourth quarter, Lumley made a tackle over Del Rio. Poly fumbled but recovered. Modeato. Miller, White, Reid, and Eveleth knocked the ball from the Poly frame, and recovered it. Modeato. Modeato made a kick, but Poly made a tackle.

The game ended with the score of 12-0.

Eveleth makes the tackle with a loss of six yards for Modesto. Lumley makes tackle and Poly gets the ball on down, but Modesto makes one touchdown.
