ATTENTION!

We would like to tell the members of the student body that the School of Agriculture and Home Economics will present, this evening, April 12th, at 8 p.m., a play to which all students are invited.

The play is entitled "The Jolly Speakers Picnic," and is a production of the School of Agriculture and Home Economics, under the direction of Mr. A. T. Adam, who will also appear in the play.

The play is based on the life of Dr. J. B. M. Jordan, who was the first president of the University of California, and is the story of his life and work.

The play is being produced by the School of Agriculture and Home Economics, and is the result of the efforts of the students of the School.

We believe that this play will be of interest to all students, and hope that they will attend it.

Respecting School Property

Why were schools built? Of course we know that they were built for the education of the younger generation. Why does the younger generation need school property? Because they were not educated the same way we were. They need all the other necessary equipment to make school property complete. Just stop to think a minute what that would mean. It means to have a building for all our courses, a telephone, a clock, an old desk, a chalkboard, etc. It means not to have to make our own laws, therefore some one has to obey those laws which is not a thing any true American want....

It is made by the strong, happy, carefree, healthy nation....

It probably enters your mind now, what is school property? It has this: If a boy breaks a window, he is responsible for the defect; he must make it up. If a boy breaks a desk, he is responsible for the defect; he must make it up. If a boy breaks a chalkboard, he is responsible for the defect; he must make it up. This property can not be destroyed by a boy; he must take care of his property.

It can be used to improve the advantage of the property. It can be used for repairs, and new furnishings. This money can then be spent for a school, for the purpose of education. If we take care not to destroy the school property, there will be less money needed for repairs, and new furnishings. This money can then be spent for a school, for the purpose of education. If we take care not to destroy the school property, there will be less money needed for repairs, and new furnishings. This money can then be spent for a new school, for the purpose of education some people that do not already have the opportunity, or usa it in the most advantageous way. We can not be respected by others and make school property complete for our school, thus increasing its standing in the outside world.

I am sure we are all of the opinion that we need schools, and need good ones, as let's each one of us try not to destroy the school property. We can not respect our wishes and consider their all at times. One who is well-bred and courteous always does his utmost to be kind and respectful to his companions. For instance, when he meets a stranger instead of drawing away, and ridiculing him he does every effort to make that stranger feel at his ease.

Politeness—too many are unaware that politeness should be used every occurrence. If people know that it is not to be destroyed by a boy; he must take care of his property.

Poly's Campus

Poly's campus is one of the most beautiful campuses in college. The state, situated in the valley of wonder, is one of the most wonderful mountains in the Pacific Ocean. A few miles to the west, in the country, are located the tops of the rolling hills, which overlook the city of Los Altos. The view is very beautiful, and we find a great number of people passing by on the trains are amazed by the beauty of the campus and the institution. The beautiful green fields...

The most WTH?
No: I was almost killed the other
morning.
She: How is that?
No: I got up on the wrong side of
the bed.
She: You’re not superstitious, are
you?
No, but you see it was an upper
bunk.
Did you fix that tire?
No, I left it flat.

Old Lady: Poor man. Is there no­
gate to get rid of those cooties?
Tramp: Dat’s easy. I take a bath from the sand and then I rubs down with alcohol. De cooties gets drunk and kills each other throwin’ rocks.

Judge: Are you married?
Tramp: I ban married.
Judge: Who did you marry?
Tramp: I ban married a woman.
Judge: Did you ever hear of anyone that didn’t marry a woman?
Tramp: Sure. my sister she ban
married a man.

Fell go anyhow?
Native women better than others?

I’m studying the origin of blotting paper.

The fountain of wisdom flows
through books.

A tumbling
A rolling
But nobody carves;
Only a freshman.

“Keep that school girl complexion”
out of the rain.

Don’t you sailors like talking women better than others?

I presume you carry a memento of precious.

It’s bird to tell, because they are blind.

If you can do this fourth year history
without getting detention every
day.

If you do these things I bet a dollar,
You’ll graduate a senior like you
ought.

If you can do this English
without a cross word or a frown,
And miss the treats downtown.

Ting! Ting! Ting!
“Prepare for Horn.
For Horn.
For Horn.
Horn Book For Horn.”

“IF” FOR SENIORS
If you can do this blamed geometry,
Without getting mad and throwing
your book away.

If you can do this fourth year history
Without getting detention every
day.

If you can do this English
Without a cross word or a frown,
And miss the treats downtown.

If you can love every single teacher
and spoof without getting caught,
If you do these things I bet a dollar,
You’ll graduate a senior like you
ought.

High School's lineups were broken during the meet by both teams. There were 11 to 4. The players needed to work extra hard to connect with the pill. None of them succeeded in lamming out home runs, but Rogers made a fine one handed stop, whom we met during basketball and football, is also their star track man. The fire was scorched about 2:30 a.m. within an hour. The origin of the fire was probably the county high school. The local high school lost its first game this year to Paso Robles by the score of 11 to 4. The players seemed to lack the finishing touch, and in the end of the third inning when the pitcher went in the air. The track team of the Arcada High Teachers College defeated the Fresno Base Team last Saturday to the sister of 2-4. Poly has one of the best track teams in our conference. Mrs. St. Mary's won the conference title at Santa Barbara. The team is new and we expect to do well in upcoming track meets. The local high school lost its baseball game this week to the grammar school "Trojans." These kids are developing a good team. They have won all of their games this year.

Poly Swamps Local High
Poly's baseball team swapped the local high school before vacation to the tune of 11 to 4. Poly had no trouble at all in walloping the High baseball team who hardly seemed to know they were playing baseball. Harper did some good pitching for Poly and fanned a number out. Lee replaced Harper and showed up in good advantage. Several Poly fellows succeeded in bounding out bases runs and scoring whenever they wanted to. The High School started out with one pitcher, but before the game was over they had used every one on the team as a pitcher, but none of them were able to keep Poly from making runs after run. Poly's and High School's lineups were as follows:
