State Press Awards

At the recent annual session of the State Press Convention, officers for the next year were elected, and the San Luis Obispo Review was selected to host the next convention. The following officers were elected: President, Pauline Fitkin; Vice-President, John Pimentel; Secretary, Clara Knox; and Treasurer, Arthur Lima.

Hunting

Four members of the students' class, G. C. F., J. J. S., and B. B., were elected to the hunt for the next year. The hunt will be held on the school grounds at 4:00 P.M. on the last Friday of each month.

Plays Arrive

Mrs. Fuller has received the two new plays which were ordered, "The Neighbors," by Zona Gale, and "The Car," by Agnes Adler.

State Press Awards

The awards for both plays have been selected, but, it was announced, that they might be changed. The plays will be produced in the fall.

Winnie Bade For Civil Boys

The last Sunday of each month is "Hunting Day," and the Civic Boys have a Hunting Day every month. This is a great day for the Civic Boys, and they are looking forward to it with great interest.

Speak at High School Rally

Mr. and Mrs. Paulson's Polo football team, and Earl Williams, popular student athlete, were guests of honor at the San Luis Obispo High School rally. Friday night, the week before the game, they took the students to the Stanford Memorial Chapel for a special service. After the service, they had dinner at the Cardinal Hotel in Palo Alto, and then returned to San Luis Obispo.

Galley Slaves Prominent

The Galley Slaves are pleased to have been invited to the San Luis Obispo High School rally. They are: Lawrence Lee, Victor Hargrave, John Pimentel, Pauline Fitkin, and William Duffer. We hope to increase the number of Galley Slaves next year.

Plays Continue

Four members of the journalism class, G. C. F., J. J. S., and B. B., were elected to the journalism class for the next year. The journalism class will meet every Thursday at 4:00 P.M. in the journalism room.

Eight years ago today, the Arm-Ed," or Arm-Ed. as he is known to students and faculty, brought this struggle to an end. America is justly proud and celebrates this date.

California Polytechnic, with her students in military uniform, certainly demonstrated her ability to represent our nation in those trying times "over there."

In this number of the Polygram we have the story of how forty students whose work for the first six weeks was of such merit that they In a f. Pauline F. tk'n, Wilfred Fred-

The Sacramento Trip

The Jolly Mustangs left San Luis Obispo for Sacramento about three o'clock Thursday afternoon. At dinner on the train, they sat at tables so that they could sit and share their meal with their travel companions. The boys were excited as they traveled to their destination.

The team arrived at Sacramento Saturday morning, and many of the fans were at the station to greet them. The hotel was filled with excitement as the boys checked in.

The second frame was a disaster for Polytechnic, and Sacramento gained at will, breaking the Mustangs' defense. Sacramento's men were real men, most of them being as tall as White and at least seven inches broader. Their smallest man weighed 193 pounds.

The team went out to the good team, and many of the Poly men didn't last long in the game. The Sacramento men were real men, and they were beginning to tire out, while Sacramento had all their subs there and kept sending in fresh men.

As different players met with injuries, our team slowly became weaker. Carroll and Marsh each got a twisted ankle; Tate, a twisted knee; Sparks, a wrenched knee; and Roberts a twisted ankle. "Although we did not win, I feel that our team proved that they are a team against a team of this kind," said Coach Agosti.

The team received an invitation to the Hallowe'en dance, but they were unable to attend. "We were too busy practicing," said Coach Agosti.

After the wienie roast, the boys went to the dance, but they could not enjoy it. The music was not to their liking, and they found it difficult to dance. The gymnasium was decorated very prettily in orange lights and all the decorations that go along with Hallowe'en. The team was allowed to stay out until ten-thirty.

For a tally. The conversion went true, and the boys returned to their hotel. The boys were happy with their trip, and they looked forward to their next game.

The lineup: Roberts and Traver, halfbacks; Rice, Zanoli and Toomey, fullbacks; Sparks, Carroll, Sinclair, and Demarcst, ends; Captain Sparks, a wrenched knee; and Roberts a twisted ankle.

The team had a battle ahead and was unable to keep the ball away from the Sacramento defenders. The Poly men were often for long runs that usually resulted in touchdowns. It was in this quarter that most of Poly's injured players had to be removed from the game. White smashed through the line of 19 to 13.

As different players met with injuries, the boys were in a wonderful spirit. Some passed them by, but others came to help them. They had the opportunity of seeing the game between Poly and Sacramento High School. The Mustangs were the victims with a score of 10 to 0.
