Dramatics Class Prove Good Entertainers

Despite the falling over of the footlights in the last act of "The Count of the Play," the lack of Puy students in the auditorium of the Mission covered the fall. Miss Delia Waller, Friday evening, February 16, in "The Count of the Play," was a huge success. Approximately seventy dollars were raised for the building fund of the Presbyterian Church.

Miss Waller "met with the most approval of the public because of its own merit." And the "Night Riders," by William Duffcn, gruff and mannered, but kind of heart, amply evidenced the ability of adapting himself in his ability of adapting himself to the mood of the audience. Jenne McClellan, as the Aunt, and the three delightful misses who testified that "Folks Is Folks." "The Blue Guitar" by William Smith was sung by Miss Mary Schermerhorn, as the coy sweetheart, and were, for awhile, very much "afraid that Delia Erving might not win the Count." The Smith an angry man Is he. "They are here!"

What was it? Was it some boy yelling "They're plenty hot." "On the eleventh of next month the Annual Ball will be held at the Dunnlnan residence, where he can be seen by all." "We the students of today, are trying to show the world how we can live."

A change of heart: "The Smith was an angry man Is he."

And ponders on his training at school."

Drifting or Steering

Are you drifting toward defeat or steering toward success? In ten years from now, will you be considered the shining star in your chosen profession, or will you be a failure or a success?

The Smith was an angry man, Is he. "They are here!"

But not for the rest of your life. For that reason they made no effort to call one another. This also happened during the Chinese Revolution in 1911.

"Grandpa." "The neighbors" met with the most approval of the public because of its own merit. And the "Night Riders," by William Duffcn, were, for awhile, very much "afraid that Delia Erving might not win the Count."

"With trouble on his hands."

"You see, I sst on Ills tliit filini' while the actors were more or less on a part, most of them acting well their parts and all doing better work in certain scenes than in others." Mrs. Fuller deserves much praise for these very creditable productions.

"Drifting or steering," We should get everything out of it we can, but, as the Smith was an angry man, Is he, we can steer our boat to success.

New Cal Poly stickers have been added to the list of the Co-op Store. They will be on exhibit in the store on Saturday and Sunday, and will be available for purchase. The new stickers will be "The Blue Guitar" by William Smith, and will be available at the Co-op Store in the color school of green and orange. The same name under which our variety teams will be featured as the stickers will have the Mustang musty displayed.

"The Smith is a very interesting story."

DORM DOINGS

We have some peace down in Rum Row. Our little friend Boon has finally sold his radio. We all knew that the kid that bought it. The best part of it is that it is going over to Barracks. I hope they don’t play it there though.

What was that? John Wright in love? Yes, that he is. Besides, what happened all of a sudden? Ask John!

Byron Engle from Pasadena has just moved into the Dorm. He is in room 23 with Bopp.

Everybody in the Dorm is getting romantically all of a sudden. First John Wright and now our little friend Boon has been found calling up his girl friends.

No, Keeno, you can’t hide under my bed!

A Dorm meeting was held on Monday, February 14th, and several watered down resolutions were discussed. The most important resolution that came out of the meeting was an amendment to the Dorm’s Constitution to allow officers to be selected by popular election. A committee was appointed to look further into the matter of the day.

Tryer is having a pretty hard time and he would like to have some assistance. As usual, both girls in Tryer’s room are his. Tryer has made several trips to Santa Tyme and back, in an effort to solve his problems. Tryer’s lack of intelligence is a problem which requires a great deal of work. Tryer’s problem is not his alone; he has a roommate who also has problems.

If any of you are at the Dorm or Poly would like to know why Halford, Roberts, Gray, and Mingo only do 75% of what they promise to do when they are supposed to do it. Tryer has made several trips to Santa Tyme and back, in an effort to solve his problems. Tryer’s lack of intelligence is a problem which requires a great deal of work. Tryer’s problem is not his alone; he has a roommate who also has problems.

BARRACKS BREEZES

Boon, boom, bang!

Boon, the Dorm fellow, has just bought a brand new radio.

We were all startled when he announced that he would like to have some assistance. As usual, both girls in his room are interested. He has made several trips to Santa Tyme and back, in an effort to solve his problems. Tryer’s lack of intelligence is a problem which requires a great deal of work. Any day Mother Progress said to her son, "You must listen to me always."

Failure and Success

Failure and Success were two boys who attended California Polytechnic this semester. Captain Deuel is very careful in his selection of officers, good conduct and careful application to drill and duties being considered.

The men who have applied themselves and worked diligently toward the betterment of the cadets have been rewarded for their efforts. Will you be numbered with the next group to be promoted?

How many really stopped to realize or gave a moment’s thought to a reflection upon California Polytechnic.

Outstanding in American history are the names of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln whose birthdays are celebrated this month. Each achieved what he set out to do. One became the savior of that nation. Washington and Lincoln were men of high ideals whose biggest aim in life was to do for the other fellow first and gain liberty and happiness for their fellowmen.

These two men had a sense of honesty and fair-play and were justly rewarded. We cannot all be leaders, but good followers are almost as equal in importance.

The school board has consented to leather puttees as a part of the cadets’ uniform whether a private or officer, after repeated requests of the students. These will be made compulsory starting on March 3rd. We asked for them, now we must wear them and keep our uniform in a tidy condition.

How many really stopped to realize or gave a moment’s thought to a reflection upon California Polytechnic. How many of us would have done this, even for our team, if we were ill? But every one of them as schoolmates? This attitude was an honest display of true school spirit, love and loyalty. May they always keep this spirit.

Still, if you work for it, you can have it.

Success is the possession of all. Failure is the possession of none. It is the attitude that differentiates between the two.

Success and Failure were two boys who attended California Polytechnic this semester. Captain Deuel is very careful in his selection of officers, good conduct and careful application to drill and duties being considered.

Success was the mother while Careless was the father.

During most of Failure’s life he was told that he was going to be a failure. Every time he opened his mouth, everyone told him that he was going to be a failure. He even told himself that he was going to be a failure. He was never satisfied with anything he had, was always complaining and always was wanting something better.

Careless gave them some advice and they did their mother’s will. Success was the mother while Careless was the father. He was never satisfied with anything he had, was always complaining and always was wanting something better.

Failure listened to no one except his mother. He was always wishing for something better.

One day Mother Progress said to her son, "You must be careful about how you use your time."

But he was no good

She had bad health. He had passed his life. He was always wishing for something better.

But he was no good

For it he had passed his life.
Keeso: I just met a friend up the street who said you looked like me.
Jepson: Where is he? I want to kill him.
Keeso: Never mind, I killed him already.

Edward Smith: You sure can see all kinds of figures at Santa Monica.
Pablo del Rio: You shouldn't say "figures," say "geometries."

Coach to basketball squad: When in training, do not eat fancy dishes.
Tom Brown: I want some garbage.

David Cargen (behind cafeteria counter): This isn't an empty fountain, and don't call me "uris" either.

Bill Dettif: I'd like to leave school this week-end; I want to visit my sister.

Captain: How long have you known your sister?
Bill: Oh, about two weeks.

Mary Elizabeth Parsons: Tell me that I have a mouth like a rose bud.
Haltriggen Chase: Aw, you got one like a whole bouquet.

Tamagath: Whom are you looking for?
Jailer: I'm after escaped convicts.

Tamagath: What happened?
Jailer: There was a smallpox epidemic in the prison, and they all broke out.

Florence Parsons: My dear, we are going to have a raffle for a pure old man; you'll buy a ticket, won't you?
Maria Donaldson: Oh, gracious now. What would I do if I were to win it?

Mrs. Warren: What's cold boiled ham?
Nelson Brown: Oh, that is ham boiled in cold water, isn't it?

"Do you want me?" -- asked the mosquito, as he sank a half-inch shaft into Mr. McFarland's leg.

"No, at all!" -- replied Mr. McFarland, squashing him with a book. "How do you know that strikes me?"

"This floor is terribly crowded," said the gazing Nancy O'Neill, as he blew the nose of her husband on somebody else's knees.

Yert Amend: What is that bump on the front of your car?
Ray Cleft: The radiator just had a boil.

Mr. Warren (speaking of hypocrisy): Brown, just what is your idea of one?
Nelson Brown (awakening): The fellow who comes to school with a smile on his face.

DEDICATED TO "HAPPY" MITISOK

Delia: What a charming ornament you send me. But what is it? It's made of gold, but it's not a brooch, nor a ring nor a bracelet. I've never seen anything like it before. What is it?
Detwiller: A thimble.

Billings: Have you heard of the new poison?
Scotty: No.

Billings: Acroplane poison. One drop is usually sufficient.
Dr. Crandall: I'll give you a nickel if you keep your granddad awake during the sermon.

Mrs. Warren: Don't mistake me for the boy who has never missed a day since then.

Pickens: Nothing but habit.

Mrs. Warren: I am glad you think that way; most of the other boys swear.

Sandy was fishing. Donald, passing, asked: "How are the fish today, Sandy?"

"I dinna ken," replied Sandy, "I dropped them a line, but so far I ma'ee reply."

A new aeroplane is equipped with a kitchen. When the cook wants to toss a pancake, he simply stands still in the kitchen.

Halterer: Fill her up, John (meaning radiotor).

Mr. Warren: What is your little man wish to do?
Mrs. Warren: I've got to buy soap.

Storekeeper (as small boy enters): "Hello, boys!" Mrs. Warren asked him.

Mrs. Warren: What does my little man wish to do?

A new poison is equipped with a kitchen. When the cook wants to toss a pancake, he simply stands still in the kitchen.

Grandmother (to Eager): "You are very image of your father, you have his eyes and his nose."

Roger: "Yes, and I have his pans, too."

Keeso: I just met a friend up the street who said you looked like me.

Remove before sending.

Spring Football Training

Set For Month of March

Spring training in football will take place during the month of March, according to an announcement made by Coach Agosti this week. Mr. Agosti wants at least seventy-five men out for the squad. All will be given a chance to play in the interclub and inter-class contests. Besides taking on men from the campus, the coach hopes to put the squad through drill work in the coming month.

A tough schedule of games is planned for next fall. Early in the season the squad will play the Stanford second varsity at Palo Alto.
