The Goose Hangs High

The Goose Hangs High, the annual school play, will be given Monday night at eight o'clock. Work on the play has been in progress ever since the show Monday night should well be worth watching.

This play is one of the most popular high school plays of the season and has been given recently at Palo Alto High school, Turlock Union High School and other schools which specialize in dramatics. The Goose Hangs High, by Lewis Beach, made a hit in New York several seasons ago, and later in San Francisco, in a short time was given by the Henry Duffy Players.

The Polly players are better fitted to their parts than were the Henry Duffy players. Miss Alex, who has had some study in dramatics, has seen the film and has been able to adapt another high school, and has attended a recent practice. Miss Alex, and her production, declares this will be the best of all.

The play is one presenting the problem of whether or not Hugh, and Mary, and the twins, Peppy Collegiate, who are used characters in the play, will be directed a great many productions to getting what he wants (and this time Julia Murdock. Velma Sturgeon, Stewart Jones and Shirley Dunning are the lovers (gentlemen friends, and mother and grandmother in it too. The entire upon her capable shoulders.

A large amount of our success rests in this play, and we must not forget that from Hugh's standpoint, he is the hero of the play. Bernard Ingals is the sister of Florence Cubitt. The twins; Stewart Jones and Shirley Dunning are the doting parents; and Eunice Ingals and Jennie McClellan are the lovers (gentlemen friends, the problem of whether or not this Jar, will be given recently at Palo Alto High School, Turlock union High School will be worth seeing.

Farm Bureau Picnic

Saturday the Junior Farm Center will be host to the Farm Bureau at a picnic. This is an annual affair and looked forward to by the members of the bureau and their families who have been away from school and college. When the day arrived, little and big, from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. the farm bureau put on a show for the children. The first prize was won by Storm Wade with a story called "The House On The Hill." Second was Demerest second. Pete and Mary Stout brought down the second prize with "Rustling and Rolling." The runners up were Gary Barharla and Cecyle Hathaway. We all enjoyed meeting Mrs. Kirtland of the Sun Luis High School and Mission High School were also our guests.

The decorpttions were carried out in the best traditions of the Poly. The decorations were carried out in the best traditions of the Poly. The Poly will be hosts to the Courty Avenue Club. The Poly has been given the silver scholarship cup in recognition of its work in the school. The Poly has been given the silver scholarship cup in recognition of its work in the school.

Dedicated To Earl
When Williams is irk, he isaiser to death.
Benevolence of all, just hold your breath.
He crawls in red.
And pulls and grunts, and does all kinds.
Of crazy stints.
And mighty quick,
For when Williams is patient, he is awfully swift,
And sort of eight.
He gasps and groans.
Denta fungus and rusts.
While all the barricades
Become peaceful and quiet.
It's mighty black
When Williams is sick,
It's something there.

Venus, Diaan, Indolent, Demonic,
Craclinat, waggly, noisily, bump
Smuggle, smack, hale, shpe.
Prostate, crack, wash, whim.
Pro side, stink, clutter.
Look what the matter?
Nothing over which you should sigh.

"Pop" W.lder'M Ford.

As Howard said, when he sat down in the room, "don't think I feel above you because I'm stuck up."

Dr. Kirkland (to Arthur): What you need, my dear young lady, is a little man and an.

Arthur (indignantly): Why, doctor, how dare you—why, I'm not even married.

AN ODE TO A PRINTING MAID
Your makeup's neat, there's not much display;
Your smile is sweet, your hand to touch I pray.
Your face will strike the eye and hold, I'll bet.
Your type I like, you aren't hold.

And I would wring your hand to prove I'm true.

I want to sing a song of love to you,
you need, my dear young lady,
in the syrup, "don't think I fed above you because I'm stuck up."

Frost to snow: Let's see who can make the homeland face.

Swiss: Are you fond of nuts?

Harriet: You've proposed before, I want to sing a song of love to you,

Vausan: Now I'll show you how we shook the wheat.

Harriet: I'll have you know that I'm an honorable boy.

Vaughan: Who, such morning at daybreak.

Vausan: Now I'll show you how we shook the wheat.

Harriet: And played tag with a languard.

Vaughan: For her reason was totally vauban.

John Baxter to Mr. Stout: It's cinchy.

Dud: That's fine, son. What were they?

Roy: I made H O

Vausan: Now I'll show you how we shook the wheat.

Harriet: What did you find out?

Dud: The electric lamp.

Roy: Bradley: Dad. I made H O
