GLEN-MONT READY FOR TEST FLIGHT

First Student-Built Monoplane To Take-Off Today or Tomorrow

Polytechnic Aero Students Eager to Try Craft Christened Last Saturday by "Campus Mother."

What is believed to be the first monoplane in the United States built by students is now ready for flight. The "Glen-Mont," Polytechnic's first student-built monoplane, was to take off Saturday afternoon at Poly Field if good weather permits. The flight its first, and will probably be given on Poly's fields or at the dance given by the Aero Club at the Winter Garden the same evening.

Dual controls of the latest type will hold the ship on an even course with- out turning or diving, and the controls are adjusted so that experienced pilots can operate it as well as unskilled airmen. It is planned to take off from Poly field, and fly directly to San Luis Obispo, a distance of about 90 miles. The plane is built at the expense of the Polytechnic Aero Club, which has raised money by various means, including a "dime fling".

The plane was built in the garage by students, and is a type of monoplane built by students at Cal Poly, Caltech, and the University of Michigan, and others. It is of the "biped" class, with two sets of controls, each having a variable pitch propeller.
LETS STAND BY OUR WORDS

How much will you sell your reputation, your honor and your self-respect to save a few dollars? Is the man who will do any very think about others consider it value less value. You ask, "How's that?" When you give your word to do a certain thing and fall down on your word and promise, aren't you being true to your honor and reputation the one thing a man has to fight his battles with? If you do not do the little things, how can the classman and campus say heard the words, "He's a fellow here at Poly who can be relied on and trusted, then keep on with it." Yes, by all means trust them—once. Try them out, and if they are after your word and promise, then throw them out. But when you lend your friend money and he is your enemy. "Loan your friend money and he is your enemy" is a much better guide in the way of making a true friend than any other "Barrack Breezes"—An Observer.

Let's have more music! The Poly's last Saturday night concert was a great success. The bands and orchestra combined in putting on a good program. The finales were sung by the Barbers and some selections by the band. The roosters of the three thousand chickens in the army's poultry yards were given a chance to crow also. There wasn't a soul out on the campus who didn't want to hear the Poly's music. The program was full of patriotic songs, and a good deal of entertainment. The students were all very much interested in the concert, and many of them stayed up late to hear it. The Poly's music is becoming very popular, and we hope it will continue to be so.

AUGUST

Gold and baseball are now in full swing, and the team is working hard and coming along fine. The Poly's are the best team in the country. We have the only baseball team that can handle the other fellows. Our boys are the best in the country. They have quite a few sure hits, and are ready to present them to the world.

DOOMSDAY

The night before the last day of the senior year, it was warm and pleasant. The streets and houses were decorated with lights, and the whole town was in high spirits. The Poly's had a dance in the gym, and the band played music. Everyone was in a good mood, and the night was a great success.

DORM DORMIN

The Poly's dormitory is one of the best in the country. It is well equipped with all the latest appliances, and the students are very happy in it. The Poly's dormitory is a well-organized and efficient place, and the students are well taken care of.

WANTED: A FULL HOUSE

WERE you out to your last class meeting? Well, why weren't you? If you weren't, And, for good, if you were. You were showing the "old spirit." This idea of trying to hold a class meeting and having nobody show up is getting rather monotonous to those few who do have some sense and loyalty enough to stand by their officers and be present at a class meeting.

A fine bunch of fellow citizens you'll make if you even pretend to take 20 of your precious minutes to attend a meeting, and yet it is you who don't attend the meetings who stand up and holler until you think your jaws would break.

A real meeting can be held with only five or six there. How do you expect your class to take its place among the leaders if you don't back it up? Even when the Sophomores were trying to pull over a dance and thus score a point for their side, you Sophomores wouldn't show up to help, but left it all to the few, and yet you cry, "How can we win, when we are so weak?" It is because you have not only Sophomores, but Freshmen, Juniors and Seniors as well.

When a class is in the right, and good, there has been more than one meeting dismissed for lack of a quorum. This is a matter of some concern, half a dozen in some cases.

After this let's all turn out to our class meetings. They don't come often and it is the only way of keeping up on what's doing in your class. It is right that you should be there, in the first place. There might be some one you least expect, Turn out next time and see just who are your class-mates.

THE POLYGRAM

Poly Tracksters Show Promise—Elimination Tournament Arranged

The Poly Track Club is ready to go into a real battle with the great intercollegiate track meet that has been announced for this week. A tent meet was held Monday afternoon, when 18 men signed up for the meet. For the "Tank" Armstrong reluctantly decided not to go. The meet will be held on the Poly grounds in May. Coach Ager announced the following that he hopes every Poly man will show up for the first elimination meet of the year. Two meets will be run, one in the south and one in the north, and the winners of each will go on to the final elimination meet.

This will be the first time that Poly has ever been represented on the course by an organized team. There is no reason why the school should not have honors as one of her top teams. We are growing every year, and when we get all the boys in on the track we will put up with a very good team. The Poly men are also on a new phase of life. All Poly men, either interested or not interested, should get out and turn over and practice constantly.
