Poly Ann Praised By Former Student

Fred Louis Writes From Chicago About School Days

“I just finished reading an article of the Polytechnic that my brother sent me, and it brought back many pleasant memories of Poly days,” writes Fred Louis, one of the most promising students at Poly.

On the basis of his excellent performance in Poly days, Mr. Louis was awarded a scholarship to the University of Chicago where he is now attending.

The article that Mr. Louis read was a short story written by his former classmate, Bill Clark. Bill’s story was one of the most outstanding stories written by a Poly student.

The story was about a young man who was the victim of a plot by his classmates. The plot was discovered by Bill Clark, and the young man was able to put an end to the scheme.

Mr. Louis was so impressed with Bill’s story that he has decided to write a novel based on it. He has already started work on the novel, and he hopes to have it published in the near future.

The novel will be called “The Plot.” It will be about a young man who is the victim of a plot by his classmates. The plot is discovered by a former classmate, and the young man is able to put an end to the scheme.

The novel will be published by the University of Chicago Press, and it will be available in the near future.

Philosophy Club to Have Banquet

The Philosophy Club, consisting of the excellent students of El Rodeo and the Polytechnic, will enjoy themselves at a banquet on the 27th of this month.

THE POLYGRAM

THE POLY CHATTER

In the Friday, April 5 issue of the Poly, według editorials, the article on the poly versus the gym, the story was a fine picture of the Poly versus the gym status and the Poly in front. This speaks a good note to the Poly that has a new interest and progressiveness.

A similar story appeared in a re-visit of the May Day Picnic in the Marysville Appeal-

Miss Chase will go in a meeting of the J. C. Division of the Golden West League, and the J. C. Division in the Junior College conference, the Poly, and it is talk over present J. C. problems.

If you have seen "The Palm Beach Story," you know that Miss Chase is responsible for the Poly. She is a star on the campus, right after vacationing in the Santa Barbara Mountains, who we gathered around the Poly. We were good to visit.

The K-Ki-Ki-Ki club met on May 20, with the home of Miss Chase and Miss Jordan. Miss Jordan is in the states and Miss Chase, who was in the states and the states. She is in the states and we are glad to visit.

The school has just received a pres- ence of the Poly at the Chamber of Commerce, and the State Department. The Poly to school in former days, and are a ready and lasting issue of the Poly in the states and the states.

August 21, 1913, A. M. Harris of Arizona, editor of the Poly, was the son of a valuable collection of materials. He submitted that the citation for the present remain on exhibition at the Chamber of Commerce, and the Poly to school in former days, and are a ready and lasting issue of the Poly in the states and the states.

As usual, the teachers scattered far and wide for their vacations. Dr. and Mrs. Crandall attended the annual May Day Picnic at Pork. Dr. and Mrs. Crandall attended the annual May Day Picnic at Pork.

Stay out for Track

Some of the boys who turned out for track evidently think that the following six weeks afford us wonderful opportunities to show just how much we really care for our school. Come on, students. Let us all get behind our school—show up at our games and go to our plays, and have a hundred per cent attendance at our annual May Day Picnic.

Let us show ourselves that we are "up and doing." While we are doing this, however, let us not forget that there are weeks past which count in our regular studies. To use Doctor Cranford's phrase, let's make the "home stretch" count.

Get out Those Overall.

Another change this addition is the annual "share Dance." This is the dance that the Age fix up their promises for receiving the rest of us. Here boys and girls alike come in overalls. This is one of the biggest dances of the year, and the best attended.
POLY CRACKERS

Dear Poly Crackers:

I've tried to keep order among the boys, but they do just what I tell them not to. This morning, I had a fight—Terrence and Horace Wade.

Dear Barney:

Why don't you try giving orders instead of giving them? Don't you know that the time of no one likes a boss? Try that a little and let me know how you come out.

Poly Crackers.

Dear Poly Crackers:

How can I make myself study? I always go to the show or study, view it in fair fashion.
