Explains Methods of Study

In the City.
Mr. Williams writes a letter from Earl Williams, who was promoted to president of one of the larger sections of the Civil Service.
Mr. Williams' letter was written during the quiet hour in the library, the place where few students dare to go when they have nothing to do.

The first circular edition, those of the Polygram, was put out on Monday.
Mr. Williams, who is in charge of the Polygram, is a recognized authority on the subject of newspaper work.

The Polygram is a quarterly publication of the California Polytechnic, and is published by the students of the school.

Mr. Williams is a former editor of the San Francisco Call, and is now associated with the San Francisco Chronicle.

He is also a member of the staff of the San Francisco Chronicle, and is a recognized authority on the subject of newspaper work.

Mr. Williams writes:

"I have been working on a model Polygram, and am now ready to begin the publication in earnest."
Some of our graduates seem to be rather shy. We wish you all the best of luck and hope that you are always welcome. We hope that you will come back to see us.

I honestly know a person who can chew at one and one-half and eat at twice that speed. Two, two pieces, the size of a half.

Demonstrations have been interesting. One boy from El Dorado has successfully sold a day that he refused a Polygram until he got his money's worth. Those fellas should have five and twenty before that.

Our next meeting will be held at our usual meeting place, 77 Main St., on Wednesday, March 25th.

Since the last Polygram was published, our new members have been introduced to the club. We have also held a successful meeting for the new officers and elected a new executive board.

The next meeting will be held on March 25th at 77 Main St.

The Dorm Club elected new officers for this year, and in addition to their regular activities, they have been working on projects for next year's stock show.

On Sunday, September 23, two of the members of the Creamery Wildcats went to the warehouse for the stock show.

The Wildcats are soon to have an addition to their happy family. The first floor has been reserved for the laundry while the other half is going to be used for any possible purpose.

The Wildcats have been ordered to make the best time in their class.

The Creamery Wildcats have been put on the line soon in order to give the students a chance to get tired of the piano.

The school for the power plant has been opened, and the students are working on the school's electric drives.

Mr. McFarland, last year's boy chef and sheep man, and this year's star of the Polygram, has returned to the campus the other day.

The mail is so heavy this year that it is hard to believe that on September 25, 1928, we were holding a contest on us to whether Alice Warren could put down for treasurer. Short story and "Head Walter" Lindsay were put down for secretary and treasurer.

There is a contest on us to whether A1 Cline could pass his exam in economics. Dear Miss Cravens:

You don't know how close we were to getting a new member into the Creamery. We have another one to add to our happy family.

I'm much worried over Billy and I'm not sure why.

THE PUBLICATIONS DEPARTMENT

At the recent Freshman Reception, the more important campus organizations were called on to explain to the new faculty members and students their activities and plans for the year. They were all interested in what we fellows are doing, so LET'S GET IN AND WIN FOR POLY.

The publications department is made up chiefly of two organizations, the Galley Slaves and the Press Club. The Press Club has as its members all persons who are in the Journalism and Printing courses. The Galley Slaves is an organization composed of faculty members who will fight to the last ditch to return home victorious.

The team winning tomorrow is the one that has the best student-body support. Poly-6 will bring a group of rooters along with the team. But how about us? Will we come out and cheer for our men, thus letting the team have the best possible show on the field with them in spirit if not in body? Or will we go our several ways during the weekend, and forget the boys who are fighting to hold up the Polytechnic athletic honors?

The Galley Slaves might be called the "power behind the throne." They print the Polygram regularly every two weeks and occasionally an extra edition. Other publications are the Polygram, the Nut-o-Gram, and the school journal, El Rodeo. All office forms are made in the Print Shop by the Galley Slaves. Among these are the School Catalog, the Aeronautics, Agricultural, and various other student publications, and to provide social functions for the press groups on the campus, and to instigate the annual Press Club trip.

The Galley Slaves have had a lot of good fun lately. They have been working on new projects for next year's stock show. The Wildcats have been working on new projects for next year's stock show. YEAR OF PEACE, 1928-1929

Further evidence of the good feeling between Poly and the local High School is shown by the fact that a couple of Walter Wilson to the office of yll-leader. Wait was a High School boy and served as yll-leader at his school. That he knew his stuff is shown by the fact that he was put on the polytechnic staff as official Poly cheerer. It is hoped that the spirit of good feeling between the two schools will continue to exist between Polytechnic and the High School; that there will be no more incidents of this kind in the past.

Walter Wilson is the medium that can most fully seal the "era of good feeling" between the two schools. He has, according to the "Back of the Book," been a student and teacher at Poly can know our side of it, and will undoubtedly cement the friendship between the two schools.
A faculty student who spent her vacation in the mountains was standing outside her school in the snow, shivering and contaminated by a severe thunderstorm. After a flash of lightning she looked up and exclaimed, "Maami, Maami, I just saw the sun cut open and swing out.

When Russell Carter was young, everyone knew the disabled child of the family to sit at a separate table, and his meal alone for days. Russell had been very disabled all day. He was sitting at a table and eating some meat. His father had gone for the meat of the family, and the boy was looking at him and said, 'I see you have a meal with us, but let us see what have you to eat.'
