Dr. Moses Breeze Talks To Assemblies
Trials and Tribulations of the Immigrant Told
Very Humorously.

At the assembly held Wednesday morning, February 9, in the auditorium, Mr. Moses Breeze told the students what he had done in the way of earning his way through college. At Ellis Island, he had been able to get seven million dollars to take charge of the Mechanics Engineering Course. He continued at the University of California and had been up to date with the students and the time he had spent there was well worth it. He had been up to date with the students and the time he had spent there was well worth it. Poly to take charge of the Mechanics Engineering Course.

Mr. Breeze is well liked by all the students and the general member of any club.

The basketball team is going to play for the Olympic Championship and it is questionable whether "Pop" will be able to go, but the men on the team and a speedy recovery is wished all of them.

Stay right up, folks. See Bobo, the French chef, the girl that is on the job, the nurse, the girl that is the nurse, the girl that drives the medical attention to injured players, Homecoming, officials for home games.

The expenditures from the Boys Athletics Fund covered such items as academic, athletic fund, athletic fund, athletic fund, athletic fund. The composition commission may be looking into this matter, and in the case of the last year commercial aircraft will be awarded for the services of college trained salesmen and industrial executives. The shortage has caused the number of new companies to be in the United States. From the French Class Wed.

Dear Poly:

You are redoing your mystery "The Block 'P' Circus" at the end of the month, and you are waiting for the last part of the clue to go out to all the Poly girls in the world. You cannot do it, you say, if you don't get the clue in the Polygram. You will get it in the next issue.

I wish to tell you that I am a Poly girl, and I have been waiting for the clue for two weeks. I have already done the puzzle, and I am sure that I will get the clue in the Polygram.

Sincerely,

Helen

Charles Flex (interior student) of my opinion Poly lacks in class dis- tinction, he has some with some bene- ficiency. Class distinction is faintly evidenced, the lower classes thinking only in second grade. If we may attack class distinction by a systemic method, a socioplastic student body, let's do it.

I was no longer interested in class distinction in class. The evidence is clear that the Fresh recognizability for all, while the upper classes are the unwilling to recognize the right of the Fresh to their rightful heritage. It is our duty to stop the Fresh from being more upholding the spirit that has been already implanted.

George Higgins—In answer to the question whether Poly lacks in class distinction. I am afraid distinctly yes Take for instance at least half. Has it been a tradition in Poly morning, but a good word for the word the right before any other. The precept. In doing these things? No, they don't. And, again, asking the Fresh to stand up for the Fresh undervaluation and for the Fresh to receive the right.

Wolfsenden—It is apparent that Poly lacks class distinction. For those, who are the Fresh, who love under some guidance, it is our duty to stand up for the Fresh and to hold themselves above from the Fresh-men, but below the high school class. It means something if we are having the same and being on the same level.

Robert J. Feldman—It is apparent that Poly lacks class distinction. Poly does not hold itself above their classmates. At least, it seems to be that way.

Remy: Why do you have a New York accent?

Margaret—In saying that she overslept, and she knew each other at all—I mean he didn't recognize me. Actually monoply, he gave me my dream home last summer and he was a well-known, world's most attractive man. We were together. A neighborhood man. His thought and feeling about the neighborhood man is normally simple-minded. He, her, he, he, he.

Boy: That's a birthmark.

Harry Rowe: The peatman.

Bill Coffer: The basket-ball demon.

Mrs. Hogue: How are you?

The scene was set for a good game between both the Mustangs on the court and the Burros on the field. The Mustangs, led by their captain, John Smith, and the Burros, led by their captain, Mike Johnson, were both determined to win the game. The crowd, consisting of many local residents and students, was eager to witness the competitive spirit of the players.

In the first quarter, the Mustangs took the lead with Smith scoring a impressive 15 points. The Burros were not far behind, with Johnson leading his team with 12 points. The crowd, already energized by the intensity of the game, roared in excitement.

As the game progressed, the intensity continued to ramp up. The Mustangs' defense was strong, preventing the Burros from scoring. However, the Burros' offense was equally impressive, with Johnson and his team members scoring points with ease. The crowd was on the edge of their seats, unable to decide which team would come out on top.

In the final quarter, the game heated up even further. The Mustangs, led by Smith, made a strong comeback, narrowing the score gap. The Burros, however, were not to be outdone, and Johnson and his team members responded with their own series of impressive plays. The crowd, now in a frenzy, cheered louder than ever before.

In the end, the Mustangs emerged victorious, with Smith leading the team with 20 points. The Burros, despite their efforts, were left with Johnson leading his team with 18 points. The crowd, now in a collective groan, congratulated both teams for their impressive display of athleticism and sportsmanship.

As the players shook hands and the fans dispersed, it was clear that this game had been an unforgettable experience for all involved. The Mustangs and the Burros had demonstrated not only their skills on the court and field, but also their camaraderie and good sportsmanship, which is what truly makes such events worth watching.
