PROFESSOR JAY DEVORE WINS MCGUFFEY LONGEVITY AWARD

Jay Devore was recently chosen by the Text and Academic Authors Association (TAA) to receive their 2009 McGuffey Longevity Award for his book "Probability and Statistics for Engineering and the Sciences" (7th ed). The book has been in print since 1982, and Devore will begin work on a revision for an eighth edition. The book has been used at hundreds of colleges and universities across the country and around the world and has been translated into Spanish and Chinese.

NOMINATIONS UNDERWAY FOR OUTSTANDING FACULTY ADVISOR AWARD

The Outstanding Faculty Advisor Award recognizes a faculty member who has had a positive influence on students through academic advising. The award recipient will receive a $1,200 cash stipend, be recognized at Fall Conference, and have his/her picture and award citation posted in Kennedy Library. One faculty member is recognized annually. Note that the nomination should describe the nominee's academic advising services, activities and interactions as distinct from the nominee's teaching responsibilities, and should include any special activities that relate to student development.

Faculty, staff and current students are eligible to nominate faculty for this award. At least one letter must come from a current student. No self-nominations will be recognized. Nomination information and the nomination form can be found at http://advising.calpoly.edu/council/award/. The deadline for all submissions is May 5.

VANPOOL OPENINGS FOR LOS OSOS AND MORRO BAY

Vanpool openings are now available for the Los Osos/Morro Bay van, which also serves Cambria and Cayucos riders. With gas prices creeping up, now is the time to give vanpooling a try. Contact Commuter and Access Services at ext. 6-6680 or srains@calpoly.edu.

ZIMBRA CALENDAR OPEN FORUM APRIL 3; TRAINING BEGINS APRIL 14

Information Technology Services will host an open forum Friday, April 3, 9 to 10:30 a.m. in Phillips Hall in the Performing Arts Center. Individual and managed (designate) calendar use will be demonstrated in the Zimbra Web client. A question-and-answer session will follow the presentation. The Zimbra Calendar will be implemented during the weekend of April 18-19. E-mail service will not be affected.

Reservations are now being accepted for calendar training, which begins April 14. The training schedule and sign-up information are available at http://email.calpoly.edu/zcalendar.html, along with video tutorials, user guides and other information. For more information, contact Ellen Stier at ext. 6-5525 or estier@calpoly.edu.

ONLINE COURSE DELIVERY IS TOPIC OF APRIL 6 TALK

WOMEN'S SPORTS, TITLE IX TOPIC OF APRIL 7 LECTURE

The Cal Poly Women's and Gender Studies lecture series at the San Luis Obispo Public Library Continues Tuesday, April 7. "Title IX: History, Impact, and Implications for Girls and Women in Sport" is the topic of the fourth lecture by Kinesiology Professor Camille O'Bryant. The event is free and open to the public and begins at 6 p.m. at the library, at the corner of Palm and Osos streets in San Luis Obispo. Visit http://www.cla.calpoly.edu/wgs/pub_lib.html for more information.

SCIENCE CAFE PRESENTS NANOCAFE APRIL 8

Just how small is "nano" anyhow, and why should you care? Is nanotechnology here yet? Could you be using nano products right now without even knowing it? Join Cal Poly faculty Kathy Chen (Materials Engineering) and Jane Lehr (Women's and Gender Studies and Ethnic Studies) and special guest Frank Kusiak for a Science Café Wednesday, April 8, 3:30-4:30 pm in the Kennedy Library second floor Learning Commons Café. The Science Café is free and open to the public.

Kusiak is an informal science educator and nanotech outreach specialist at Berkeley's Lawrence Hall of Science. His background is in instructional design and education via computer gaming and robotics. Kusiak specializes in explaining emerging technologies to a diverse museum-going public. For more information, visit the Science Café Blog at http://sciencecafe-calpoly.blogspot.com/ or
