The Polyphile Club Has Active Plans

The students of the electrical department have organized a club to be known as the Polyphile Club. The name is taken from that section of electrical theory dealing with more than one alternating current. After the beginner has learned about single phases, two phases, and three phases, he is ready to study the possibilities of putting any number of phases or polyphases to work. Also since the first section of the same polyphile has a peculiar meaning to our students, the suggestion of the name for the club was enthusiastically received and led to its adoption.

The club meets on an alternate Friday evening in the Electrical Engineering building, Gilbert Jones, vice president; Joe Gaylord, treasurer; and Emily Black, secretary-treasurer. Programs will be arranged by the committee led by Terry Crandall.

Arrangements have already been made to have two noted lecturers from the near future. It is hoped that the year's inspection trips may be made.

Spirit of Progress

If we could look back twenty years to the time when the oldest of the three Homecoming classes was graduating, we would not find Poly not what it is today, but a school not yet ten years old. There would not be the comforts of dormitories. A Junior College of Poly would not have shown the benefits of modern schools.

At last Mr. Cunningham has come to the realization that Poly cannot save the society.

He had heard of the tragedy which occurred last week and he did not cross the road to help.

In the end, however, he decided to help.

He was surprised to find that the young lady was still alive.
