The California Polytechnic is extending its program in secondary agriculture to carry on a commercially productive course to meet high school requirements. Dr. and Mrs. Crandall are inviting you to come in and meet new members of the Polygram Staff, which have been added to the paper this year. This is the first issue of the Polygram, and we welcome all our readers, past and present. The Polygram is published on a weekly basis, and we encourage you to read it and share your thoughts with us. We strive to provide a comprehensive source of news and information for our readers, and we hope that you will enjoy reading it as much as we enjoy creating it. Thank you for your support, and we look forward to seeing you soon!

GALLOPING DOMINOS

"Yes, that's what I meant," said the lady with the collection of dolls today, dear!"

"But this is the fourth Sunday you've said I have on the collection, dear!"

"I know, but that other kid's lost his doll," answered the lady.

FROSTY STUFF

It's rather wild through the halls. His hair was perfectly straight. When I was a child, I think his glasses were down. But, she murmured, "There aren't any figures in the air. You're out of course, I think them all"

COOL RECESSION

"Yes, he's more pleasanest of a mud shower before breakfast!" a writer asked. "The sky is clear, I buy you a good round meal.

Results of Bean Guessing Contest

At the close of the party, the winners of the bean contest, were announced. Martin Bakerman, with a guess of 52,000 beans, won a dollar medal for his efforts. William Frederick, second place, won a copy of the new book on beans. This book was written by Professor Reginald, winner of fourth place. From it, we are assuming that the number of beans on the plant is very precise.

The students, on the whole, were rather well pleased.

"The best guess by a teacher was that the bean medal was won by Mr. Martinman. He is the most popular teacher in the school." said one student.

It was pointed out by a teacher that the bee medal was won by Mr. Agnus. The students were inclined to believe that the bee medal was won by Mr. Agnus. This was followed by Mr. Agnus.

Although the coaches are generally well-known on our campus little has been said about the high lights of their careers. One man who has lifted the average of his team to a new level of success is Mr. McCarty, who has been coach at Wolalla High School, and has recently been hired by the University of Montana. He is a native of Montana, where he was born and raised.

Mr. McCarty has been a successful football coach for many years, and his team has been consistently one of the best in the state. His team has won numerous state championships, and he has been named coach of the year several times. He has also been successful in other sports, including basketball and track.

Mr. McCarty is well-known for his ability to motivate his players, and his team has shown a strong spirit of teamwork and dedication. He is also known for his knowledge of the game, and his team has been consistently competitive in all of their games.
