WELDING CLASS GOES INTO HUDDLE

Students in the welding class are carrying on some brisk welding at present. They are working on a variety of projects, including some large items that require much skill and precision. The class is focused on mastering the techniques needed for the profession, with an emphasis on safety and quality craftsmanship. The welding students are working under the guidance of their instructor, who provides regular feedback and ensures that everyone is following proper procedures. The class is progressing well, with many students showing strong aptitude and interest in the field. The welding department is well-equipped with the latest tools and facilities, which help in providing a realistic learning environment. The welders are expected to complete their projects within the specified time frame, and they are already making good progress on their assignments.
EDITIORIAL

ARMISTICE DAY

Thirteen years have passed since the signing of the Armistice. On November 11, 1918, the whole world rejoiced over the end of the war. However, we have studied the history of this war or heard the war veterans speak of the horrible bloodshed which they witnessed or participated in.

On November 11, of this year the whole world will bow in reverence for the martyrs who now lie at rest in Flanders Fields. We will remember too, on this day, those who have died since the closing of the war. We can be beautified? It is certain that if the dormitory club would lend us a few dollars we could plant shrubs or greenery about the building. Let us hope the condition of the grounds about the dorms will be improved.

* * *

RAZZINO OUR OPPONENTS

How can we beautify our campus? We have studied the history of this war or heard the war veterans speak of the horrible bloodshed which they witnessed or participated in.

On November 11, of this year the whole world will bow in reverence for the martyrs who now lie at rest in Flanders Fields. We will remember too, on this day, those who have died since the closing of the war. We can be beautified? It is certain that if the dormitory club would lend us a few dollars we could plant shrubs or greenery about the building. Let us hope the condition of the grounds about the dorms will be improved.

* * *

POLY CHATTER

News and Notes Furnished by Reporters of the Various Organizations

Heron Hall Items

Alumni of the class of old man, golfer, radio star, etc. The alumni pay the highest prices.

Decul Hall Notes

Micheal La, who has been confirmed several times, is in the hospital. He has a broken leg. He was carried through in five stages.

Decul invites all "broomdealers" in the hall to attend services. Mr. Johnson, newly appointed custodian of Inter-Campus House, has been called to study Johnson's techniques.

Elie Rodeo is COOPERATION.

Elie Rodeo is the best place to speak of the horrible bloodshed which we witnessed or participated in. On November 11, of this year the whole world will bow in reverence for the martyrs who now lie at rest in Flanders Fields. We will remember too, on this day, those who have died since the closing of the war. We can be beautified? It is certain that if the dormitory club would lend us a few dollars we could plant shrubs or greenery about the building. Let us hope the condition of the grounds about the dorms will be improved.

* * *

POLY GRAM

Editorial Writers

Bill Duownnet, R. Mcilmno, P. Wait, L. Mcilrnn, C. Beaulieu, E. Lingecheld, Humor

They were the cream of the country. Why should they not receive the honors they deserve? It is certain that if the dormitory club would lend us a few dollars we could plant shrubs or greenery about the building. Let us hope the condition of the grounds about the dorms will be improved.

* * *

Elie Rodeo is the best place to speak of the horrible bloodshed which we witnessed or participated in. On November 11, of this year the whole world will bow in reverence for the martyrs who now lie at rest in Flanders Fields. We will remember too, on this day, those who have died since the closing of the war. We can be beautified? It is certain that if the dormitory club would lend us a few dollars we could plant shrubs or greenery about the building. Let us hope the condition of the grounds about the dorms will be improved.

* * *

Nevertheless, the KEYNOTE to the success of the publication of Exchange is cooperation.
FINISH OF FREEDOM "There are many ways of living life, but the worst is the one where life has the worst way of living you." —Henry David Thoreau

Wait at a Railway Crossing
If you don't stop, look, or stop for the train, you may make the car look good as new. If you have your eye on the track, and the train is coming, you won't find any extra parts for Joe.

HUGER AND BETTER with the pigeons must be as big three men can stand on one cap. American: That's a lot. Over in Russia the vegetables are so big, twenty cops can stand on one beat.

Geek: Can you cut me off tomorrow morning, sir? My wife wants me to go fishing, but the manager instructs me not to be out after seven o'clock. Geek: I wish you could come and see me sometime. I'd like to show you how I was shot.

Employer: Certainly not! We are busy.

Geek: Then you mustn't speak to me very much, sir. Until I've told you why I was shot. Employer: Do you go to your lodge every night last night? Geek: No, no. We have, however, according to Grand Invincible Supreme Uncongruously, there is no need to give up that wife.

Instrumental proprietor: Listen, my good sir; I want you to join me. Gentleman: I beg your pardon, sir. I'm a retired baseball umpire.

"How do you like those Chinese vegetables in your soup? I know they are made in China, but I'm sure we can't eat them all at once with them. —Grinnell, the Chinese蔬菜 are so big, it is difficult to eat them."

"Teacher," wrote an indignant student to his teacher, "You are a lousy teacher and a lousy human. He is a delicate child and a delicate human, too. So, we must excuse some one except in self-defense."

Me: I'm an aeronaut up in Texas.

Mrs. Smith: Oh, I don't want to hear any of your nonsense. Me: I'm old enough that I can tell you the way I like it.

"Are you a sanguine?" cried a young man into my glass of beer. "I am not a sanguine," I answered.

"Tell: When a woman becomes less, she is less a woman; when a man takes his time, he is only man.

Blessings: Name of the one who is beloved.

Unemployed: Yes, you, teacher. It is the easy way.

"Are you a sanguine?" cried a young man into my glass of beer. "I am not a sanguine," I answered.

"Tell: When a woman becomes less, she is less a woman; when a man takes his time, he is only man.

Blessings: Name of the one who is beloved.

"Are you a sanguine?" cried a young man into my glass of beer. "I am not a sanguine," I answered.

"Tell: When a woman becomes less, she is less a woman; when a man takes his time, he is only man.

Blessings: Name of the one who is beloved.

"Are you a sanguine?" cried a young man into my glass of beer. "I am not a sanguine," I answered.

"Tell: When a woman becomes less, she is less a woman; when a man takes his time, he is only man.

Blessings: Name of the one who is beloved.

"Are you a sanguine?" cried a young man into my glass of beer. "I am not a sanguine," I answered.

"Tell: When a woman becomes less, she is less a woman; when a man takes his time, he is only man.

Blessings: Name of the one who is beloved.

"Are you a sanguine?" cried a young man into my glass of beer. "I am not a sanguine," I answered.

"Tell: When a woman becomes less, she is less a woman; when a man takes his time, he is only man.

Blessings: Name of the one who is beloved.

"Are you a sanguine?" cried a young man into my glass of beer. "I am not a sanguine," I answered.

"Tell: When a woman becomes less, she is less a woman; when a man takes his time, he is only man.

Blessings: Name of the one who is beloved.

"Are you a sanguine?" cried a young man into my glass of beer. "I am not a sanguine," I answered.

"Tell: When a woman becomes less, she is less a woman; when a man takes his time, he is only man.

Blessings: Name of the one who is beloved.

"Are you a sanguine?" cried a young man into my glass of beer. "I am not a sanguine," I answered.

"Tell: When a woman becomes less, she is less a woman; when a man takes his time, he is only man.

Blessings: Name of the one who is beloved.
Poly To Meet Cougars in Annual Game Tonight

Coach Agnew's fighting junior college football team will have one more chance to compete with the upperclassmen of the school tonight, September 24, when Poly will be practicing their skills for the Taft game.

The Poly-Montana game, which was postponed last week because of inclement weather, will be played at noon at Mantle Field.

Four weeks ago, Poly was favored to win over the Mustangs, but this week the Mustangs are favored to win.

Special Assembly of Poly-Y for Christmas Day

The California Polytechnic will observe Armistice Day by a special assembly in the auditorium on November 11, at which time a roll of honor will be read, remembering those who have served in the Armed Forces.

After the assembly, the entire cast of Poly-Y will entertain the students and faculty members with songs and other activities.

Ag Notes

The ornamental fence beside the Poly-Y garage was erected for the protection of the fence. It is an expression of the desire of the student body to help keep the property clean and neat.

Crossett Shoes

871 Monterey Street

Macfarlane Brothers Entertain With Comedy

Junior academic club members were tickled with a laugh as they watched "Limeries and Tongues" at the regular meeting of the group held in the auditorium on November 11. Arthur Macfarlane, who took the riffs of Buster Keaton, was accompanied by Chuck Cusick, who also entertained the audience.

The Macfarlane brothers proved themselves remarkably capable in presenting a two-man show.

Poly-Y Entertains With First Skating Party

Poly-Y held its first skating party this week. The group entertained those who were present with music, singing, and dancing. The party was held in the auditorium on October 23. The members invited their friends to attend so that the Poly-Y could have a successful skating party.

The Poly-Y members were able to use up the supplies on hand and also invited guests to bring skates and enjoy the skating party.

Flashers & Short Circuits

Several of the graduates of recent years are still working and from their talk we learn that Poly-Y will not have them. They have not been able to find a job in their field of work. In fact, they compare most favorably with others who have graduated from other colleges. They have been let out, owing to cancellations of contracts for their graduates because of difficulties in securing employment. The Poly-Y members have been prescribed by the new organization and a conference was held to discuss the matter.

Several of the recent graduates are attending higher institutions of learning and are working at various jobs. They can be of great comfort to Poly-Y members who are trying to find a job in their field of work.

Macfarlane Brothers

The Macfarlane brothers were tickled with a laugh as they watched "Limeries and Tongues" at the regular meeting of the group held in the auditorium on November 11. Arthur Macfarlane, who took the riffs of Buster Keaton, was accompanied by Chuck Cusick, who also entertained the audience.

The Macfarlane brothers proved themselves remarkably capable in presenting a two-man show.

Crossett Shoes

871 Monterey Street

Macfarlane Brothers Entertain With Comedy

Junior academic club members were tickled with a laugh as they watched "Limeries and Tongues" at the regular meeting of the group held in the auditorium on November 11. Arthur Macfarlane, who took the riffs of Buster Keaton, was accompanied by Chuck Cusick, who also entertained the audience.

The Macfarlane brothers proved themselves remarkably capable in presenting a two-man show.