THE POLYGRAM

Executive Department, State of California

PROCLAMATION

To the people of the State of California:

A definite indication of an advancing civilization is a growing tendency to revere and appreciate the noble sentiments of people toward each other and to all lower forms of life.

The nation-wide "Be Kind to Animals Day" from May 17 to May 23, 1952, therefore offers to the American people an opportunity to again pay tribute to recognize the need for the furtherance of a deeper and more profound human attitude in the interest of all forms of life.

Kindness to animals is something which should appeal to all classes of society, old and young. In being taught the principles of humanity, the child is learning a wholesome regard for the rights of others, of humaneness, the child is learning a lesson that will bring forth in him later years a better citizen with a wholesome regard for the rights of others.

As Governor of California, I urge all schools in the state, and all representatives of the different organizations, to observe this period from May 17 to May 23 and to exemplify this spirit of friendship each day throughout the year in a more kindly and human manner.

The spirit is running high. Everyone is asking: "Are we going to win the next game of Poly?" Walt Whittlar has made a declaration, "The real Poly student carries with it the idea of larger Friendliness for one's fellowmen."

As Governor of California, I urge all schools in the state, and all representatives of the different organizations, to observe this period from May 17 to May 23 and to exemplify this spirit of friendship each day throughout the year in a more kindly and human manner.

As Governor of California, I urge all schools in the state, and all representatives of the different organizations, to observe this period from May 17 to May 23 and to exemplify this spirit of friendship each day throughout the year in a more kindly and human manner.
