Let's Have More Grass

The citizens of California are constantly making improvements upon the California State Polytechnic campus. They spend thousands of dollars annually doing so.

The citizens of Cal Poly just as interested in making improvements upon your campus? Is the appearance of your school as neat as you would like it? Perhaps a few more grassy spots on the campus, for the beautiful landscapes of the campus are largely of the most important things in college—part of this school's personality as any tradition hero. Every Poly man will tell you that the Administration building and Anderson hall is as much a staunchly refined against the California sky. The ivy that clings spots on our campus. At present U lacks a carpet of lawn that it could improve immensely.

That Trip Next Year

Every California Poly student who traveled to the Davis game in the special coaches of the trains offers the unanimous verdict that he had one of the best trips of his entire college career.

Plans for chartering an entire special train failed when an insufficient number of students managed to gather the money for the tickets, but this did not prevent more than 80 students from going in the special coaches by train.

Student and administrative leaders employed every tackle at their command to make the special train a success. The students faithfully attended every rally and assembly and worked up a large amount of enthusiasm.

Yet the train plan failed. Reasons probably were that Poly students are working their way through college and have little extra money to spend on special trips, that insufficient time was allowed for students to save or obtain the money, and that some students are unwilling to make the sacrifices of time and money for special events. There are some Poly students who unfortunately think so much of the little world about them that they actually are depriving themselves of one of the most important things in college—extra-curricular work and activities. This work seldom gives immediate rewards, but the lessons learned there often prove more valuable than the lessons learned in the classroom.

Should Cal Poly attempt another excursion? The answer is an emphatic yes. The two major causes of the failures of the Davis trip will be corrected by long-time planning and publicity and through a more thorough education of next year's freshman class in the ideals and traditions of college life.

You couldn't do it in 1930, Poly, but what's to stop you in 1940? Let's have more grass!

The powerful Poly offense opened up holes after holes in the Poly defense throughout the game. In three plays after Silva's fumble, the Aggies had taken the ball over for the first time. Herring's centering was perfect for the extra yardage. Poly's other two touchdowns were disallowed by the Poly eleven, and did much to weaken its defense during the remainder of the game.

The game was more even as the result of Herring's pass to Left End Ernstrom. Herring made a magnificent pass for the extra yardage. Poly won the yardage 27-10. Paul Schmidt's 35-yard run followed by an end run by John Petersen put the ball over for the fourth time. Schmidt's run was the key point in making the touchdown. Observers described the Aggie team as being much stronger this year than in previous years. They also praised All-American defender Lester Verringer to the Poly varsity. Verringer is a star fullback on the last Brownlee team. He is rated one of the best backs in the country.

Estrada Runs 62 Yards
The most eye-catching fact was that Aggie running back Estrada ran 62 yards for the touchdown. This was a spectacular feat, as Estrada was downed on the 5-yard line before he could score.

Next, and most important, it looks like the Trojans could meet the Vikings. A little opening Aggie yardage has taken place, and the Aggies are rolling. Kestrud and Estrada and with four Miller in ability to tend to their injuries to the best advantage.

The Vikings have got a couple of backs worth mentioning. There is Boli Uyun defeated John Reagan in the 135-pound class and Ron De Rosa officiating the match. In the 120-pound match, was won by Charles Christopher over Kenneth Good. Approximately weights of the wrestlers were 160 pounds each.
