President Armstrong Addresses State Budget Cuts

President Jeffrey D. Armstrong says the anticipated cut of $20 million in state funding to Cal Poly for the 2011-12 academic year will be harsh but manageable. "We've been carefully preparing for a cut that size. The really difficult challenge will be if Gov. Brown's proposed tax extensions do not go through," Armstrong said in prepared remarks for a recent speech to the San Luis Obispo Chamber of Commerce.

Nippon Foundation Gives Books to Kennedy Library

The Kennedy Library has received a generous donation of books from the Nippon Foundation through its program "100 Books for Understanding Contemporary Japan." The Nippon Foundation is a private, nonprofit organization that, with this program, aims to improve cross-cultural understanding by providing quality books to supplement the popular images of Japan that people may have gained via television and movies. A committee of diplomats, academics and businessmen, from both Japan and abroad, selected 100 books they felt best covered multiple aspects of Japan. Titles range from "Loving the Machine" to "Edo Culture: Daily Life and Diversions in Urban Japan, 1600-1868 and Contemporary Japanese Film." The addition of these books to the Kennedy collection will strengthen resources for the new Asian Studies Minor at Cal Poly. The books are available to all students, faculty, staff and the general public.
