Are forgetting where you were in your notes, getting those blank, stuff. Most vigorous of the boys prop their heads upon their hands. "Wonder if I left the bathroom light burning. . . looks on your pan."

MANAGING EDITOR .................................................. BRUCE A. BORKMEYER

Boys and birds beem hum, All of which are the first signs of spring. Do on the walls, We are delighting the gods be in and keeping their eyes glued to the pages, as is usually the case (1). Poly boys bow their heads droopily and dream of love and stuff. Most of you groans to the boys upon their hands and gasp droopily out of classroom windows.

Oh, you instructors needn't think you are so full of pep either. We just haven't got your action yet. As often as not you are forgetting where you were in your notes, getting those blank, stuff. Most vigorous of the boys prop their heads upon their hands and keep their eyes glued to the pages, as is usually the case.

A letter from R. H. Greene, secretary-manager of the campus, who assured reporters that negligible negligence befell the Polytechnic student body.

"Ah! Spring is here... we hope.

You will have to dig in work, work, work. Remember that . . . Oh hum . . . gee, my girl friend was putty when I was at home. . . . D. C.

Carpentry Shop Kept Busy on Campus Projects

Five thousand dollars is the sum the student body is putting into the Polytechnic Carpentry Shop. A committee was appointed to look into the possibility of making plans for the shop, and in addition, plans have been made to have a second shop in the building. LETTER CONCERNING \n
State Dairy Council

For Convention Program

The California Dairy dealer wants to thank all those who contributed to the success of the meeting. We had a large attendance of members and students for their work in acting as host to the council at its annual statewide meeting on Feb. 20 and 21.

We believe the convention was a great success and it will be of considerable help in expanding the dairy business.
