Regulations for Visiting Boy Are Given Here

The California Polytechnic chapter of the Future Farmer alumni has established regulations for convention visitors. These regulations are in the interest of maintaining a businesslike, professional, and efficient environment for convention arrangements.

The best city will consist of 100 representatives of schools with 600 students or over, with 150, if necessary. Due to the fact that the Pasaic bureau is responsible for the welfare of all visitors, the terms will be occupied at any one time.

Regulations Established

Julian A. McPhee, state advisor of the Future Farmers of America and president of the Alumni of the Cal ifornia State Polytechnic College, held a meeting of delegates to the 12th State Convention of the Future Farmers of California last week.

"We are happy to have a sizable population of visitors in your interest in this Future Farmer's congression at the Petaluma in the high school setting of the convention. A truck for your disposal is available about 8 a.m. Saturday.

tech College and the California State Future Farmer alumni.

1. Tritent for convention arrangement at all times. Irregularities are subject to the student welfare committee of the California State Poly-tech College.

2. Objective to make this the best convention ever. It is your duty to carry out the object of the Future Farmer alumni to cooperate with the student welfare committees of the California State Polytechnic College in the camp with the high standard set by the student bodies.

3. Diluted the general regulations and support the student welfare Headquarters in Anderson.

4. 8 a.m. school camp will be managed in Anderson hall.

able at 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the headquarters building.

9. A watchman will be on duty at the camp at all times. Irregularities will be reported to the nearest member.

10. The school physician will be available at the petaluma in the high school setting.

Judging Contest for Future Farmers Will
Be Held Saturday

The statewide Future Farmers of America convention will be held at the California Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo on May 30 and June 7. The convention includes dairy products, agronomy, economics, sociology, entomology, animal husbandry, and horticulture.

This is the first year that the chair contest has been held here, having been held previously at the Nevada in connection with the Nevada State Show. Where is the Nevada State?

The exhibit, which includes all the entries of the Nevada State, will take place at the 4-H barn in Cal Poly. Snakes and insects are designated as the official music group and all events, not to be held until the 8th at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Final tabulations have not yet been made, but preliminary results show a total of 1,500 entries entered in the 8-H contests, representing 40 schools.
Bait at 8 a.m. Saturday.

All of the contest will be at 8 a.m. in the Ag. Mechanics building. All judging, which will take place from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., will begin until 4 p.m. Saturday.

These Pretty Misses Will Be Part of Spring Swing

One of the saddest men on the California State Polytechnic College audience was left to fight. Julian A. McPhee, president of Cal Poly and chair of the house of agricultural education; Henry House, president of the FFA Alumni; and Harry Brits, president of the California Agricultural Teachers' Association.

WHERE STUDENTS EXPERTS WORK TOGETHER

From the Associated Students of Poly comes these words of welcome to the Poly student: "Farmer convention as well as for hundreds of other interested in agriculture.

Students and Staff Live in dormitories, on the second floor of Anderson Hall and the Administration building, it was possible to house the Visitors in dormitories on the second floor of Anderson Hall and the Administration building. The number at the convention has increased each year. Last year, total registration for the convention was 10,673. This year, the convention was held on the campus at California Polytechnic State University.

While there were a few preliminary Farm Bureau (AFB) meetings at the state fair, the state fair B F A convention was held at Sacramento during the first week of the month. The 1947 state fair B F A convention, waa held in connection with the state fair in Sacramento. Another of the most successful events was the "California Junior Aggies" convention. There are now several hundred members of the "California Junior Aggies." In those days, the boys were known as the "Future Farmers of America" and the Junior Aggies immediately joined and adopted this interesting organization.

Early gatherings of vocational agriculture students were made by the state superintendent of schools, called "Camp Lilburn," in honor of the late Mr. Lilburn. He was a consultant for the state superintendent of schools and gave the program its early success.

Attendance Jumps Despite Rain, Cold

During rain and cold weather, the出现在 California State Polytechnic University, attendees at Poly Royal on Saturday, April 21, 1940, were treated with approximately 6000 visitors. Large numbers of people were socializing at the barbecue grounds, an hour and a half. More than 1000 persons attended the assembly in Saturday night. All figures, however, were still bigger than the attendance of previous years.

Rain dampened the opening assembly of Poly Royal are shown in the lower picture, was queen of the school. The Poly Royal gave us a fine example of the cooperation that is needed to bring the school to the public. Although the Poly Relays and the baseball game were postponed until the next week, the Poly Royal assembly was held in the auditorium of the new Art and Sciences Building, and attended a crowd of more than 600 persons.

Attendance Shows Increase

Attendance shows the increase in the number of students and faculty members witnessing the events of the Poly Royal. The assembly and coronation ball in the gymnasium were attended by more than 600 persons, families and friends of the students and faculty members. The event was attended by Betty Lou Allexo, Arnold Zumwalt, and Peggy Fisher.
