The title selected is "Why Did the Chicken Cross the Road?"

The book was chosen because it is a classic and will be enjoyed by all.

The reading will be followed by a question-and-answer session.

Wow! What A Man!

There is no old Spanish custom that is more interesting than the one where the countryman climbs on the roof of the house and waves down a passerby.

The passerby is then asked if he would like to have his clothes washed.

If he agrees, the countryman climbs down the roof and proceeds to do the washing.

The countryman is then asked if he would like to have his clothes washed again.

If he agrees, the countryman climbs down the roof and proceeds to do the washing.

This is an interesting custom that is practiced in many parts of the world.
