Three Enter SB Post Race

A last minute report from Graduate Manager Carnesbahr assures us that petitions had been filed in the office of Graduate Manager John Carri-cabure by yesterday, and only about six petitions were being consid­ered. With six offices open for contest, this indicates that some­one will be elected to the Poly Royal slate this year, if no more than six petitions are filed by this evening.

Petitions by people other than Poly Royal slate candidates are not making any headway at the present time, and may not be expected to do so. With the deadline of noon tomorrow (Saturday), students will find it difficult to file any petitions, and the Poly Royal may have to make do with their own candidates.

Miss Poly Royal—1943

Queen of two college campuses is Miss Joetta Belcher of Wester, Calif., who will be at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo this weekend.

The students of the college have decided to vote no confidence in the President of the college, and have decided to have a strike on the campus. This is the first time in the history of the college that a strike has been called.

Wire Straightener Demonstration

Interesting demonstration will be held in the Poly Royal on Saturday morning, April 21, featuring a new machine designed and constructed by the poly mechanics department of California Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo.

This machine, known as the Poly Royal Annihilator, will be demonstrated during the day, and will be available for public inspection.

Hmmm! Will You Look At This

At this time, the Poly Royal is looking for new members, and is also looking for new ideas. If you have any interesting ideas or projects, please let us know. We are always looking for new and exciting things to do.

And remember, the Poly Royal is open to all members of the Poly family. So come out and join us for a great time!

The trip was uneventful but certainly was not lacking in fun and interest to all of us. Many of us now attending college have been deferred and are thoroughly enjoying our time in living in the United States of America.

Many of us now attending college have been deferred from service for one of several reasons. We have sat back here and watched our schoolmates called into the army, and wished them luck. Let's get behind that wish of luck and see to it that they have enough arms and ammunition by purchasing defense savings stamps regularly.

Polytes in Army Write To Crops Club

As a result of the correspondence program with former students now in the service inaugurated last quarter by the Crops club, the whereabouts of several former Poly students were learned this week.

Everett Horigan reports that he is a private in the United States Navy and has qualified for machine gunner with a score of 97 out of 100 in three weeks. Private Horigan says, "they are a pretty good crew, the Japs are your feet." However, in spite of the Marines being a tough outfit, every one of them says the Japs are our feet. "When we get into the Pacific," he says, "we will have them running around our feet."

Elwyn Righetti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guido Righetti, of San Luis Obispo, was promoted to the rank of captain in the army air corps last week. Righetti graduated from Cal Poly in 1939 and is now a captain in the air corps. He is a member of the Cal Poly alumni association, a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity, and a former student and cadet at Poly.

We had lunch in the school cafeteria, and also enjoyed the organ music throughout the lunch hour. The organist, George H. Smith, who was assisted by Mrs. Smith, is a former student and is the brother of a former student at Cal Poly.

We put on our second program there at 10:30 and left immediately thereafter for San Juan high school at Fair Oaks. Again we were pressed for time and arrived about five minutes late. This was our last performance today, and probably our best so far. Everything clicked in great shape and we think we did our best in the end of the event. Our group were entertained by a very appreciative audience, and our program was entirely a success.

We arrived here in Tracy at 7:30. We opened our show here at 8:45 and put across a much smoother program than we had the day before. It was here at Elk Grove that we spoke of Mr. C. Paul Winton, former student and teacher at Poly, and an officer of the Cal Poly alumni association.

Again our audience was enthusiastic and appreciative. So far we have really been clicking. I wish you could all have been with us.

I might also say that at San Juan we met the names of Bob Caldwell and everyone evidently knew him. Here we also met George H. Smith who said to tell you all "hello." From San Juan we drove up to Elk Grove to see and listen to a great show and to see the students cut loose on the field. We were also scheduled for a dance in the evening.

The fellows have all been well and are continuing the good work of keeping up our reputation as good citizens, and they deserve all credit. We're having a great time, a week to come we'll be having more fun and we'll be seeing you next week.

Your present,
Walt Biggley.

Split-second timing and accurate shots are required of the contestants in the three rope competitions. The stakes are high. The tops of the 30-inch poles are slanted for the program. Activity in the publication office for the past several weeks has been hectic with the El Rodeo staff members finally taking over space allotted to them the first of the year. These deadlines under their belts but are left ahead of them, staff members of the yearbook are confident that the book will not only be out on time but that the book will also be the finest yet published at Poly.

Many new features, in the 1943 annual should please students whose studentbody cards entitle them to one copy each. Although the RAC drastically cut, the El Rodeo budget at the beginning of the fall quarter, emotional handling of content and early production of cuts and cover saved considerable money. By having Mr. Kennedy, publication advisor, take all possible steps to cut student assistants, the staff was able to save nearly $100 on the publication costs.

Ted Cope, editor of the new section on "departments," has had the most difficult job of anyone on the paper, but will likely be well received, Editor Wait stated. Ivan Thrhill edited the section on organizations, Warner "Snoopy" Smith is editor of activities, Lovell McDowell is editor of the general advance section and Jiret Kari as the sports editor. The book should be ready by May 30.

Repair Work in Ag Mechanic Show

See in the Ag Mechanic Show was a trial to the power machinery and get used to it. As usual there will be the experimental equipment display of farm implements. All of the tools used will be demonstrated at the show.

In addition to these educational displays, the ag mechanics department has charge of several of the contests.

Now this year is the ladies' tractor driving competition in which women will drive tractors under farm conditions. In this contest, the ladies will be required to be able to steer a tractor on a straight course, turn corners, drive down a straight row. There will be no tractor driving contest which will be held at the rounds ground at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

How long a tractor can run on one gallon of gasoline in farm conditions? This is a transplant contest. Every contestant will estimate the amount of gasoline in the tank and the time of day at which the tractor will stop.

The old standard, the ladies' nail driving contest will take place in front of the rodeo bleachers at 1:30 p.m. Saturday April 25. In this event the contestants will be given 15 or 16 penny nails and the winner will be the one who has driven the most nails into a block of wood in the fastest time.

This is but a portion of the Poly program, which includes riding, trick driving, a rodeo, dance, track meet, exhibits in all departments and a general open house program.
