A Letter To Three Sons

A Letter To Three Sons was written by Henry Ford to his three sons, and was originally printed by the Reporter of Dearborn Advertiser, published by Mr. William H. Glidden, New York.

Dear Ford,

It won't be long before I write you that you have grown fast. I wish you would write me often. I wish you would tell me about your work and studies and how you like them. I wish you would tell me about your friends and where you live. I wish you would not be too busy to write to me.

I have been thinking of you often. I have been thinking of your progress and your progress in your work and studies. I have been thinking of your friends and where you live. I have been thinking of your future and what you will do.

I hope you will not be too busy to write to me. I hope you will not be too busy to tell me about your work and studies and where you live.

I hope you will not be too busy to write to me. I hope you will not be too busy to tell me about your friends and where you live.

I hope you will not be too busy to write to me. I hope you will not be too busy to tell me about your future and what you will do.

I hope you will not be too busy to write to me. I hope you will not be too busy to tell me about your work and studies.

I hope you will not be too busy to write to me. I hope you will not be too busy to tell me about your friends and where you live.

I hope you will not be too busy to write to me. I hope you will not be too busy to tell me about your future and what you will do.

I hope you will not be too busy to write to me. I hope you will not be too busy to tell me about your work and studies.

I hope you will not be too busy to write to me. I hope you will not be too busy to tell me about your friends and where you live.

NEW EL MUSTANG
All feet are bare!

This new paper we promised, bargained about, swore over, and agreed to at last is out and ready to be worn over and burnishon. But as you read that last piece remember that many months of hard work and planning is represented by that piece of news.

This year we have endeavored to accomplish several things by this new edition of the student paper of the California State Polytechnic. First we have tried to bring this paper up to a size and standard that would justify the college. In the past we have had the space to adequately cover all of the news from the corporate organizations on the campus. In addition to this we have brought to extra columns in the form of column and personalities, music, campus activities from other colleges, and bits of news from the “outside world.”

The old form of cut type has been done away with completely, in preference to this new facsimile type we are now using. The true Polytechnic Californian has gone the same way, and in its place is the familiar El Mustang.

MANY COOPERATE

This work was not done over night or by any one person, it was the work of many.

The staff itself which is composed entirely of students of the Polytechnic has really come through this year in making El Must­ ang a success. David Carlin, managing editor, and Bruce Bivins, news editor, have done a good deal in redefining assignments and making up pages of this paper. The financial manager of the staff and business manager, Johnnie Shea, closets things by the manner in which he solicited (not demanded) and received the this year. Joe Vannini, sports editor, has covered the sports front faith­fully and fully such work as it is possible to do. We could get in on mentioning the many writers that have contributed so much to the pages—the many reporters that their names appear only in the back head still provide the backbone of any paper and are so indispensable.

Too much credit cannot be given to the advisors Robert Kennedy and Ben Press. Mr. Kennedy spent much time in advising and working with the staff in the writing and making up of the paper this year and yet saw that it remained solely a student newspaper.
In the last two months Mr. Press did “out of the line” duty to help overcome the mechanical difficulties that were encountered.

IN NEED OF MORE COOPERATION

While it seems that much has been done in the way of “Clubs Cooperation” we still must mimic that same call in adding that the duties that the club for this year are taken care of only from the students but from the faculty as well.

We can always hope. We have not as yet given up as much opportunity from anyone and we intend to it is written up and contains all the essential facts. If you have some particular event that you think we could make a story of just drop us a note and if you feel you cannot write it then a reporter will do the job—The Editor.

THE PHANTOM . . .

What’s a Shee Sha

By Johnnie Shea

There are those who can get up from the floor after a long, hard night of work, and there are those like the one who can be found not only in this school but in most colleges. This gentleman has a lot of friends, but no one knows him personally.
He is known for his strange habits and his love of solitude.

His name is Smartphone, but few people know it. He lives in the old dormitories and spends his time walking through the streets in the middle of the night. No one has ever seen him without his headphones on, and he is always carrying a newspaper.

People wonder what he is doing there, but no one knows for sure.
He seems to enjoy the quiet of the night and the peace that it brings with it. Some say he is a dropout, others say he is an artist. No one knows for sure, but one thing is certain:
he is not like the rest of us.

Cal Poly’s next animial labora­

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I received your letter the other day, and I could not agree with you more. The students at Cal Poly have done an excellent job of improving the campus, and I think we should all be proud of what we have accomplished.
