Question of the week

Harp's bizzare

By Bob Harneman

We the student spoke—Questions do get a bit strange at our school, especially when it is February. This month, as usual, seems to be a good time for students to reflect on their thoughts and ideas. Meanwhile, the editors of the El Mustang are also reflecting on their thoughts and ideas. They have been reflecting on their thoughts and ideas for a while now, and they have come up with a question that they would like to share with the readers of the El Mustang.

The question is: "What is your favorite color? And why?"

The editors believe that this question is important because it allows students to share their thoughts and ideas with others. They also believe that this question is important because it allows students to reflect on their own thoughts and ideas.

The editors are looking forward to hearing from all of the students who read the El Mustang. They are excited to see what thoughts and ideas the students will share with them.

The editors hope that this question will be a starting point for a larger conversation about the importance of reflection and the importance of sharing our thoughts and ideas with others.

If you have any thoughts or ideas about this question, please feel free to share them with the editors of the El Mustang. They are always looking for new ideas and perspectives to share with the readers of the El Mustang.

The editors of the El Mustang would like to thank all of the students who have shared their thoughts and ideas with them. They are grateful for the opportunity to reflect on their own thoughts and ideas, and they are grateful for the opportunity to share their thoughts and ideas with others.

The editors hope that this question will be a starting point for a larger conversation about the importance of reflection and the importance of sharing our thoughts and ideas with others.
