Three more Poly Grads continue training at Randolph
Air Force Academy, on February 7.

Training at Randolph Field, Texas, the "West Point of the Air Corps wings. They are among the 335 future pilots of the army air arm who are scheduled to complete their basic flight training this week. The move was necessary because of a shortage of nurses at the San Antonio hospital.

New election methods

Roads on campus given names by SAC committee

The Roads Committee of C. E.
Brown, G. Pick, and A. Boying have selected the names of the main streets on the campus. The following are among the designations given for all parts of the campus:

California Avenue, S. M.

California Avenue, N. S.

This should be credited on his name to the Poly as well as the administration building.

A faculty committee set up new guidelines for athletic eligibility at a recent meeting. The committee, which will meet again next month, will present rules which will meet the ap­ pal conditions of the players and the administration committee will rule on the eligibility of all athletes. The rules will be followed in the discipline of athletes.

Half of grade points in the changes are that the rules are now based on one-half the grade point for the total units for which he is enrolled. Formerly a minimum of eight grade points were required regardless of the total number of units, but now each point of grading and athletics will count as one grade point, and at the end of each year the student will get as many grade points as he has units in class, excepting 10 units in each year. The total must be at least 30 units after the regular registration registration procedures.

POLY ROYAL BONDS OF COOPERATION

"We are doing our part to make the queen contest of the Poly Royal not only the biggest but that the best has ever come out of a campus for Poly." These are the words of Ruth Two, one of the students of the State Tech, who will show to the state just what we have done this year.

Every student at Poly looks forward to it's biggest affair—literally, that is what the wearers of those blue "Poly Royal" badges have made certain when they purchased those "Bonds of Cooperation" that went on sale this morning.

Robb, Gibson, Cuddeback at West Point of the Air

Airport, on page 1 are to be trained in the coming year. Each of these pilots-to-be will be given a detailed instruction of the present Randolph Field methods and has received their primary training. They were placed in their flight training last September at one of 18 Air Force training centers in various sections of the country. During the ten months that these schools Flying Cadets logged 65 flying hours. In addition to this, their training was in rugged primary training planes equipped with 100 horsepower motors.

65 horsepower planes

Late in November the class reported to the "West Point of the Air" for basic instruction in rough, low wing monoplanes, powered with 100 horsepower. These boys gained an administrative staff, which would be Randolph Field, mastering such technical subjects as bookkeeping, ladder, maps, engine repair. They also got their first taste of night flying at the Texas airfields, spending their nights on touchdowns and taking off from the darkened flying field. 8500 per month was the student pilot's pay. 15% of this is to be paid for his expenses, such as room and board, and transportation, etc. When commissioned pay is increased to $75 per month, which will be added to reference list. These men are shown tackling the problem of a maverick continent. For this book Gunther outlines and talks with Hitler's, his men who made advances during a period of six months flying to the east.

most, approved by the council be voted in as a general student election. At present, student officers are nominated by a committee, the amendment proposes a petition system of nominating which will officially nominate an individual when he has secured the approval of one third of the members of the Associated Students.

Herbert Bruestler once again brought up the ring question of student dances having praise on the fact that the actions of the council on this matter was unconstitutional. After some discussion, the council again discussed its belief on the matter by voting on the matter. Browne stated that he felt "the council's action unfair to the students involved, and that he intended to carry the matter to higher channels.

A recommendation was made to the administrative council that the graduate manager be included among those who were required to sign check-out slips, and an appropriation of $5 was made to purchase office supplies for the student body office.
