ternational Livestock Show last year were the Hereford bulls which have been exhibited at the college for a number of years. The steer judging will be handled by a team of California at Davis will be the judge of the beef cattle, and the meat animal judging will be attended by the meat animal judging. A number of judges from the nation will be present.

Miss Fern Porter was elected queen of the Poly Royal last year. Miss Porter is considered one of the best livestock judges in the nation. She is keen when the time arrives to determine which animals are the top of their class. She has been a message from him, as well as another Collegiate club.
Harp's bizarre...

If there was only some way I could have my way here in this column every week would be earth, heaven, and every other objective state of bliss. I don't think it's a proper job and I strongly object to it. I feel that my column should be about the real news and not just about the events that are happening at this particular moment.

Several days ago, we were discussing the formal dance. I believe it is the first time we have had a dance on the campus since we opened. I wonder if there was any problem with the administration about it.

Perhaps you are one of the boys and girls who are going to the dance. If you are, I hope you have a good time. No doubt you will enjoy yourself.

On the subject of the dance, I have some advice for you. First of all, make sure you have your tickets with you. Second, be on time. Third, dress appropriately. And finally, have a good time.

The editors of the Mustang are very much looking forward to the dance. We hope that it will be a success.

When the last quarter ended, I thought it was over. But then I learned that the evil spirits of our editor and staff had been working their magic again. So it was back to work, and the press must go on and after missing three weeks I think I had better go.

Raided

It has been our little "raid" inconsiderate of us to have caused so much trouble. We are sorry for any inconvenience that this may have caused, and we hope that we can continue to serve our readers in the future.

When you call to service, the number of people who volunteer is always impressive. It is good to know that there are so many people who are willing to serve.

One of the Mustang's best bets is the ensemble singing of Fred Waring's Gloe Club. Fred Waring was a great radio personality and the Gloe Club was one of his favorite groups. The Gloe Club was known for its great harmonies and its ability to perform songs that were difficult to sing.

The Gloe Club was formed in 1934 by Fred Waring and was composed of a group of young men who were passionate about music. The group quickly gained popularity and began to tour the country, performing at schools, colleges, and other venues.

The Gloe Club's repertoire included a wide range of songs, from popular hits to old standards. The group's blend of voices and harmonies was unique and helped them stand out from other groups of their time.

The Gloe Club's most famous performance was likely the one that took place in 1938 at the Westwood campus of the University of California. The performance was broadcast live on radio and was heard by millions of people across the country.

In addition to their work on radio, the Gloe Club also recorded several albums, including "Gloe Hits," "Gloe Jive," and "Gloe Jive." Their music continued to be popular for many years, and the Gloe Club is still remembered as one of the greatest ensembles of its time.

The Gloe Club's success was due in part to its ability to bring people together through music. Fred Waring's vision for the group was to create a place where young people could come together and form a community through their love of music.

The Gloe Club's legacy lives on today through the memories of those who were a part of it. Many of the group's members have gone on to successful careers in music, and the Gloe Club is still remembered fondly by those who were a part of it or who were influenced by its music.

Green and Gold nine defeats Bakersfield J.C. in season's opener.

The Poly track team will travel to Salinas on March 19 to compete in a dual meet with Salinas J.C. as many of you already know, Salinas is one of the local city teams. E. J. Davis at the present time ranks number one of the boys in the world, we believe that he will complete competition this season.

The track team has been hard-bitten this season by inclement weather conditions. However, at this time no talks have been held and consequently we do not know what is to be made of the outcome of the meet.

However, many of this year's top athletes for Salinas and Poly will be on hand to make the California Valley classic more than worth the effort.

The Poly team will travel to Salinas on March 22 to compete in a dual meet with Salinas J.C. and as many of you already know, Salinas is one of the local city teams. E. J. Davis at the present time ranks number one of the boys in the world, we believe that he will complete competition this season.

Robinson appears on Poly Broadcast yesterday afternoon

"Johnny Gets His Story," the nightly radio program, was prezented, as usual, over the station KABC. Johnny, a passionate baseball fan, was described by the announcer as an am­ able boy who always makes his appearance on time. His voice was heard over the airwaves for almost an hour.

In the studio, Robinson was speaking for himself, and recalling some of his experiences as a player on the Poly baseball team. He mentioned how much he enjoyed playing for the team and how it helped him develop his skills as a baseball player. He also spoke about how the sport had influenced him and helped him make important life decisions.

The program was well-received by the audience, who listened with interest to Robinson's account of his baseball career. The program concluded with music and a final message from the station.
