ASI Announces Rec Center Opportunities for Faculty and Staff

ASI has announced two opportunities for faculty and staff to experience the Cal Poly Recreation Center:

· During winter break only, ASI will offer Free Fitness Fridays at the Rec Center. From 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Dec. 14 and 21, complimentary use of the center and its amenities will be available to faculty/staff and their spouses. This includes access to the lap pool, racquetball courts, basketball courts, and group exercise classes. Participants must bring their Cal Poly ID card for entry. For more information visit the ASI website.

· Effective winter quarter, faculty and staff members and their spouses will be able to purchase a 10-day punch pass. There are no restrictions on when the pass can be used, and it will not expire. This will allow campus community members the opportunity to use the Rec Center when it is convenient for them.

Contact membership services at memberships@asi.calpoly.edu or ext. 6-6335 for more information.

Annual Cal Poly Poinsettia Sale is Under Way

More than 2,500 student-grown plants in 30 varieties and many colors are available now through mid-December at Poly Plant Shop. The holiday flowering plants are grown by students in the College of Agriculture, Food & Environmental Sciences’ Poinsettia Enterprise Project, which begins in the spring of each year. Traditional red and white are featured along with many novelty colors, such as pink, orange, maroon and marbled varieties. Unique painted and glittery plants are also offered as part of this year’s crop. Sizes range from 4-inch pots to 4-foot tall plants, priced from $5 to $55. Supplies of painted poinsettias are limited. Visit Poly Plant Shop from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday, or come to the annual Poinsettia Open House on Dec. 7 and 8 where Poinsettia Enterprise Project students will be on hand to answer questions. For more details, call ext. 6-1106 or visit Poly Plant Shop online.

Second Annual Cal Poly Diversity and Inclusiveness Colloquium Set for Feb. 5

The second annual Cal Poly Diversity and Inclusiveness Colloquium will take place from 5:30 to 7:15 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 5, in Ham1an Hall in the Performing Arts Center. A reception with exhibits will follow in the Rossi Main Lobby. Attendance is free and open to all. This year’s colloquium focuses on diversity and inclusiveness. In planning, the university has consulted with the San Luis Obispo Chamber of Commerce’s Diversity Committee to involve the local business community in a discussion on how Cal Poly and the city can develop inviting climates for people of all backgrounds, including race, ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, class and ability.

Cal Poly Rose Float Reminds you to Watch the Parade Jan. 1

As you greet the new year on Jan. 1, don’t forget to tune in to the Tournament of Roses Parade at 8 a.m. to see Cal Poly’s “Tuxedo Air.” This year’s float conveys the 2013 parade theme of “Oh, the Places You’ll Go!” through the depiction of adventurous penguins learning to fly with the hope of reaching warmer and more exotic lands. The float features a penguin with airplane wings strapped to his back atop a ramp; as he kicks his feet, propellers spin in anticipation of the flight. Penguins near the bottom of the ramp will be waving flags and cones to guide this flight attempt. This year marks the 65th consecutive year that the Cal Poly universities have been invited to participate in this international television spectacular and produce the only student-built Rose Parade float. Look for Cal Poly towards the end of this year’s parade as entry number 81 of 92. Find more information on the Cal Poly Rose Float project online.

ASI Appoints Interim Executive Director

The of ASI Board of Directors approved Marcy Maloney as interim executive director effective Jan. 3. Maloney is currently the director of ASI Programs and oversees all recreational sports programs at Cal Poly as well as many University Union functions. Maloney received the Outstanding Staff Award for 2011-12 in recognition of her contributions to the university. She is in her 22nd year of service to ASI and Cal Poly. She is known for her dedication, leadership and positive energy. She will succeed Rick Johnson, who is retiring after 12 years as executive director (see announcement below).

Retirements

Rick Johnson

ASI Executive Director Rick Johnson is retiring at the end of fall quarter after a 25-year career with ASI. Johnson began his career at Cal Poly nearly 30 years ago, working in University Housing, Career Services, and Student Life & Leadership before joining ASI in 1987. He has provided outstanding visionary leadership in his role as executive director for the past 12 years, during which he was responsible for the management and oversight of all operational areas of ASI. Under Johnson’s leadership, ASI achieved significant accomplishments including the opening of the first recreation center in the CSU (with the recent expansion, now the largest in the West), the Sports Complex, and renovation of the UU Plaza. More significantly, Johnson has served as a mentor to staff, students and ASI student leaders. His leadership in the creation of the ASI Alumni Council reinforces the concept that experiences and relationships formed at ASI and Cal Poly are carried into the lives and careers of students, and in turn alumni become mentors for current and future student leaders. Throughout his career, Johnson served on numerous university and community committees, but his focus was always on enhancing the co-curricular experience for students. He made it his mission to support efforts to make ASI every student’s connection to the ultimate college experience. This vision is realized through programs and resources that provide students the opportunity to experience shared governance, quality employment opportunities, student advocacy, as well as opportunities for leadership and social interaction.

Barbara Binder

Barbara (Bobbi) Binder, administrative support coordinator in the Aerospace Engineering Department, is retiring after 11 years with Cal Poly. Binder began her career at Cal Poly in 2001 in the Accounting Department. She transferred in 2002 to the Aerospace Engineering Department. Binder was the key person in maintaining the Aerospace Engineering Department’s institutional knowledge while adapting to changes that have occurred during the past 10 years. She always put the needs of students first while working to serve the department’s faculty and staff. Her bright smile and friendly nature will be missed by all. The campus community is invited to a celebration of her retirement from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday, Dec. 7, in the Advanced Technology Lab. Appetizers and refreshments will be served.

Richard Grise

Richard Grise is retiring at the end of December after 23 years at Cal Poly. Grise started in Academic Records in November 1988 as one of the first FOCUS language programmers and worked with ITS to develop access to the SIS mainframe databases and the first data-warehouse tables later incorporated and expanded in the ODIN project. He later worked on dynamic programming and auto-submission routines to synchronize databases for the DegreeWorks project. He also worked several years in ITS with the ODIN data warehouse team and the Help Desk, participated in the SIS - PeopleSoft conversions, and then spent several years in programming with Institutional Planning and Analysis before his final years with Student Academic Services. After retirement, Grise will continue to expand his roles with Pacific Wildlife Care of Morro Bay, International Bird Rescue in Los Angeles, and the Oiled Wildlife Care Network at UC Davis. Anyone wishing to extend their congratulations and best wishes is encouraged to stop by Student Academic Services (Building 81) between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Dec. 12 to join Student Academic Services in wishing Grise luck in his retirement.

George Westlund

George Westlund is retiring at the end of December after 35 years of service to Cal Poly, working in Information Technology Academic Support and CMS Support. His positive attitude, sense of humor and historical knowledge in many areas will be missed. He is looking forward to spending his free time traveling, working on his photography, going off-roading in his Jeep, and visiting with family and friends. The campus community is invited to a retirement potluck in his honor from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Dec. 14 in Room 511 of the Kennedy Library. For more information, contact Mary Padilla at ext. 6-2099 or mpadilla@calpoly.edu or Sharon Anderson at sande17@calpoly.edu or ext. 6-7745.

Becky Powell

Becky Powell is retiring after 25 years at Cal Poly. Powell began her Cal Poly career in 1977, first working in Catering and then in the History Department until 1981. She returned in 1991 as a clerical assistant for the associate vice president for research, graduate programs and international programs. In 1993, Provost Robert Koob created the Research and Graduate Programs office, and Powell became a key team member, with responsibility for various aspects of graduate program management. She has been a critical resource for graduate students, graduate program coordinators, and administrators who interface with graduate programs and students. Her knowledge of and ability to understand and interpret policies and processes is exceptional, and she worked tirelessly to advocate for student-friendly policies and efficient processes. At the end of every quarter she wore the hat of the thesis editor and reviewed dozens of theses for compliance with university writing and formatting standards. She helped pilot the transition from paper to electronic theses and develop the process for submission to the Digital Commons. Perhaps her most important contribution over the years has been her role in advising graduate students. Powell’s last day will be Monday, Dec. 17.

Juanita Minor and Carson Crain
The College of Liberal Arts Dean’s Office announces the retirements of two of its longtime staff members, Juanita Minor and Carson Crain.

Minor, who worked as the college’s faculty contracts analyst, started with Cal Poly in 1987 with University Advancement. She came to the CLA Dean’s Office in 2001. Her retirement was effective Nov. 22.

Crain, the college’s budget analyst, has been with the university in various capacities since 1973. She worked in the library, Academic Programs, and the Orfalea College of Business before she came to the CLA in 1992. In her time with the CLA, she has worked with four deans and four interim/acting deans. She has built an impressive knowledge base and a flexible skill set that have served the college and the university well. She was recognized with the Outstanding Staff Employee award in 2007-08. She will retire at the end of December.

The college sincerely appreciates the consistently high quality of their work and service over the years. At their requests, no recognition event will be held. Congratulations and good wishes may be sent to their email addresses: jminor@calpoly.edu and ccrain@calpoly.edu.

Catastrophic Leave
Olivia Morales

Olivia Morales, administrative support assistant in the Political Science Department, has qualified for catastrophic leave. Those who would like to donate vacation and/or sick leave to help Morales remain in full-pay status should contact Charlotte Lopez-Scherrer in the Political Science Department at ext. 6-2985 or clopet@calpoly.edu.

Selena Wheeler

Selena Wheeler, administrative analyst in University Scheduling, has qualified for catastrophic leave. Those wishing to donate sick leave and/or vacation leave to help her remain in full-pay status during an extended leave of absence should contact Vicky Myers at ext. 6-2461 or vlmyers@calpoly.edu to request a donation form.

Student Success

Floral Design Team Flourishes at L.A. Competition

Last month, the Cal Poly floral design team brought home several honors from the California Floral Association Student Competition at Mayesh Wholesale Florist at the Los Angeles Flower Market in Los Angeles. The team, consisting of students Desiree Davis, Camille Duket, Shannon Gonzales, Andrea Goodman and Erin Gray, placed second, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth, respectively. “I am very pleased with the results that these students earned - and for some, it was their first competition,” said faculty adviser Melinda Lynch. “It was a great opportunity for these students to connect with many businesses in the floral industry and to lay the groundwork for future jobs and internships.”

Campus Announcements

Direct Deposit Now Available for University Employee Reimbursements

University employees can now elect to have travel and other reimbursements sent electronically to a checking or savings account instead of receiving a paper check. Direct deposit is easy and safe, and it eliminates the need to deposit a paper check with your bank. Enrollment is completed via the My Cal Poly Portal. For more information on the direct deposit program and enrollment instructions, visit Accounts Payable’s Direct Deposit web page.

University Police Announces Parking Enforcement for Winter Break

The University Police Department is highlighting its parking enforcement policies for academic breaks as the 2012-13 winter break begins.
Parking permits are required during all academic holidays. Parking is enforced from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday during academic holidays. Parking permits are required after hours during events in the event lots. Meters and other 24/7 parking zones are enforced after hours and on weekends.

More information about the campus's Parking Services is available online. For additional information, call ext 6-6654 or the 24-hour line at ext. 6-2281; email parking@calpoly.edu; or visit Parking Services in person at the University Police Department Front Counter or Visitor Information Center.

RPTA Scholarship Endowment Established in Alumna Jodi Hamp Fisher's Name

Family and friends of Cal Poly alumna Jodi Hamp Fisher have created a scholarship endowment in her memory. In honor of the 1997 Recreation, Parks, & Tourism Administration grad, who died in March after a battling cancer, the scholarship will support the educational costs of students majoring in RPTA. Preference will be given to students with a career interest in the outdoors. Fisher is known for giving out free ice cream in Cayucos on her 44th birthday, hugging President Obama at the airport in San Francisco, and appearing on the Ellen DeGeneres show – all items on her “fun list” as she fought inoperable cancer. Those who want to join Fisher’s family and friends in recognizing her inspirational legacy and contributions to others, are asked to add their support. Charitable contributions can be made online here or sent to: Bill Hendricks, Ph.D., Recreation, Parks, & Tourism Administration Department, 1 Grand Ave., Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, CA 93407. Please make checks payable to the “Cal Poly Foundation” and indicate “Jodi Hamp Fisher Scholarship Endowment” in the memo line. For questions about the Jodi Hamp Fisher Scholarship Endowment, contact Rosey Parks, director of development for the College of Agriculture, Food and Environmental Sciences, at ext. 6-7367 or rparku@calpoly.edu.

Pride Center Announces Monthly Newsletter

The Pride Center invites all interested Cal Poly faculty and staff to subscribe to our newsletter online at this link. The Pride Center will never spam inboxes; email addresses will be used only to send a monthly update, around the first of the month, detailing all of the upcoming events the center will be presenting, along with the details of where and when they will occur.

Changes to Cal Poly's Wireless Network Under Way

Information Technology Services (ITS) added a second WiFi network, called “Secure Mustang Wireless,” last year. As part of its ongoing commitment to network security, ITS on Nov. 12 began phasing out the old, insecure Mustang Wireless network. A schedule showing when specific buildings will be switched over is available online. Cal Poly users are encouraged to switch now to Secure Mustang Wireless to protect their devices. All campus wireless users will need to switch over by the end of the phased project, set for Dec. 14.

If you are unsure which wireless network you are using, find out online how to check or contact the ITS Service Desk at ext. 6-7000 for assistance. To avoid any interruption in WiFi connectivity on campus, users must first configure their devices to connect to Secure Mustang Wireless. It won’t work without the one-time configuration step. Instructions on how to do this are available online. Faculty and staff are encouraged to contact their LAN coordinator for assistance. If you do not know who that person is, call the ITS Service Desk at ext. 6-7000. Anyone needing assistance may also visit the ITS Service Desk in the Natatorium (Building 46, across the street from Spanos Stadium).

Employment Equity Facilitator Workshop Set for Dec. 6

An Employment Equity Facilitator Workshop is scheduled for 9:30 to 11 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 6, in Fisher Science (Building 33), Room 290. Martha Cody, director of employment equity, will lead the workshop. She will be joined by Carolyn Johnson from Academic Personnel and Karen Stubberfield from Human Resources, who will answer questions and provide information on the faculty and staff recruitment process. Sumi Saeat will be available to answer questions regarding institutionally sponsored H-1B
Visas for foreign faculty and staff. Contact Sceat at ssceat@calpoly.edu or ext. 6-7387 if you would like to attend.

Pose with Santa Dec. 8 and 9 to Help the Cal Poly Cat Program

The campus community is invited to support the Cal Poly Cat Program and get in the holiday spirit by taking a picture with Santa Claus at Petsmart in San Luis Obispo on Dec. 8 and 9. People and pets alike are invited to the event, set to run 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days. The store is at 1530 Froom Ranch Way. Photos cost $9.95, with $5 of each photo benefiting the Cal Poly Cat Program. Everyone who attends, receives an informational brochure and makes a donation to the cat coin jar will receive a free entry in an appreciation drawing taking place Dec. 10. Prizes include a four-pack of tickets to Disneyland. You can also receive a brochure and make a donation to receive an entry on campus by visiting Edie Griffin-Shaw in the Key Shop from Dec. 1-7. For more information call ext. 6-5220 or email cpecscheduler@gmail.com.

Visitor Information Center Closed Week of Dec. 24

The Visitor Information Center on Grand Avenue will be closed Monday, Dec. 24, through Tuesday, Jan. 1. Departments with guests coming to campus during the holiday time are encouraged to arrange their visitor’s parking in advance. Call ext. 6-6699 for more information. The University Police Department, located in Building 36, is open 24 hours a day. The University Police Reception Center will be staffed 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the academic break and will be closed on the campus holidays, Dec. 24-25 and Jan. 1.

Nominations Sought for Top Staff Award

The deadline to submit a nomination for the 2012-13 Outstanding Staff Employee Award is Jan. 21, 2013. To be eligible, nominees must be full- or part-time employees of the university, Corporation or ASI who are in at least their third year of employment as of Dec. 31, 2012, and who are not represented by bargaining unit 3 (faculty). Past recipients of the award are ineligible. The Outstanding Staff Nomination Form can be found online.

Opportunities Announced for Teaching Abroad in 2014-15

The Cal Poly International Center has announced that applications are open for faculty to teach with the University Studies Abroad Consortium (USAC) during the 2014-15 academic year. There are multiple locations, and programs vary in length. Cal Poly is a member of USAC and sits on the board of directors. Students from 32 member universities have been studying at 39 locations in 24 countries around the world for more than 30 years with USAC. About 150 Cal Poly students are participating with USAC programs this year, and several Cal Poly faculty have taught with them recently. Please visit the USAC website for information. If interested, contact Monica Schechter, the university's USAC coordinator, at ext. 6-5964 or mschechter@calpoly.edu for the Cal Poly application. Submission deadline is January 2013 for the upcoming cycle.

University Art Gallery to Display Faculty Work Through Dec. 7

Cal Poly's University Art Gallery is showcasing new creative research and artwork by faculty members in the Art and Design Department through Dec. 7. The exhibit, titled “The Department of Art and Design Faculty Creative Research Triennium,” will include artwork in graphic design, photography, drawing, painting, video and art history, as well as “olfactory art.” The free exhibit is open to the public from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

PAC to Host Sixth Annual Forbes Organ Holiday Sing-Along Dec. 16
The sixth annual Forbes Pipe Organ Holiday Concert and Sing-Along comes to the Performing Arts Center's Christopher Cohan Center at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 16. This concert will feature performances by the Vocal Arts Ensemble, the Central Coast Children's Choir, and Cal Poly Organist Paul Woodring playing a collection of holiday carols on the Forbes Pipe Organ while audience members sing along. All proceeds will benefit the Performing Arts Center's outreach programs and the two participating community choirs. Tickets are available at the PAC Ticket Office - ext. 6-4TIX or www.pacsla.org. The event is a unique chance to bring children, family, friends and fellow residents together for an afternoon of joyous holiday song. Be a part of this uplifting Central Coast tradition. More information is available online.

Athletics

Women's Basketball
The Mustangs improved to 5-3 with a win over University of Nevada, Reno, 72-63. The Cal Poly women's basketball team used a balanced attack, with three players scoring in double figures and senior Kayla Griffin earning a double-double. Read more about the victory over UNR.

Men's Basketball
The men's basketball team fell to Saint Mary's College on Saturday, 86-68. Junior forward Chris Eversley scored a career-high 25 points, and freshman forward Brian Bennett added 10. However, the Mustangs allowed their highest opponent field goal percentage in 97 games. Read more about the game.

Football
No. 12 Cal Poly fell to No. 5 Sam Houston State in a playoff loss Saturday. Cal Poly's defense held the Bearkats -- among the top 10 teams in the Football Championship Subdivision in rushing offense, total offense and scoring offense -- to just 18 points. However, the Bearkats took advantage of three Cal Poly turnovers, a blocked punt, and a trio of second-half personal foul penalties. The final score was 18-16. Read more about the game.

Wrestling
Cal Poly freshman Devon Lotito placed third at 133 pounds in the 2012 Cliff Keen Las Vegas Collegiate Invitational on Saturday at the Las Vegas Convention Center. Lotito, who reached the semifinals before he was pinned Saturday morning by top-seeded Logan Stieber of Ohio State in 39 seconds, bounced back with a pair of wins in the wrestlebacks. Read more about the match.

Men's Tennis
Two high school players have signed national letters of intent to enroll and continue their men's tennis careers at Cal Poly. Second-year Mustang head coach Nick Carless and Cal Poly Athletics Director Don Oberhelman made the announcement Thursday. Read more about the acquisition.

Women's Tennis
The Mustang women's tennis team fortified its future roster with the recent announcement from second-year head coach Damon Coupe that Zoe Oedekerk (San Juan Capistrano, Calif., St. Margaret's High School) has signed a National Letter of Intent while Mia Padmanabhan (Saratoga, Calif.) has transferred to Cal Poly from Atlanta's Emory University. Both players are expected to compete for the Mustangs beginning in the 2013-14 season. Read more about the new players.

Big West Conference News
Cal Poly takes an early lead in the Big West Commissioner's Cup standings. Following a successful fall across its five seasonal sports, Cal Poly has raced into the lead for the 2012-13 Commissioner's Cup, posting a 144.0 average heading into the winter. The Mustangs, who were fifth in the cup standings following the fall sports season, swept the cross country titles for the first time and picked up Big West Tournament appearances in both men's and women's soccer. Cal Poly's fall season places it back in a familiar place as the Mustangs finished second overall in the Commissioner's Cup from 2008-11. Read more about the cup standings here.
