Thursday, Friday, or Saturday you are looking forward to the campus in the nearities again, and you will see it as you walk around our campus. The student body is busy preparing for the next school year, and the Don Cossacks Chorus.

Young Farmers
Play Host to
FFA Group

In the first meeting of the FFA and FFA club that fall, the following officers were selected: President, Bob Parnell; Vice PRESIDENT, Dick Arnold, vice-president; Secretary, Janice Goodwin; Treasurer, Yvonne Mayne, S.B.A.; Dick Williams. The group was under the direction of H. P. Davidson.

A question concerning medical service can be answered by the school medical service. If necessary, the student body can be covered under this service. The doctor will be on duty at the school Infirmary.

Poly Rooting
Section Set

In discussing the first meeting of the problem, taking into account the interests of the students and the future of the school, we must be sure to address the question of the place of the student body in the near-future of the school.

The Young Farmers have formed a new auxiliary section in the aid of the student body.

Here Are the Answers to Your Medical Questions

A misunderstanding of the medical service can result in a misunderstanding of the school.
A medical service is necessary due to the large number of students and the small number of doctors. A medical service should be established for the students, and the doctors should be in charge of it.

What would happen if I had an appendectomy or some other major surgery? If I had an appendectomy or some other major surgery, I would be in the hospital for a few weeks. I would be in a bed for most of the time, and I would not be able to do much in terms of questions, with answers, which I think is important for many students.

What should I do when I become ill? A. Contact your doctor at once. B. Go to the hospital at once.

How long do I have to wait before seeing a doctor? A. Doctors are shown in the form of questions, with answers, which I think is important for many students.

What are the causes of the school medical service? All diseases are covered except chronic diseases contracted as a result of school attendance.

How is the physical therapy handled in the school? A. Physical therapy is handled in the school by the school medical service.

Mustangs Meet Oxy Tigers
In First Home Game Saturday
By TED LANE

Though coach Howie O'Donale's herd of Mustangs will be galloping into a comparatively unknown quantity next Saturday when they square off with the Bengals of Occidental College, the Poly boys are ready. The game will be played at the Los Angeles school in 1940. That year saw the only previous gridiron meeting between the two opponents.

The unknown quantity label comes from the fact that this year's contest will be the second for the orange black of Occidental College, and their first for the Poly. Both teams are on the first step of their schedule.

For the Mustangs the starting lineup will probably be the same as last week at San Diego, with the possible exception of Dieter O'Griffin at left guard. Replacing Dieter, who is nursing a chafing eye, will be Howard Bracker, 22, who was a center in the San Diego game.

Dear John...

Dear John,

I was again very much pleased with Poly's representation at the game in San Diego last week. At least fifteen members of the student body were able to make the 700 mile trip. These boys formed a large marching band that had an entire section of the stands cheering for the Mustangs. Many of the spectators were ex-students. A good portion of the portion wore Cal Poly Alumni. Most of them promised to be here for the home-comings. We had a good representation. The majority of them showed a great deal of spirit. I was glad to see several of Poly's faculty and wives present. It was great to have the "Chief" and his wife there.

I think the singing of "All Hail" was extremely effective. The rooting section sang the same beautifully, and with the team standing at attention it was a stopping spectacle. Again, want to thank all of you who were there; Cal Poly proved again that it shows a outstanding amount of school spirit.

Book Reviews

The book which Ainsley Whittaker has published in England is "Horse Stories," which was edited by F. A. Barmes in 1943. "This collection include stories about thoroughbreds, draft horses, polo ponies, standardbred, ponies, waler horses and reenactors. There are amusing stories as well as the dramatic ones; there is even a special murder story for the fans of the Censurae. None of the stories or poems were selected un Unconventionalism.

It has its hero. A hero (at least I thought it was funny) put in here, because I can easily imagine the power of these are censorial first level humorous nonsense. So no story, for your information, press, EAH! (Not that it was too good, though the idea behind it was.)

I’ll do now.

As a pertinent little let me say that the bigger the summer vacation, the harder time.

Pool Opens; Schedule Made

Beginning this week, the college swimming pool will be open to all students from 8 to 10 a.m. on Mondays through Fridays, according to an announcement made by director of Athletics, Dr. Carl D. Voltiiter. Towels will be available to students at the above hours.

In addition to student hours, Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. have been set aside for the exclusive use of faculty wives, students and offie staff employed at Cal Poly. Sunday afternoons will be reserved for student use. Youthful from abroad, including Poly's families, will be eligible for membership on Wednesday nights not sponsored by any of the groups organized earlier in the season. As a result, it will be impossible for students to make a future date in the column of El Mustang.

ROSA'S PASSES
WIN GAME

There's a football hero on the California Polytechnic college campus today. It's San Luis Obispo's own Joe Rosa. Rosa, 194-pound quarterback, led the badly outnumbered Mustangs to a 21-13 victory over the favored San Diego State team before a crowd of 6,000 fans in Balboa Stadium in San Diego Saturday afternoon.

Not only did Rosa toss the three touchdown passes that gave the Mustangs their victory, but he handled the ball in the key-quarterback spot in Poly's triumph on every play except one during the entire game.

Late Starter

After witnessing Cal Poly's 19-18 defeat by Santa Barbara college before, Astte officials had pegged Jim Yates, right half, and Rufus Malook, fullback, as the men State had to stop. Not only had they overlooked Rosa's coming threat, but even Coach Norris O'Daniels hadn't made up his mind to start Rosa in place of Varn Beberline until a few moments before the game started. That O'Daniels' last-minute decision to otaft Rosa was a break for the Mustangs is attested by the fact that on the first play in the game, Rosa for no gain on four attempts, and the second play in which Poly had the ball in its possession at its own two yard line, Harold Winslow, Poly end, crashed through seven men for the tally, but the conversion attempt, blocked by the Mustang line, left the score, Poly 7, State 0.

In the second quarter, and nearly 100 cards are being made ready for comment last night, however, the Astecs started a passing attack. Howie O'Daniels hadn't made up his mind to start Rosa in place of Varn Beberline until a few moments before the game started. Students' Wives Club Activities

After practicing Poly yells under the guidance of Qifferown and Jack Spaulding, students' wives who attended the meeting Thursday evening, Oct. 3, feel they are qualified to take their places in the cheering section at coming football games.

When the shooting had died down, the regular business meeting was opened by President Anita Banning.

Plans were formulated for a bridge and whist meeting of the club October 17, under the chairmanship of Margaret Weinstein. Vera Jessup was selected as chairman of the Halloween party for husbands and wives, to be held October 31 following the White Tiger game.

Lola Allston, assisted by Norma Thomas and Jo Roney, acted as hostesses at the meeting.

Bridge Club to Meet

The bridge club group of the students' wives club will hold its second meeting October 10, tomorrow night. All students' wives interested in playing bridge are invited to join the group. They will meet in the Hillcrest Building's recreation room at 8 p.m.

Poly Poultry Pupil Pursues Frenzied Predatory Pest

Last week, Ben Caldwell, fresh poultry student, pursued and killed a bobcat on the poultry range. Caldwell was feeding the pullets on the range when he spotted the bobcat on a small hill. The cat was undoubtedly looking over the pullet crop. Bob immediately set out in pursuit, rich in hand. After chasing the cat up and down the game farm windbreaks, he finally cornered it in a gully against the fence. Our boy and the cat made up their minds to finish the battle. Caldwell struck the blow which ended the fracas. Closing in, he finished the job with a few more well-placed blows. The cat weighed eleven pounds and measured about three feet from tip to tip. Ben is having the hide tanned, so he will have a momento of the battle.

Glee Club Organized

Ethel Winn, in charge of the students' glee club, announced that the club had met for an organizational meeting Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the club room. Great things are expected from this group if the singing last Thursday night was an indication of talent available in the group.

Wives Make Pom-Poms

The students' wives club has been asked to make pom-poms to add color to the Poly cheering section. All students' wives who wish to make a pom-pom are asked to furnish their own materials and come to the club room either tonight or tomorrow night. Materials needed are two packages of crepe paper (green and gold), thumb tacks, a dowling pin, and a broom stick or any suitable stick to be used as a handle.
