Mustangs Squeeze Out 7-7 Tie in Oxy Scrap

By TED LANE.

Lady Luck favored the Poly grid gang with one fleeting glimpse of heroics nearly half amile Saturday night to allow the Mustangs to come from behind to squeeze through to a 7-7 tie with an underdog bunch of Bengals from Occidental college.

Midway in the fourth quarter when the indications were premonitorily pointing toward defeat for thePoly eleven, eleven flashes of lightning couldn't seem to get its gears to mesh, quicksilver Walsh, the Bengal halfback, needed to the Oxy 45 yard line, drew back his passing arm and sent a beauty straight to end Bill Hum on the Oxy 15 from where Hum's outstrung the Oxy defenders across the goal line. On the play the ball went into action from the Oxy 35 yard line where it had been thinned down and six to go for Poly.

On the all-important try-point occurred an unusual situation which was for the most part misunderstood by the capacity crowd. Dean Duftus booted the ball through the uprights. However, as the ball was snapped, Duftus noticed an illegal formation in that the Mustangs had no one in the line. The halfback, who was supposed to fill in to the line for Duftus while the big end was kicking, failed to do so. Consequently, Oxy salutarying a successful conversion against Poly.

The "Lions"isman of the week is big, charging Marshall Samuel, Opposing tackles and the Poly line. Duftus promptly booted the ball two yards out, taking up the old ball game. Duftus, but far from being the Bengals laid gone into a 7 to 0 lead and an attempt at a field play from the Poly four-yard line. Fullback Cook Fullman and Freram for the tally.

Moments later Poly's punt proceeded with the ball down in the shadows of their own goalposts. In an attempt to punt from behind the goal line, Dean Duftus got a hold of the ball. The punt, lined back by the Oxy line. The kick went from there Oxy made a first down at the Poly 45 yard line. Three yards down of the subsequent series of plays made the Bengal line booted the point.

As the contest was pretty much of a toss-up. However the Poly "line-up" in the first half, mostly in more than it's usual Occidental definitely played a superior brand of ball in the second half. Oxy Poly. Occidental TOP THE OXY-POLY GAME: A package marked "unknown" exploded and threw a wrench in the powerful Mustang machine.

The "Lions"isman of the week is big, charging Marshall Samuel. Opposing tackles and the Poly line. Duftus plugged the tackle slot for Randolph Field while in the service, and his experience is paying dividends. The Poly fullback's eyes pierced for number 83.

Individual honors also go to Lou Lema, influential Mustang rook who kept the chill from settling in as the Mustangs sally into the game Saturday night.

The Mustang Hooperas, bask-ketballers of Poly, have been working twice weekly In two attempts of two attempts to achieve more of a team. In the line the Ga-bolts of the Oxy-Poly game. The Mustangs got in their fourth victory of the season. Oxy, 24-21.

END OF Nineteen Poly games has been Increased to a long end of a six to two count.

For the coming week, the slate of games has been increased to a long end of a six to two count.

The Mustangs got in their fourth victory of the season. Oxy, 24-21.

Students’ Wives Club Activities

Students’ Wives Club members have had many activities occupying their time recently. The club, which has met every Monday evening at 7:30 and is open to interested singers...

Last Wednesday, the clubroom was the scene of much activity as some of the girls assembled to make pom poms, and others were there to attend the first meeting of the drama section.

Rumor has it that the October social committee had an informal meeting Wednesday night. Their plans were not ready to be disclosed, but there was some mention of hot cider and doughnuts to be served after the Whittier game. These refreshments should prove to be most welcome if the weather turns out to be as cold as it was after the game with Occidental.

Young Farmers Enjoy Hayride and for Supper
By CHARLES HITCHCOCK
Approximately 24 Young Farmers, plus an equal number of the opposite sex, enjoyed the very comfortable hayride and the super-tasting chicken bake which was given last Friday night.

The hayride, made up of a "Chesterfield" and three wagons, transported the couples up Serrano Canyon, although for some reason those couples didn’t know it till they got to the chicken bake.
