Turkey Snaps Leg — Feast Begins

Sixteen years ago this November, one of the most exciting moments in the history of Cal Poly occurred when Chief Flying Fortress "Turkey" snapped his leg at the edge of a runway. The aircraft radio, stated that the field was clear for take-off. At this point, the tow vehicle approached the radio installation on one side of the field and theорт on the other side, with the aircraft taking off just as the tow vehicles touched.

Joe Joins The Club

Following his episode with midgets, Joe, our suddenly below-average freshman, decided that the only way to regain his self-confidence was to join a campus club and throw himself uselessly into its work. Hastily mapping out a plan of action, Joe boldly dashed off to the information desk and assessed the price of a lifetime BOMC membership. In an action carefully designed to attract attention to his importance, he bought his chafed flat solidly down on the point of a carelessly placed pen. Between the twinges of chagrin and the eyewash of the pen, finally, he requested a list of all the campus clubs. Hiding her mirth behind a towel, kept on hand for such emergencies, the girl behind the desk, list at Joe, who set off to proffer his services to whichever club would have him.

Attending his first meeting, Joe expertly offered the suggestion that a number of members of this exclusive club enter an educational display at the county fair. Joe in a big-hearted gesture offered to head the petition to this effect. The partisans are strong, but if the football team is losing, these antic make us look even worse. — M. E. S.

The Taste Of Victory

A few weeks ago Coach Bob Herwig addressed the student body and suggested the means for a student body to give aid to its football team. He mentioned rooting and attending games and bringing the football team more colorful and more enjoyable.

Dear Editor,

I have been enthusiastic about football in fact. I enjoy just about all sports. It's a thrill for me to see the players out on the field, field or handball, hitting for home runs, catching passes, well, anything that goes with football. I always buy a student body card. I am every game and I root hard for the players. I always look at the game and the players as an individual. I always wear my best clothes and root hard for the players.

No, my complaint is with the cheer leaders and the other members of the football team. I have never been in the cheer leading or the band and I don't know much about them, but in my opinion, they are not doing their job. They never seem to be on hand when two collegiate teams are playing.

Pump Bandits Badger Cops

Halloween was generally dull at San Luis Obispo this year. The downtown police force reported scattered "window-breaking and in-motion" flag-waving. The campus security staff reported a gaggle of people setting off the flag poles in front of the Arts building.

But, to five accompanying Cal Poly students, Allen Villiers, Jean Jobe, Joe Changton, Marvin Johnson and Bill Ramsden, the day was a bust. The boys were arrested and were about to be hauled into the police station for a brief visit to the city jail. Again the bill of sale was produced, and the cop had a laugh at the red-faced, sweating cops.

A deputy sheriff was next on the list. He stopped the vehicle at Camp San Luis Obispo, thwarting his attempt to confiscate the stolen car for being on government property. The gut was empty, the boisterous cries of "Thieves, Thieves!" outside the camp. It was over again. But the conclusion was the same. The bill of sale was exhibited, and this time the pump was turned over.

Early Scores

Impressive 40-14 victory over by day advancing on the local gridiron. In First Victory Mustard Gridders Trample reserves. It was the first win of the season for the Colts and was decisive in all respects. Every player on the team contributed to the rout. The first quarter ended with the Colts leading the Mustangs by only 3-0. However, the second quarter saw the Colts take control, scoring five times to lead 27-0 at halftime. The final score was 40-14 in favor of the Colts.

The aerial combination of Quarterback Howard Deckar and Left End Roy Wennerholm featured the offense. Deckar displayed fine broken field running, while Wennerholm was a threat as a receiver. The defense was led by Starback Stu Brown and Guard Charlie Kinahew. Tackling was much improved, but many minutes would pass before the locals began to wonder how the Mustangs were going to stop the Colts. The game was well-administered by Coach Bob Steele, who announced that he was pleased with the showing of his team.

Whittier-Poly Statistics

Cal Poly knocked Whittier college from the unbeaten ranks last Saturday night as the Mustangs rolled over a heavily favored Poly team, 19-0, before a capacity crowd in Whittier stadium. The visitors scored a touchdown in each of the first three quarters and failed to weaken against the Quakers two-platoon system.

No sooner had the fans settled down than the Mustangs drove 83 yards to score after taking the opening kickoff. Halfback Bob Loftus cracked over from the one to give Poly a 6-0 lead with less than three minutes gone in the game. Brown Backs

Whittier lost its first scoring opportunity early in the second period. After slowing the ball down to the opponent's one, Dick Tucker went over to score, but a backfield fumble negated the play.

A Whittier fumble led to Cal Poly's second score a few minutes later as the Mustangs marched 50 yards to pay dirt. Quarterback Howard Deckar, who rumbled for 55 yards on the drive, tossed the ball to Halfback Rod Johnson from the two to make it 12-0. Halfback Johnson was named Cal Poly's most valuable player for the game, while Whittier's star back Enard Johnson drove for 44 yards over the Mustangs. As for the Mustang stars of the game, there were none. Cal Poly won the game, netted a backfield star in a heavy defense, and Coach Chuck Petry no doubt regained the respect due him by his masterful manipulation of reserves to construct Whittier's two-platoon system.

The Whittier board still read, Cal Poly 19 - Whittier 0. As for the Mustang stars of the game, there were none. Cal Poly won the game, netted a backfield star in a heavy defense, and Coach Chuck Petry no doubt regained the respect due him by his masterful manipulation of reserves to construct Whittier's two-platoon system.

This Saturday, the powerful San Francisco 49ers will face the Mustangs. They're not twins, but halfbrothers Marv Johnson and Buddy Thorne are two Spartans intent on picking up that yardage against the Mustangs tonight.
