Dairy To Process Homogenized Milk

Homogenized milk is to be processed on sale by the dairy industry next Tuesday, as was announced today, by Ken Boyle, instructor in cheese of the University of California.

The new product is being processed with equipment recently installed by the dairy manufacturing department for the instruction of its students. Due to the more expensive processes involved, homogenized milk will be slightly higher than regular milk but competitive prices do not. Boyle stated that the department has received many requests for homogenized milk during the past year.

Library Landscaping Showing Progress

Landscaping around the library is taking shape. New additions includes front steps, the outer clothing and loan which will make up the new area. A sprinkling and concrete system also is being installed.

Within the next few weeks consents for four new walks will be posted. The walks will run from four directions and converge at the front entrance of the library building. One walk will run from the corner of Poly and drive and run to the corner of Poly Van drive and Puebla lane and another from Costa avenue. The remaining walk, which is the impact of the front, will come straight out from the library building.

Dav Miss Howe Attends Speech Meeting

Miss Agnes Howe of the English department recently attended a meeting of the Western Association of the Teachers of Speech at San Jose.

Cal Poly was represented by Miss Howe at a committee meeting of the teachers of speech in the state schools. Problems discussed most relevant to the Cal Poly program were the recommendation to increase the speech requirement for the teacher's credential, the size of speech classes, the equalization and site of adequate recording equipment and the development of a production course designed to meet the needs of the small speech major who intends to teach.

M. H. Sponsors Clothes Drive For The Needy

Students at Cal Poly are asked to help in the drive to collect clothing for pre-school children, conducted by the Disabled American Veterans organization and its auxiliary. Used clothing is needed which can be worn by infants and younger children of needy families in San Luis Obispo.

Education leaves clothes at Johnson's Signal Service station on Monterey street, San Luis Obispo county health department, or leaves a note in Box KUS. If students do not find these places convenient, they may call 49-5-S any evening after 6 p.m.

Veterans Entertained By Collegians Quartet

The Collegians quartet, under a variety of selections at the War Veterans' Welfare yestaff Thursday evening, Jan. 13. In the event program, the group was presented by members of the group were: Charles Weber, first tenor Dan McDonald, second tenor; Jack Donn, baritone, and Russ Biehler, bass.

Movie Review

Stewart, Dietrich
Opening Feature

Campus "first nighters" both laughed and cheered as James Stewart, hero of "Hurry Hills Again," wagged a gunless wasp against the backdrop of the process captured the heart of Bob Hope's Natchez, pensar at the opening presentation of the fourth series of the Cal Poly Film Society.

Broncos to Arabians

With the last gentle citrus breeze blowing northward from the San Dimas campus came a roaring instrumental ensemble, "San Dimas' New Name Live," in thenick-of-name of the school from the present tab of Broncos to something more representative of the school—namely Arabians.

And so the student body and the administration of the southern campus are a bit unhappy with the Broncos, while our stable of Arabians represents a single letter that one can stand up and cheer when he sees it in print. Furthermore, it has been used by other colleges and high schools for many years as a name which distinguishes that school from other schools in the state, just as it does when we needed a nickname. Cal Poly Arabians would be as good as any, you see, but it would bring us before the public eye. That way would be much easier than cutting back to the name of the school from the present tab of Broncos to something more representative of the school—namely Arabians.

As for Bronco, it seems a bit under-grade of the southern campus is a bit unhappy with the Broncos, while our stable of Arabians represents a single letter that one can stand up and cheer when he sees it in print. Furthermore, it has been used by other colleges and high schools for many years as a name which distinguishes that school from other schools in the state, just as it does when we needed a nickname. Cal Poly Arabians would be as good as any, you see, but it would bring us before the public eye. That way would be much easier than cutting back to the name of the school from the present tab of Broncos to something more representative of the school—namely Arabians.

According to Dofflemeyer's editorial, it seems the under-grade of the southern campus is a bit unhappy with the Broncos, while our stable of Arabians represents a single letter that one can stand up and cheer when he sees it in print. Furthermore, it has been used by other colleges and high schools for many years as a name which distinguishes that school from other schools in the state, just as it does when we needed a nickname. Cal Poly Arabians would be as good as any, you see, but it would bring us before the public eye. That way would be much easier than cutting back to the name of the school from the present tab of Broncos to something more representative of the school—namely Arabians.

But one more thing before we part. Dofflemeyer. If you want to make some kind of name to let the general public know that the name of the school is spreading, you should not be surprised at the number of man hours it saves the freshman from its pursuit of knowledge. Cal Poly Arabians it's ok with San Luis, but maybe you had better not try to impress the rest of the world with it.

Dear Editor,

I was surprised to read your recent editorial on the subject of the new name of the school, "San Dimas Titans." I am a proud graduate of the school and believe that the name "Arabians" is a better representation of the character and spirit of our students. The name "Titans" is too strong and does not accurately reflect the personality of our students.

Sincerely yours,

Frederic W. Whiting, head of the Cal Poly machine shop, gave a lecture on manufacturing processes to the Mechanical Engineering society of Jan. 9 in the engineering auditorium. He outlined the objectives of the course to maximize manufacturing processes and the possibilities in that field.

This was the first in a series of lectures planned for mechanical engineering senior major courses. Next lecture is scheduled for Jan. 20 when Richard C. Wiley, Invited to attend, will be shown at some of the equipment in the department, will speak on welding design. Movies of the welding process, will be shown at some of the community colleges.

Aerospace Society

A student chapter of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences has been formed at Cal Poly, according to Lester G. Goodwin, aerospace department head.

A committee meeting was held and the following officers were elected: William Hard, chairman; Andrew Aranupa, vice-chairman; Richard Allen, recording secretary; Charles Johnson, corresponding secretary and Ray Belfield, treasurer. This committee is honorary chairman of the society.

Dairy

Plans for the forthcoming banquet will be discussed at the regular meeting of the Dairy club on Jan. 19, in the Dairy building, according to Bob Romeguere, president.

The dinner will be held in February, with the date to be announced later.

Frosh Cagers Split Pair Over Weekend, Nip Bulldog Quintet
By Tony Siera
Cal Poly's Frosh quintet took the Mokelumne Hill gym by storm yesterday afternoon, winning its first two games of the season and improving its record to 3-0.

The first game saw the Frosh take on the tough Janesville quintet. The Frosh got off to a poor start, with Janesville leading 2-0 in the first minute. However, the Frosh quickly regained their composure and began to dominate the game. They went on to win the game by a score of 14-4.

In the second game, the Frosh faced off against the tough Oakmont quintet. The game was a hard-fought battle, with both teams displaying excellent defense. The Frosh emerged victorious with a score of 12-10.

Boxing Team Treks North for Match with Gator Squad
Cal Poly's boxing team departed from San Luis Obispo last night on a trip to Gainesville, Florida, to face off against the University of Florida Gator Squad. The match is scheduled to be held on Friday, January 13, at 8 p.m.

Local Matmen Lose Three From Squad
Cal Poly's wrestling squad was hit hard by the recent withdrawals of three of its members. The withdrawals are due to a combination of academic difficulties and personal reasons.

Tyrone Wilson, a senior wrestler, announced his decision to leave the team last week. Wilson has had academic difficulties throughout his time at Cal Poly and has struggled to maintain his eligibility.

Another loss was incurred with the withdrawal of Dean King. King is a junior wrestler and has been a key member of the team in recent years.

The third withdrawal was of John Brown, a sophomore wrestler. Brown has been struggling academically and has been granted a leave of absence to focus on his studies.

Despite these losses, the Cal Poly wrestling team will continue to compete. The team has a strong nucleus of experienced wrestlers who will be able to step up and fill the void left by these withdrawals.
Varsity Quintet Takes Initial League Contest

By Bob Hardy

In a game which featured four minutes ofcite and a race start, the El Mustang quintet outscored Fresno's Bulldogs, 65-60. The contest, played Saturday night at Crandall gym, was marked by numerous fouls. Fresno was guilty of 28 violations, and the Mustangs reeled off 23.

The Mustangs steadily reduced by the hard fight, and Frediy waa the Invaders' gain only seven points. Fresno started by putting the ball on the floor and was marked by numerous fouls. Fresno closed this to three points, but 31 points on two occasions.

The foul resulted in another point for the Invaders. With about a minute to go, the Mustangs moved to within five points of the Invaders, and Fresno closed this to three points. By being awarded a free throw, the Mustangs finished a bad streak of five straight fouls.

The local held a 20-point lead after four minutes of second half, but this margin was reduced by the local's lack of scoring.

In a game which featured white-footed and a re-arrangement, the Mustangs finished a bad streak of five straight fouls. Fresno finished the game with a 65-60 victory.

El Corral Team Boasts Five-Game Win Streak

A winning streak of five games is held by the El Corral-sponsored, faculty basketball team. Latest victim of the brain trust contest was the E. C. Lancers, defeated by a score of 91-86.

In the Lancers contest, the El Corral took this season's final point on the board. The Mustangs in the end had it in the bag to hold steady.

Accurate & Reliable Mechanic

Newly launched, the navigation department of the University of Southern California offers an opportunity to students interested in the study of navigation.

The department offers courses in navigation and related fields, including aerodynamics, meteorology, and celestial navigation.

Students interested in the field of navigation are encouraged to contact the University of Southern California for more information.
Important Questionnaires

A questionnaire, being circulated among off-campus, single students this week by the Welfare office, Major J.C. Deuel announced today. Purpose of the survey is to get information relative to the current of students who are residning off-campus and their living conditions and rental.

Deuel said that this information would be of value to the Welfare office and might have a bearing on determining the need for new student alley and their return them as soon as possible.
