"Lofty Statements" Rebuffed by Leary In Contest Hints

"Converting a specific meaning about a highly abstract idea is 26 words is a real problem to both the student body and the faculty," said William Leary, English instructor. Leary, one of the judges in the Elks Crusade for Freedom Contest, gave a few hints in what he considered the crux of the problem. "It's a real problem to both," he said.

"If a student really understands the statement he signs, he stands a better chance of explaining it in a way that we will sign it. Therefore, a concrete idea is necessary," Leary stated.

Leary believes most of us day and night write much that is unnecessary. To support this contention, Leary used a passage he read in a recent book from a contest statement. "In those situations and in those times, I should have written less.

Full credit of the contest cannot be given to the gray handbills advertising a contest to students. This is the time to talk about the school. College students are missing the message of the ASB who have not paid their $5 fees and the $25 second prizes.

Time Flies; Drumm Now Instructing Ex-Student's Son

George Drumm, head of dairy department, has another former student this fall. This is the first time in his 36 long experience that he has had both father and son as students. Drumm is currently teaching the second generation.

While he was teaching dairy at Cal-Poly, Drumm published a study of what factors affect the milkability of various sires. The study was a reaction to the outbreak of disease in central California. The study was later published in the Journal of Dairy Science and was read by many dairy students.

The study was conducted in 1950 and involved a random sampling of all the dairy cows in the central California area. The study was later published in the Journal of Dairy Science and was read by many dairy students.

Drumm now holds the position of assistant dean of the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources. He has also been active in the California Dairy Council and has contributed many articles to the Journal of Dairy Science.

Sign Up For The Day Game

To insure adequate seating arrangements, interested students are urged to sign up for the Second Annual Calexico-Chula Vista Game, Friday, Oct. 18. It is anticipated that the Calla Vista High School band and the Cal-Poly band will be in attendance.

Rooms Available On Campus

For those students who do not have a room on campus, there are a few vacancies in the campus dormitories. If you have your deposit in November by Nov. 16, you may secure a room on campus. Inquiries at the welfare office, room 108.

Low Pajama Tops May Win A Prize

That useless pair of pajama pants your grandma gave you last Christmas. Well, you've had it with her style, so why not turn your old pajamas into something new. At least half of the garment might prove valuable. If you really consider rejuvenating your tired pajamas, you may be awarded a prize. A prize winner will be chosen among those who submit their designs. Prizes will be awarded to those who submit their designs. The winner will receive a prize valued at the factory price.

Back Issues Missing

Publications of the college are available in most bookstores and at the campus bookstore. Why All The Noise? Appliance Meter Under Construction

Cal Poly's electronic department is building an applause meter to judge winners of the amateur contest sponsored by the East Lake Chapel. Linea Rick, according to Gerald Peterson, judge and competitor.

The contest will be held at Elmo theater November 3, when all profits going to the Nuss Memorial. Judge winner of the amateur contest, will judge the three entrants. All profits going to the Nuss Memorial.

Gerald Peterson, electronics instructor, according to Ralph C. Shaw of Fox theaters, to help judge the three entrants.

Blanks may be obtained from the Welfare office, Room 65, Ad Building.

State Authorizes School Projects

Students in Deuel dorm will soon be living like dukes. Last Wednesday, May 18, state public works board authorized expenditures amounting to $24,000 to complete construction of the dorm. The new dorm will take 400,000 of this state's money.

A feed storage shed project was also approved, $7,800 for surfacing and grading roads and $92,500 for study and development at Kellogg.

Avoid That Line: Buy Tickets Now

All A&B card holders planning to attend the Cal Poly-Redlands game are again reminded to buy tickets in advance. L. D. Starkey, graduate manager, announced last week that tickets would be sold by the time the stadium would open. Friday and Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The purpose of this advance sale is to provide an opportunity for students standing in line to buy tickets. It was stated by Starkey that students did not show a desirable response last week's sale, but are urged to take advantage of the service this week.

Students Take Field Trip To Seed Plant

The Waller-Franklin Seed company at Guadalupe hosted Cal Poly's seed production class during a field trip Monday, reported Paul Dougherty, crops department head.

Sạiple Arnold, founder and first president of the All-American Selections, now with the Waller-Franklin firm, conducted the group on a tour of the company's fields, test plots and warehouses. Waller-Franklin Seed company, located in the heart of the commercial flower seed area, is promoter of many varieties, including petunia, awaet pea, dahlia, daphln, grace, auranti, hyacinth, and others.

Seed produced in the company's 300-acre area is shipped all over the world and accounts for more than 90 percent of the world's flower seed production.

Local Stage Group Pages Poly Talent

Interested in "play-acting" or backstage work?

If so, there's a place for you in San Luis Obispo Little Theater group, Cal Poly students and wives are cordially invited to join the activities of the 1960-61 season.

In the past, many Polyans have taken an interest in the plays and their presentation, working backstage and starring in the same.

First production of the current season is the smash Broadway comedy, "My Sister Eliza" which will be presented November third. The cast calls for parts for Eliza,新产品 and a wide variety of stage characters.

Rehearsals and tryouts are held every Monday and Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m., at the senior high school stage.

Wine From Vineyard Of Finest Quality

"Wine made last year from Cal Poly's vineyard was of the finest quality," reports Dr. Maynard Amerha of the division of viticulture at University of California.

Paul Dougherty, crops department head, received this report Sept. 8th, when Dr. Amerha was present on the Cal Poly campus to take samples from the vineyard and the Cabernet Sauvignon variety.

Poly plants have demonstrated that this variety of wine is the finest, with its particular environment.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 1...THE PUFFIN BIRD

"What's all the huffin' and puffin' about?
I've been a Puffin all my life!"

You may think this "bird" is funny — but he's no odder than many of the cigarette tests you're asked to make these days.

One puff of this brand — one sniff of that. A quick inhale — a fast exhale — and you're supposed to know what cigarette to smoke from then on. The sensible test doesn't have to rely on tricks and short cuts. It's a day-after-day, pack-after-pack tryout — for 30 days. That's the test Camel asks you to make! Smoke Camels regularly for 30 days. Your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) is the best possible proving ground for any cigarette. After you've made the Camel 30-Day Mildness Test, we believe you'll wonder why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
As We See It...

More than 400 confided faces were in evidence on the campus this week. In case you didn't know, they belonged to freshmen, sophomores, and various others who have gone to the California association, Future Farmers of America, conventions of the state and other similar groups. This week many of the students were out in force. Poly courtesy and friendliness sticks in the minds of these visitors. School spirit can be a powerful determining factor when they or their friends decide to come a college to attend.

It's a Livin' by Garry Goldstein

Need work? Who doesn't? This feature, "It's a Livin'" will appear every so often with news of nine other students who are able to augment their incomes through use of ingenuity or specialized knowledge.

Today we salute Gordon St. Clair and Walt Peterson, who make and radio equipment, and who no nifty joke box. Many of the jokes in the box are derived from the famous "Farge game last Saturday evening.

Peterson and St. Clair bought a machine for $15 last week for only $15. Near they put the joke box for 15 cents. Russell Johnson sold it for 15 cents. Russell played from radio during the "Farge game, practically completed the cost of the machine.

The cost, incidentally, was paid for by "Farge" sales during the day, and it did not come from student body fund. Fully automatic the machine needs no nickles to make it work. Just plug it in and play the whole stack of records in order. The box has been removed.

Both Are Married

Peterson has been married for two years and has an 18-month-old son. St. Clair married, and has been for six years.

The joke box is no longer searching for Room 21 or building B. The crew put the joke box in an unglamorous fashion.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am more than glad to see so many new students about. I have met a few of them and no there to meet in the future. On behalf of the foreign students here, I send a very hearty invitation to everyone to visit the International Student Office. I am sure that you will be welcomed by all means as an essential part of our college education to know the points of view of other countries.

We shall meet on Oct. 3 at 1:15 in the Ad building.

Tariq Al-Din

Dear Editor:

Your description of "It's a Livin'" was well written. Unfortunately, the library has had to tighten its reading room rules. We have to lose some of the library's time, but we have even more to work on the unimportant term paper and find someone has removed needed reference books about the library privileges for the last time, or, as in many libraries, we may not be able to enter.

Keep It Clean

Cal Poly's next landscaping project, keeping its nose clean as a golden retriever. Radial grass will soon see lawn instead of weeds on the face of the campus. The agriculture and horticulture department, Poly will soon be a place for them to remember.

SPORTS CORNER

Here's a possible explanation regarding the "peculiar" officiating of last Saturday night's football game. Take note, the officials were changed. Most officials today are schooled for a particular spot. A field judge works almost exclusively the same territory, and the same group of line men, umpire ind referee. For the Fresno encounter, assignments were shifted. Confusion was the result.

Better Heeds

Dirty tactics are undesirable in any sport. They occur, however, as the Bulldogs game verified. The underlying cause may be hot headed players or incompetent officiating. Football practices are easily tolerated by poor calls. They are on the field to win, and when officials make erroneous decisions it affects their morale and team spirit. I have but one comment to make about the officials of the Fresno game. I can say truthfully that I've seen better hands on picked beer.

Hate Off Department

Doff your chapeau to Bob Newman, Menlo JC transfer who captives for the varsity. Bob displays grace and excellent coordination in his running. Net extremely fast, he changes of pace and a desire to ramble holds him in good stead. Bob was asked how it felt in that first quarter break-away to be in the open with the Bulldogs in hot pursuit. He replied, "I know I was going to be hauled down, but was helpless to do anything about it." He promises, by the way, that once the Mustangs master headman Le Roy Hughes' style they'll really roll.

Team Spirit Is High

While roaming about the gridiron this past week's practice sessions, I still smelled confidence. In spite of two previous losses, the Mustangs high spirit is high on their future chances, and it's a good feeling to know that the players are mighty healthy.

Poly Continues To Expand;
Three Ranches Acquired

Additions of three adjacent ranches will enlarge the Cal Poly campus and add more than 3000 acres this year. Vaní Sheppard, dean of agriculture division, announced.

Two of the ranches, the Barrera Ranch, 560 acres of range land, and the Peterson Ranch, 35 acres of range land, have already been acquired and the 400 acre Cheda bandy and dairy departments have been acquired by the state.

Plans have also been completed for construction of a steer feeding unit and a mobile slaughterhouse for laboratory work on the three, Sheppard added. Work on the feed unit is expected to start sometime this fall.

Located to the north east of the campus, the 150 acres of range land purchased from the county will complete the animal science college's program on the land.

"California has 6,000,000 acres of ranch land, so this program will have a real volume and significance," Sheppard stated. Under it students will study agriculture and manage the land and learn to prepare the animals for market.
