Dowd Welcomes Visitors To Big Show
When the last week-end of April arrives, the Cal Poly campus suddenly flares its face by hosting weeds, cleaning up the dormitories and making the campus look more inviting in general. The reason of course is Poly Royal.

The students put on this show for you—our parents, our friends and our relatives. It is our chance to show off Cal Poly in the educational fields as well as in the extra-curricular field and without your interest, and help, this would be impossible.

So, on behalf of the student body I welcome you to Poly Royal and invite you to sit back and enjoy our show. It is all for you.

Jim Dowd
ASB President

Record Crowd Expected
For Annual 'Big Show'

More than 15,000 visitors are expected to swarm the school campus today and tomorrow for the 19th annual Poly Royal. The "country fair on a college campus," with a record crowd forecast, begins at 9:30 a.m. today and lasts (officially) until shortly after midnight Saturday. Queen

Campus Fed Lambs Score Top Gains, Nab Record Prices

"After recording a record-high lamb price of $3.50 last year, the Poly Fed Lamb program again produced a top-quality lamb for the Poly Royal. The lamb fetching the top price of $3.50, according to Harold Peck, team leader, was purchased at the lamb feeding program for this year's Poly Royal.

The lamb, purchased for $3.50, will be shipped to Kansas City, Mo. for the livestock judging.

The lamb was the only one of two lambs purchased at the Poly Royal lamb feeding program. The other lamb, purchased for $3.00, was purchased for the Poly Royal livestock judging program.

The lamb feeding program is an important part of the Poly Royal livestock judging program, and is designed to provide a source of quality lambs for the Poly Royal livestock judging program.

Frosh English Follows Design For Clear Thinking Talking

By Andy Sabling

Subject matter of Froshman English courses is embeded in the English department's Thule Royal House. Problems of everyday life, especially in the fields of evidence, portraits, cartoons and pictures are used as subjects to choose from. A change of subject may be required by the instructor. The course is designed to give the student a better understanding of the English language and to familiarize him with the methods of the English language. The student will also be able to appreciate the importance of the English language in everyday life.

Students are required to attend classes regularly and to complete all assignments on time.

The course meets three times a week for two hours each. The instructor is Mr. J. M. Hoffecker, who has taught English at Cal Poly for several years.

The course is open to all students who have completed the prerequisites.

Students' Wives Do Their Bit To Aid Foreign Colleges

By Charlotte Laring

As the doors of Cal Poly open during the fall, the Forestry building will be filled with students. Many of these students are from foreign countries and are studying at Cal Poly for the first time. To help these students, the Student Union has established the Foreign College Fund to aid foreign students who are unable to pay tuition.

The fund is supported by contributions from students and faculty members. Contributions can be made in cash or in kind.

The fund is administered by the Student Union, and all funds are used to aid foreign students. The fund is open to all foreign students who are attending Cal Poly.

The Student Union encourages all students to contribute to the Foreign College Fund. Contributions can be made in any amount, and every contribution is appreciated.

The Student Union is grateful for the support of the students and faculty members who have contributed to the Foreign College Fund.

The Foreign College Fund is an important part of the student life at Cal Poly. It helps foreign students to continue their studies and to contribute to the academic life of the university.

IRE May Bulletin
To Display Local Electronics Work

The experimental laboratory setup of Cal Poly's electronic engineering department will provide the basis for the display of local electronics work by the Institute of Radio Engineers' monthly bulletin. The display was used by Norris Neter, senior electronics student from San Francisco in his work on an electronic Fourier Analyzer, a device to determine the frequency and amplitude of the analysis of a periodic wave, says Clarence Ellis, electronic engineering department head.

Neter's experimental work is in the form of a paper to be presented at the annual student papers contest sponsored by the Los Angeles section of the engineering institute. The contest will take place May 1, in the Institute of Radio Engineers' building, Los Angeles. Other presentations will be senior electronic students from Cal Tech, USC and UCLA.

The cover picture for the May issue of the bulletin's institute will be the second time in six months that Cal Poly's electronic engineering department has been featured by the IRE bulletin editorial board.

Attention of all motorcycle and other motor vehicle owners is directed to the regulation stating that "motor vehicles shall be registered with the security department," Steiner reports several complaints to the Security department.

Other contestants will be senior electronic students from Cal Tech, USC and UCLA.
Our Campus Is Yours!

We've worked days and nights. We've planned. We've prepared. We're ready to welcome you to California State Polytechnic College's Poly Royal. We take pride in ourselves on being a friendly campus. In fact, and we're not bragging, we have a nation-wide reputation for our neighborliness. We're willing to go the extra mile to welcome you to our campus. We want you to visit, inspect, participate, and, if you wish, ask questions, about our college and our "country fair."

Remember, you are our visitors. You will be entertained by every facet of our campus, and will take home with us a respect for the campus, in spite of individual departmental exhibits. The industrial, agricultural and all the other departments will be on hand. There are potted and livestock judging shows featuring our local stock. There is a flower show with our own prize exhibits.

Animals Showing Off
For Today's Visitors
On exhibition for Poly Royal are the breeding bulls maintained by students which include 150 registered beef, 150 registered steer, and 200 brood mares.

Buildings include a beef-breedin g, farm and steer shed, plus feed lot to accommodate 200 head of steers. Throughout the project system, including the former stables, a variety of barns and housing is provided for the breeding and show purposes.

In addition to housing and hay available on the campus, approximately 500 acres of additional land are leased for use in the animal husbandry department.

This year, Poly exhibits in the 50th anniversary, a new facility is in full operation. Some animal husbandry majors inherit in devices, tools, and hay properties.

On completion of the classroom, the college in this project system provides the "Learn by Doing" and "New Work,New Jobs" philosophies of the college.

The project receiving fund has grown to more than $80,000. From a $25,000 fund borrowed at five percent interest without collateral, proceeds from additional teaching methods when the college can earn income to operate the project and meet its obligations has provided the "Learn by Doing" and "Farm Work, Farm Living" philosophies of the college.

Thoroughbreds, School Symbol, Top Attraction Claim AH Men

Groomed to perfection, the Thoroughbreds of Poly's stable will again be a top attraction at Poly Royal, says Dr. Raymon B. Bolli, animal husbandry department head. Thoroughbreds this year are expected to be in full bloom, ready to be shown by students for their income. Section.

Because the college is financed in part through a project system, the raising horses has become a symbol, perhaps, of Poly progress. Along with the Thoroughbred unit and horses producing in-stall courses, a boarding school has been in its third year of operation.

Many planter's of the future have purchased and plant into livestock scholarships after completing the three-month training program. Rachel Nocera, former farmer's daughter and Michigan State horseman graduate, has headed the school since it began two years ago. Student horsemen who are displaying their craft today.

Lost Job Starts Cal Poly School

By Russ Fyle

Its 8700 acres sprawling over California's coastal country at the edge of San Luis Obispo, California State Polytechnic college stands today a living monument to Myron Angel, a college graduate who lacked the know-how to drive a nail.

An idea planted in the head of a young man as he walked the muddy streets of San Francisco launched the BO-year history of Cal Poly, which has grown into a 2700 non-co-educational state college enrollment.

In December 1849, Angel, newly graduated West Pointer who crossed the plains on foot from Fort Leavenworth to San Diego, walked San Francisco streets penniless, ragged and hungry.

Lacked Know-How

When a busy man hailed and asked if he wanted a job, Angel said he did. However, upon learning the job was nailing shingles on a roof, Angel balked. He had never driven a nail in his life and told the man so. That was the end of Angel's job opportunity, and as he related in later years:

'I could have told the man a great deal I had learned in books, but nothing about building a house. I met other young fellows who could do blacksmithing, house painting and other artisan work, and were paid high wages; but there was nothing for me.'

Forty-five years later, Angel still recalled that December afternoon on the muddy streets of San Francisco as he pleaded with state legislators to found a school in San Luis Obispo which would teach the hand as well as the head. The first stone was laid and upon that stone a nationally-famous polytechnic college has grown.

Living Testimony

The famous slogans, "Learn by Doing" and "Earn While Learning," have fulfilled through thousands of students the wish of Myron Angel that "no young man or woman will be sent off in the world to earn their living as poorly equipped for the task as I.

As long as Cal Poly continues to produce men to take their immediate place in today's technical civilization, followers of the 'Learn by Doing' "Earn While Learning" slogans can foresee the day when these educational philosophies will be accepted by colleges and universities throughout the world.

Guiding Angel . . . Myron Angel fought for the establishment of Poly to properly equip students to earn their living.

Guiding Hand . . . President Julian A. McPhee has constantly fought for his "Learn by Doing" philosophy since becoming president in 1933.

Twenty-year-old pitcher Dick Thompson has a congenital malformation of his right arm. For all intents and purposes Dick is playing baseball with one arm. There have been many who have overcome like handicap to become stars of various sporting activities. In Dick Thompson there may be yet another.

Wine Aphanty

Starting his baseball career at age 10, he has had nothing but success. At Grossmont high school, in San Diego, our correspondent reported a score of 19 wins against one loss. As a freshman last year, Dick posted two wins and one loss. This year he has garnished eight more victories and two losses. On the Mustang varsity this season he has won two games and has yet to lose. That friend, is pretty fair country pitching.

Fields Well

We were atypical of Dick's fielding prowess. When we asked Dick was a pitcher we had so much doubt as to the limit of his effectiveness. It seemed obvious that opposing batters would have a field day rounding the bases via hunting. But is not the case. In words of Dick himself, "I feel my fielding and delivery to first base will match the speed of other pitchers." Dick uses a similar fielding style of the ones he himself. "In the words of Dick himself, "I feel my effectiveness. It seemed obvious that opposing batters would have a field day rounding the bases via hunting."

Somehow Dick has managed to get a good arm. Both men have mastered the art very well.

Professional scouts have an interest in the sophomore. Dick replied, "I'm very much impressed with the spirit and class C state league. Fresno is a long way from the big top. Such is not the case. In the words of Dick himself, "I feel my effectiveness. It seemed obvious that opposing batters would have a field day rounding the bases via hunting."

Green-White Teams Feature Today’s Spring Grid Game

The 1951 spring football session will wind up this morning when Sheldon Hartson’s Whites tangle with Bob Hurwitz’s Greenies in the 19th annual Poly-Hartson game. The game is scheduled to start at 11 a.m. and will probably last until 12:30 minutes quarters.

The two squads have been fairly well balanced, with a slight advantage going to the Green backfield and the White team line.

Viewing the squads from an overall point of view each team should have a share of power. The Green team will be led in the backfield by Ron Davey at quarterback, Norm Rose at fullback, “Duelist” Rome at half left, and Paul "Jeep" Rose at half right. Fliteline will be Jeffy Frederick at right tackle, Jerry Leather at right end and two key players on both squads are made up of junior college farmstead and members of last year’s fresh team. Coach Roy Hughes and George Princess also have a hand in the coaching of the “Chaff” grid game. Coach Hughes is working with the backs and Coaches Princess with the Greens. Hughes expressed his desire to test the strength of each team, said Hughes, “both teams have a fighting chance to come out on top.” Stay tuned and both squads should have a battle on their hands.

Tracksters Ready For Conference Champion Meet

The latter part of March and early April will mark the first annual Poly Mustang Track team round out the 1951 CCAA season May 8 when it travels to San Diego for the conference meet.

All members of the conference are entered in this year and the competition should be the keenest in CCAA history. Coach Jim Jansen stated last Monday, “The 1951 CCAA finals at San Diego are on tap in May, and I personally feel that there will be more than a 10 point spread between the first place team and the team that finishes last.”

According to the Poly mentor, Fresno State will be the team to beat with Pepperdine and Santa Barbara right behind. L.A. State may be the team to upset any or either of these teams. "LA State seems to have the strength of the conference, and they should win," said Jansen.

Jansen is planning to take a squad of 15 or 16 men to the meet. Jim Done, Kelly Dutton and Jim Harrison, the big point getters for the Green and Gold, are expected to carry Mustang hopes. Mustang chances to rise in the conference were pretty good until the accident at Fresno last week. Preston and Rose were lost for the year. Preston is expected to be back in 20 minutes quartors.

Jansen is planning to take a squad of 15 or 16 men to the meet. Jim Done, Kelly Dutton and Jim Harrison, the big point getters for the Green and Gold, are expected to carry Mustang hopes. Mustang chances to rise in the conference were pretty good until the accident at Fresno last week. Preston and Rose were lost for the year. Preston is expected to be back in 20 minutes quartors.

The 1951 CCAA finals at San Diego are on tap in May, and I personally feel that there will be more than a 10 point spread between the first place team and the team that finishes last.”

According to the Poly mentor, Fresno State will be the team to beat with Pepperdine and Santa Barbara right behind. L.A. State may be the team to upset any or either of those teams. "LA State seems to have the strength of the conference, and they should win," said Jansen.

Fresno's Bulldogs Play Mustang Kickmen Today

Today the Fresno State Bulldogs soccer squad invades the Mustangs oord to try and erase the 4-1 lacing it received at the hands of Cal Poly last month. This game figures to be a highly-contested affair, giving us a good idea of how well the two teams have been doing since the opening-based between the two sides.

Cal Poly's team is made up entirely of foreign students with handfuls of Irish, Italian, French, and German students. Bob Cook is the only American in the starting lineup on the local side.

High scores on this year's team are an enjoyable experience. Here are some Canessa, Bob Hugmo, and Frank Bevloz, a few names you may have heard.

California Workhop for physical education is one of the top athletic coaches in California. He held the basketball coach, and Bruin at Cal Poly, Aug. 8-17.

Coach at Loyola university in Los Angeles is a hotly contested affair since a great deal of rivalry has developed between the two squads. This game figures to be one of the top spots in last week's Sports Quiz.

The Mustangs have never lost to nit it a lick. If you win, we may have a chance to make it a close game.

Davie Aggies Play Cal Poly Today

On Local Diamond

Cal Poly's Mustangs will do their bit today for the 15th annual Cal Poly Royal when they host the local Diamond City College baseball team. Coach Bob Mott has announced Frank Romero as his pitching chime. The Aggies will also have Ray Pauluhn or Bill Lotts as the other pitcher to keep the Aggies in the lead against the local team.

The Mustangs have never lost a Poly Royal contest, and plan to keep that record intact. Last year Don German pitched Poly to a 6-5 victory over the University of San Francisco.
