Aggies Bid Adieu To Old Friend As Sir Bess Buried

By John Mette

A freshly filled gaussian grid was the sign of the confederacy today marking on the fund monies that the college's love for Sir Bess.

Sir Bess Ollis of Taylorton, appropriately nicknamed "Old Bess," died earlier this week in San Luis Obispo. At his funeral service, he was held by his old friends.

A dozen or so daughters that have not come into production will add the concluding chapter to the ant's hungry book of accomplishments.

El Mustang learned today that a number of leading agricultural students are studying the production of guinea fowl at the college's herd. In the past, the guinea fowl was a common bird in the college's herd, but it has not been seen in recent years.

Most of the young men that have been at the college herd for 20 years or more have averaged 25 pounds of fat on one cow. In the last 20 years, the herd has averaged 400 pounds of fat on one cow, which has been displaced by the dairy herd.

Lauren Grand, who is a leading dairy student who has served as the general, was buried in the college's herd.

Gentleman Was Bleeping

In El Corral for the past week, the familiar, listless report of "Old Bess" returned to haunt the herd. "Sir Bess" was buried at the college, and his memory will live on in the minds of all who knew him.

Library Installs Charging System

Installation of a new and modern charging system for books has been completed in the library. The new system is based on the Hadley system punched card for hand sorting.

Consisting of a card on which the borrower will write the necessary information such as call number, the system is a tremendous time-saver service.

Cross Examination on Cigarette Tests

No. 27...THE LYNX

This sporty student really tested off on a long tirade when he found himself podged on the "single puff" and "one puff" cigarette tests. "They're strictly for the birds!" he said. He realized that cigarette mildness requires more deliberation than a cursory inhale or exhale. Millions of smokers concur - there's only one true test of mildness and flavor in a cigarette.

It's the same test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camel as your steady smoke on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgment! Once you've tried Camel for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions.

Crops Men Seek Publicity

Some of you have probably noticed an abundance of stories in the Castile and Crop departments about the activities of the Crop Department. Here we have a department that's really on the ball and is more than interested in seeing that news concerning their activities gets in the paper.

We staff members of the paper are grateful for this interest. Not only does it make our job easier, but it certainly makes for friendlier relations between the Crop and Crop Department. Good publicity never hurt any group.

Students To Test Wine; No Word from WCTU

The viticulture and fruit section of the crop department at Cal Poly's air conditioning majors have been invited to help with a re-seeding experiment pointed toward reclaiming the vast 17,000 acre game area overrun by Are in the Paso vicinity last summer. And El Mustang's fish and game editor, Willard Clifton, urges Mustangs to take advantage of the opportunity to boost their wild life supply.

AC Men Get Slant On Alien Markets

South America and Europe both hold immense promise as markets for refrigeration, Paul B. Christensen, New York, national president of the American society of Refrigeration Engineers, told Cal Poly's air conditioning majors at their Oct. 24 dinner meeting in the JC room.

"The lack of refrigeration facilities on both these continents assures a tremendous market for products and skills," he said in describing his recent trip abroad.

It was a meeting of genuine top brass in the majors' field. In addition to President Christensen, there were Daniel D. Wile and P. H. Askew, treasurer and chairman respectively of the Los Angeles ARKE chapter; George Walker, chairman of the San Francisco ARKE chapter; Dr. Leo Bankoff, Cal Poly poultry husbandry instructor and president of the San Luis Obispo Sportsmen's association, president of the Los Angeles chapter, and L. H. Wills, a helicopter has been chartered for Saturday and Sunday, November 3 and 4, and operations will be underway from early morning until late afternoon each day, weather permitting.

"We've been approached by numerous students who wanted to watch the re-seeding," Bankoff said. "We'll not only be happy to help but happy to have them watch. We need assistants to mix seed, spot areas for the helicopter, handle various phases of control, etc.," Best place to make contact, said Bankoff, will be the Paso guards station. Heliports are being established throughout the re-seeding area and as activity shifts, the Paso guards will be able to receive visitors.

The re-seeding mixture has been prepared by a group led by Dr. Logan Carson, head of Cal Poly's soils science department.

An appropriation of $1,400 was made by the county board of supervisors to help handle planting expenses. The money was secured from funds accrued through fines for fish and game violations. Half of the moneys secured in the county must remain for use in the county, according to law.

Water Polo Future May Be Brighter

"With six returning returning to the fold, the Mustang water polo team should be stronger this year," points out Dick Anderson, water polo coach.

Six returnees from Poly's five wins in last year's team were Dave High, San Luis Obispo; Jerry Nye, Fullerton; Roger Hagen, Los Angeles; Jack Arnold, Fullerton; Joie Madsen, Long Beach and Bob Montgomery, Anaheim, have looked good in early practices.

Coach Anderson believes the team looks good this year and is looking forward to the upcoming season.

Mustang gridiron stars.

Chico State's Mustangs will host the University of the Pacific's Panthers this Friday night. The Mustangs are coming off a hard-fought 13-10 win over Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo last Saturday.

Coach Paul Smith, who has been coaching a young and talented Mustang team, is looking forward to the challenge this Friday night. The Panthers are another young and talented team, and Smith is looking for his team to play well and give their best effort.

The Mustangs are led by senior quarterback John Davis, who has been a consistent performer this season. Davis has thrown for over 1,000 yards and has nine touchdowns so far this season.

The Panthers are led by sophomore quarterback Mike Brown, who has thrown for over 1,200 yards and has six touchdowns. Brown is a threat both with his arm and his legs.

The Mustang defense will have their hands full trying to stop the Panthers' high-powered offense. The Mustangs have given up over 200 yards per game so far this season.

The Panthers have a balanced offensive attack, led by senior running back Mike Smith, who has over 400 rushing yards and six touchdowns.

The Mustangs have a strong defense, led by senior linebacker John Johnson, who has 10 sacks and 10 tackles for loss.

This should be a great game, and both teams will be looking for a win.

Coach Smith is looking for his team to play hard and give their best effort. He is also looking for his team to play smart and make few mistakes.

The Mustangs are coming off a tough loss to Cal Poly last Saturday, but they are looking for a反弹 this Friday night.

Chaplin's Climb To Hollywood: Success, Swift And Permanent

By Estelle Dooley

"Chaplin's role as the comic little vagabond, an undersized, childlike figure with profound overtones, has been appreciated in every part of the world." So begins Theodore Huff in his biography of Charlie Chaplin.

Chaplin was born in the London slums. His father was a chronic drunkard and his mother a third-rate burlesque queen. As a very young man Chaplin joined a traveling actors troupe and while in America, he first worked for Mack Sennett, the famous director and progenitor of the Keystone characters.

Huff quotes James Age In Life magazine (1940) summing up Chaplin and his work: "Of all the comedians, he worked most deeply and most shrewdly within a realization of what a human being is up against. The 'Tramp' is centrally representative of humanity as many-sided and as mysterious as Hamlet, and it seems unlikely that any dancer or actor can ever have excelled him in elegance, variety or pathos. He is the finest pantomimist, the deepest emotion, the richest and most poignant poetry are in Chaplin's work."

Huff's book contains many photographs of the early day movies, when Charlie pranced with Marie Dressler, Mabel Normand, and Rudolph Valentino. The book has excerpts from Chaplin movies including Chaplin's two latest pictures, "The Great Dictator" and "Modern Times."

Dr. Dooley...
