Mustangs Seek Fifth Win
In Final Home Grid Game

By Ed Rider

Prospects look bright for the Cal Poly football team to finish its final home game on a note of triumph tomorrow night in Poly stadium. Coach Roy Hughes' Mustangs are a solid favorite to dump the invading Cal Tech Engineer eleven.

On the strength of their winning against Santa Barbara the locals are currently pegged as even-to-even favorites.

A good crowd is expected to witness the contest, the first meeting between the two clubs since 1946. Coach Roy Hughes and Poly's Athletes club also has its best record in years.

The Engineers have at last thrown off the weak side stigma they have borne for so many seasons and now have a fine account of themselves since their opening game against Cal Tech. Hughes has a record of 3-0-1, while his opponent has a 2-1-1 mark.

Poly's defensive line has been highly praised since it held the Southern California-reared running game in check. Previously regarded as something of an Achilles heel, the defensive front was a wall of rock, coming into its own last Saturday as it stopped the Gauchos cold.

Cal Tech Can Sell

Cal Tech has a tough four steps back. Led by Pat Fazio, former high school stand-bye star, in Los Angeles, and Dick Karls, one of the few Techers to roll, top effort turned in by the Panda crew, the upset saw Cal Tech.

Coach Hughes is not looking past this game to the season finale next week with the East Los Angeles, and Dick Karls, Kansas University and West Coast.

Hughes said he would give it his best effort, too. He declared the vote legal. During the discussion an April announcement was made which read some intervarsity as a result of the local poll. The question of whether or not to continue Poly's union was to be decided from the plan tonight.

In answer to the charge that students were not allowed to neglect the usual reason given was that one master lease for small study halls. The ASB officers. Usual reason given was that it would tend to dull more visible importance to ASB officers. The Engineers have to be the bookworm variety, put in a winner in the season. The question of whether or not to continue Poly's union was to be decided from the plan tonight.

Local Aid Needed To Help
Finance New Year's Float

"There's less than two months time before Cal Poly goes on review in the Tournament of Roses in Pasadena," said Verner Mis, ASB president, today. "The time is short, special meaning to student body members, we don't know, either often.

This year's float represents the local aid needed to help Finance New Year's Float. As a result of the float's success, the Poly will go on to the national float, and the Poly will have the chance to win the national float.

Local interest In the game has increased daily, probably because of the way Poly has gained much confidence in last time he carries ths ball. Bravo is solid favorite to dump the invading Cal Tech Engineer eleven.

Student Public Relations At Local Theaters Given Check

By Bill Cain

"Too rowdy, or just typical of a college town!" A follow-up question was asked by your reporter of the employees and managers of the local theaters.

First, I went to the Fremont theater and questioned several ushers, ticket takers and girls behind the refreshment bar. The Poly students cause most of the disturbances during a picture, I inquired. One usher replied, "No. They don't make any more noise than high school students or borringerues.

I left the Fremont and dropped over here. "Hi Joker. What do ya' ask me?" I asked another usher. "Are Poly students more typical than other students?" I continued. "What do you think?" I asked. He replied, "Well, I don't think they're any different. But the Poly students are more rowdy than the others. They're always trying to cause trouble.

I went to the Obispo theater and talked with the theater manager Asher Bhaw and the bulletin board next to El Corral. He said, "I agree. The Poly students are more rowdy than the others. They're always trying to cause trouble."

Later I located Fox West Coast theater manager Aaron Shaw and asked his opinion of the situation. He said, "I agree. The Poly students are more rowdy than the others. They're always trying to cause trouble.

I went to the Higuera theater and talked with a theater investigator's report. Who wishes that at the Higuera there has been more noise than necessary.

I left the Fremont and dropped in at the Obispo theater. In response to the same questions, ushers and doormen gave the same answers.

Another time the Obispo theater manager, C. B. Taylor, appeared. He asked his opinion of the situation and he replied, "Yes, I think that the Poly students are more rowdy than the others. They're always trying to cause trouble.

I went to the Higuera theater and talked with the theater manager. He said, "I agree. The Poly students are more rowdy than the others. They're always trying to cause trouble.

It's the sensitive test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camel as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camel for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (7 for Throat, 7 for Taste), you'll see why...

Competition Costs Money

Editor's note: The following editorial does not necessarily reflect the official position of the Associated Students. However, we feel that there is enough general sentiment on the matter to justify its publication.

Today, in Alpine, Texas, there's an inter-collegiate rodeo. Four and one half years away, the same rodeo is here.

Next week, the Chicago International Livestock Exposition opens its doors to inter-collegiate judges. Five hundred men and the team coach will represent Poly.

It's not just the Texas meet or the Chicago show, but a dozen plus other judging meets and inter-collegiate rodeos, too. They are continually bringing honor and prestige to our team, at the same time draining money from our membership revenue.

In view of this, it is only reasonable to ask the question, 'How much of this fund can be used for this trip in view of the tremendous burden of travel, hotel and meal expenses?'

Rumors, and they're never factual until proven, tell us the Spurs has a maximum of $800 in a judging team fund, that of the Associated Student Body, California State Polytechnic College, which would do for a better audience.

This and Then Some

Notice in the paper that a girl gave birth to a baby in her sixth grade classroom. The mother was on her way to her sixth grade classes after the afternoon intercollegiate rodeo meet.

This is reported that $800 in the team fund is insufficient to meet expenses. It is important to collect pledges from team members to fill the gap.

A smart measure I must say. Just think how much a $467 bill—paid mainly by team members; a six man rodeo team.

As we write, three alternates and their coach rang up a $260 figure—paid by the team members.

When the groundswell of protests, Charles Mullen, took it upon himself to clean the fish pond for the other day as a tidelines measure for homecoming.

The Downbeat

Another Homecoming past and the Gianlo Visca of the Associated Students to look for their tickets and try to recover enough to pull out their heads from their names. It's a little too late to fill orders for the next Thanksgiving turkey. It's almost time to wash the dishes and the Fall quarter will be post-haste.

The Music department has much to do within the next week, as some of you may have noticed, according to official ARB reports not a single penny will be available as soon as final arrangements are completed.

Campus Wheels Get Acquainted In Upside Down Club
"It's the upside down club, with everything going backwards, and anything that can be wrong with a club we have done it," stated Lawrence when interviewed about the new organization, the Fantasemut.

This club is without status; it has no laws, bylaws, or constitution, and membership is expected. To be a member of this organization a student must be one of the campus "wheels," a club president or member of some other executive board.

Lawrence added, "The club has a personal touch — no rules. If the members wish to change the steering wheels and handle or parts of different departments, the club is ripe to accommodate their problems in setting up the organization for the various clubs." Each meeting is divided into two sessions. The first half is devoted to the table topic. At the preceding meeting, a member of the committee table-top chairman. He finds a subject of mutual interest to be discussed at the next meeting. Each member then gives a short 3-minute talk on his views of the subject.

Some remarkable football, pitch has been credited to Missou University. Missou has played four games correctly, for the score was 55 to 14. Missou was stomped only by the University of Washington.

What makes "Pig's" predictions worth mentioning was his current tab of the Stanford-Berkeley-Athletic association, 38-17. Remaining schedule is:

Fresno State last week on the local course, 10-0.

Hans was stumped only by his correct tab of the Stanford-HC relations, 7-0. The second was correctly predicted.

The first half was rather slippery played, with eight fumbles and six intercepted passes slowing down both attacks on offense. Linebacking, by the Mustangs was the key of the game. Cage had a sack of the Mustangs, and each of these was recovered by Mustang defensive men.

The pass interceptions were made by three players.

The next time Poly got its hands on the ball and almost made a score, there was a fumble just for the right Poly would have recovered, but it was recovered by Murtang defensive end.

The first half was almost complete, Santa Barbara, 14-7. The second half was dominated by the Mustangs. The score was increased, 48-7, by running rampant through and around the San Francisco State defense. The Mustangs were on top.

The third quarter was a repetition of the second. Mixing passes with the line and running the ball, the Mustangs were able to gain yardage, 171 yards.

Outstanding In defensive line

Willie and McIvor were doing a mighty unhappy nowdays. The third quarter was played as the Mustangs had attacked by running rampant through and around the San Francisco State defense. The Mustangs were on top.

Many things writers call our team members can stand without exception but not a Chin State sports rep's impression of the game. 180-pound Bruce, the star of the Chico game week before last. The Coach referred to Bruce as the Poly's "most successful season.

"Things are looking up for us, you know," he said. "We're in line to improve in the 1950 record of 12-2, which was right high."

Jorgensen reported Madison, on whom he planned to build down second-round center-post, has been called into service.

"I hate to lose him," said Jorgensen, "but when he was told of Madison's receipt of induction notices, it was a valuable asset to the team.

The CCAA Indoor Premier is to be at the Poly, but the gayest and most entertaining will be the Poly-Chico game before week.

Here are the line-up, heading ground gatherer in the rough CCAA, accounted for Poly's second score with a 3-yard scoring ramble early in the third period. Vildoce took a 3-yard score at the Poly 6 and broke into the clear on the Poly 6 after a break down the side line.

Billy doesn't take all the credit for his long two long jaunts for the only Poly TD's against Santa Barbara Saturday night. He gives a lot of it to Chuck Hahn, Ban Sherman for ditto plus downfield blocking.

All for the win, Steve Keeler said he couldn't believe we were going to win before they started playing. When there were the voices of Chuck Hahn, game and "Bill, no, Coach, get Hahn out. Coach. Coach." "If Stanford can do it so can we don't need 18 yards...

El Mustang Gives Worthy Suggestion

El Mustang, a campus newspaper, suggests that every club or organization should make sure that one or more of its students is enrolled in a course in reporting and public relations. Journalism courses are by no means closed to groups interested in journalism majors. They are service outlets to the entire school. The old days whereby the college could be covered by a handful of reporters are gone. Cal Poly is too large, and the correct way by far, to guarantee that your group obtains its share of publicity is to develop a healthy supply of your own qualified reporters.

Individually, students who learn the techniques of news and feature reporting develop a new outlet for their creative abilities. Of even greater importance, they accumulate a skill that has shown itself of premium value in modern business and industry.

Make a survey of your group. Find those who have had experience on their high school or junior college publications. Or those who would like to try a Winter quarter course in journalism. The time to do the sorting is now.

Cal Poly will be offering courses in slaughtering meat animals this Winter quarter.
