MEMORANDUM

Date: January 1994

To: Academic Senate

From: Status of Women Committee

Subject: Call for Scholarship Nominations

The Status of Women Committee will be awarding three scholarships again this spring in consultation with the Women's Studies Program. These scholarships are awarded only to students who have been nominated by Cal Poly faculty and staff. Please share this information with your colleagues.

The purpose of the scholarships is twofold: to honor each scholarship's namesake and to recognize three Cal Poly students who have demonstrated commitment to the rights of women. They are:

- The L. Diane Ryan Scholarship, $400 awarded to a Cal Poly student who has been identified by faculty or staff as having the potential to provide moral leadership in the work force of the future;

- The James M. Duenow Scholarship, $300 awarded to a Liberal Arts major considering a career in law as a feminist attorney;

- The Robert S. Harmon Scholarship, $300 awarded to a Journalism major considering a career as an investigative reporter; preference given to students with Mustang Daily experience reporting corruption, cover-up, or crime against women.

Please keep these scholarships in mind during the next few months. Nominations may be sent to the Status of Women Committee in care of the Academic Senate Office on or before Monday, April 18, 1994.

As faculty, this is your opportunity to recognize exceptional Cal Poly students you encounter in or outside the classroom and to reward integrity. Thank you.
