Cal Poly Appoints Scholarship Coordinator

SAN LUIS OBISPO – Cal Poly’s University Advancement division has appointed Allison Jones as its first scholarship coordinator.

Jones will help establish scholarships, internships and endowments. She will also coordinate donor relations and will develop and maintain the scholarship giving Web site.

Jones comes to Cal Poly from Children’s Hospital Central California in Fresno, where she worked as the foundation representative for major and planned gifts. Previously she served as director of resource development for Kids Included Together in San Diego.

She holds a bachelor’s degree in sociology from the University of San Diego.
