Resolutions Accepted by Student Vote

The tabulation of the ballots concerning the Western College Congress resolutions which were voted upon by Poly students two weeks ago, showed a general acceptance of the majority of the proposals, according to Bob Rivers. However, there were a few of the resolutions meeting with negative faculty with Mustang voters.

These failing to be accepted were: Art. 5, no. 6; Art. 6, no. 2; Art. 8, no. 2; Art. 9, no. 2; Art. 10, no. 2; Art. 11, no. 2; Art. 12, no. 2; Art. 13, no. 2; and Art. 14, no. 2. These proposals were more evenly divided on some of the other proposals.

The remainder of the resolutions passed by a majority of one to one or higher. The total number of ballots cast came to 221, which is a 14 percent of the student body. This is a relatively high portion of the eligible voters. It is an encouraging sign that there are many students at Poly who are interested in international politics.

Rivers added that the results are in the process of being forwarded to Clifton Forster, chairmain, Western College Congress, Stanford University, to be included with results from the 32 other western colleges. These final tabulations will be made public as soon as the information is received.

Pork Club
Talks Turkey
J. J. Mac Irlrath, internationally known research worker in turkey breeding, spoke before the Pork Club at a special meeting Feb. 24 at 7 p.m. in CR 16.

A field representative for the California Turkey Growers association, Mac Irlrath will draw from his 12 years' experience as superviser of the Ontario Turkey Research farm, Ontario Agricultural college, Guelph, Ont., Canada and try to clear up problems pertinent to the conditions facing prospective turkey men of today. He will also attempt to answer all questions put to him by the club members.

Mac Irlrath has had practical experience as a breeder, exhibition judge and judge. As well as field and range management, he is known for his ability to detect fertility in a fresh turkey egg. Many of the club members are anxious to learn how to use this device. Dozens of other problems will be discussed during the evening.

A short business meeting will provide the talk and there will be an opportunity to meet the speaker personally after the formal discussion.

Shi Club Invades
Bogger Pass
Yoemen's Bogger Pass was invaded by seventeen members of the Poly Ski Club on the week end. Leaving the campus Friday afternoon, the ski fraternity made their way to Yosemite Lodge that night, the skiers removed, the members enjoyed a superb dinner, and little crowds with nine men in a four man cabin.

The three towns operated all day, and with a variety of trails to choose from the skiers were entertained to their heart's content. Outside of a few stranded members there were no more than two or three lions. That evening, with their eyes opened, the members enjoyed skating and dancing at the resort hotel.

Intercollegiate skiing was witnessed Sunday and it is the object of the ski club to improve the skiing of its members so that they may enjoy future meets.

Mech. Eng. Club
Charges Name
At the regular bi-weekly business meeting of the Poly Engineers club a new constitution and name were approved by the members.

The old constitution became obsolete with the approval by the vast body of a new BAC constitution. Rather than amend the old constitution, a new one was drafted by a committee appointed by the president, Paul Weller. The name has been considered upstairs for a long time by the majority of the membership. With the need for a new constitution, a new name was also considered. The name was changed to Mechanical Engineering Society.

The meeting moved to the projection room where the members viewed three very interesting programs.

New members are welcome to all future meetings and to participate in the activities for the remainder of the year.

A.P.O. Club To Request National Charter
At the meeting proposed chapter of the National Services Fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, twenty-four men decided to form a club called APO which must be ratified by the Poly campus. It is the club's purpose to invite as soon as possible to the national headquarters.

The regular meeting of the New club will be held on Tuesday, February 26. All Catholic students are invited to attend as a guest in the club.

Interesting program is planned.

BULLDOGS TO BARK TONIGHT

Aztecs Encamp Tomorrow

The Bulldogs from the Valley move into the Poly gym tonight in an effort to find out what makes the Mustang run. Fresh from an upset over O.P, last weekend, the Fresno club will be out looking for their third victory this season.

By Bob Vanberg as the point, and Len Bonderman at one of the two guards, the Mustags Western Warmdrom has come up with a sharp-shooting aggregation. Don Carman, who scored 16 points earlier in the season, missed a foot from the free-throw line, and others are evidently recovering.

On the Poly side of the issue, the pastures looks a little greener for the first time in weeks. After the “kinitas” against San Jose last Saturday, it looks like the night for Coach Jorgensen’s boys to roll. The Poly lads are at top shape and with a couple of wise could pull themselves out of that cold dark alley.

True enough, only one win can be had tonight, but the San Diego Aztecs will pitch their wigs against the Bulldogs and you’ll have to know what might happen as a friendly little warm-up.

The Aztecs gathered one more victory out of the fold this week with the return of Dick Barnes to the starting crew. This has been high point man for the tribe all season and few tears will be shed at his return from Aztec eyes. Backing up Barnes on the left guard is Ken Wuffmeyer at guards, Tom Rondan, and a fresh shopping in the wing.

Just to give you a rough estimate of how sharp Coach Charlie Smith’s club will be out looking for their third conference victory this season, removed a 0 foot 6 hunk from the Bulldog*, but the Fresno Poly was there to find out what makes the Mustang firing line against the Fresno Poly.

Bob Mott’s Frosh will go to the line-up. Barnes has been high man for the tribe all season and few tears will be shed at his return from the Bulldogs.

Cross Country Men Enter And Place In Marathon

A group of cross country team possess this week several runners as a result of placing third in the first annual Excelsior Marathon race held in San Francisco Sunday.

Walker offered, covering two laps of the two and one quarter miles course in 33.42 minutes, took a fourth place finish ahead of eight other Cal Poly entries. Also plac­ ing for the Mustangs and their times were: John Lesley, fifteenth, 8.31; Ernest Johnson, sixteenth, 8.31; Dick Weston, seventeenth, 8.31; and Bob Las, twenty second, 8.31.

Forty six started the race which was open to any five men, any students or faculty members, with eight teams forming the contest.

Track Coach Edward Jorgensen stated that he was pleased with the Mustangs, with Mike Churillo, Jim Amos, A1 Enfield, Jim Dows and Russ Lucca making the line-up.

Track Coach Edward Jorgensen

Track Coach Edward Jorgensen was pleased with the showing of the Cal Poly runners for they were up against some of the best on the coast.

Jorgensen indicated, the first track contest has been set for this year and the Poly is new track club against Westmont college of Santa Barbara and he expect all members to begin workouts immediately.

Doubles Teams Enter Tri-County Tournament

The Poly dairy recently was awarded the “Key of the Door” trophy as a result of placing first in the tournament.

The Poly herd averaged 466 pounds of butterfat during 1947 and have two smaller weights, 112 and 113 pounds of butterfat or more.

FOR MENS LACROSSE

The men’s lacrosse team possesses this week several runners as a result of placing third in the first annual Excelsior Marathon race held in San Francisco Sunday.

Walker offered, covering two laps of the two and one quarter miles course in 33.42 minutes, took a fourth place finish ahead of eight other Cal Poly entries.

Track Coach Edward Jorgensen stated that he was pleased with the Mustangs, with Mike Churillo, Jim Amos, A1 Enfield, Jim Dows and Russ Lucca making the line-up. The bout score stacked up 6-4 in favor of the Spartans, with Mike Churillo, Jim Amos, Al Enfield, Bob Redden and Art Chaffee, Irvin Hussein and Hank Moroski.

Close Encounters Repeated As Mustangs Drop Two
By Bill Reeh

The Mustang hoopsters did it again last weekend, losing to COP 66-52 and dropping a close one to San Jose State 56-53.

Both games were away from home and ended Cal Poly's run of appearances for the season.

San Jose was the scene of the Saturday night game and the Mustangs were the beneficiaries of a few minor upsets. Meanwhile, the Spartans at the half, Poly came back on the floor to almost bury the court with baskets in the second half so as to score 30 points to Joe's 66. But the night point lead the Spartans had built up at halftime was too much to overcome.

Bobby Coughlin made a lone stand to keep Poly in the game at intermittent times with his timely shooting. All Bobby did was to score 10 points in the first half, Hughes, leading point maker in the league, didn't do so badly himself as he dropped in 18 points in the first half to help San Jose's cause.

Spectacular Second Half

In the second half Coughlin and several other key men from the crowd with their sensational play, Moroeki, who was held to three points in the first stanza, began to get his eye and Coughlin continued to hit the bucket to run the Spartans a merry chase.

With four minutes left in the game, San Jose was able to hold onto to two point lead. But the Mustangs kept getting back in to tie the game, and terrific pass began to tell and the hard fighting Mustangs could get no closer. San Jose did a good job of freezing the game, although several opportunities were missed. They only had two points as the game ended 66-52.

From Early School Days

By Phillip Naarallah

There is no evictant practice then, all the mission schools in the Orient used to do, such as, to have their curricular to what they mostly called, "spiritual enlightenment." For instance, the students that were boys of less than ten years of age, these "spiritual sessions" had come about because the old men in the village, whom we remembered and recited fluently pages and verses from the Bible. Of course we hardly understood a word.

As we decided to stick together and ignore the Ten Commandments by cheating.

I well remember that day when my friend and deskmate was called upon to recite Psalm III. He went smoothly like a parrot through the first half of the as­

He blushed and trembled and simply could not recite with him all the lines of the verse that read, "The works of his hands are very and I judgment of the day.

Before we had time to rejoice, a back seat passenger Ansley, who was out of the bus in protest: "Sir, sir, he prompted him" to recite Psalm III. He answered surprisingly for clarification the boy went on to say, "I saw him press his hand to remind him of the ten commandments. I remembered the verse of The works of his hands are very and I judgment of the day.

Caught Off Guard

The teacher was surprised, and luckily enough no one looked up. After a very heartburning laugh in which we joined rather costiously, he remarked, "I wonder which one of you boys is the brightest?—the originator of this so called trick, or the one who de­

School For Country Printers

Attracts Wide Interest

By Don Torey

El Mustang's "School For Country Printers" has aroused international interest, it was an­ announced today by A. M. "Bert" Felioer, president of the school.

Applications have been received from students of the school, in all parts of the world, including Washington, D. C., Missouri, Utah, and California.

"This course is still primarily for the student in the printing industry in California." The course, under the supervision of the school's director, Guy Collyer, has now 14 male students and a maximum enrollment of 50.

The student, at the conclusion of the course, is given a certificate of attendance, and is required to do such work as the instructor and the student deems necessary.

The course is designed to teach the student how to operate a country newspaper and job shop, or work for a newspaper and job shop in any other branch of the trade he chooses.

The school now has as its main equipment, three linotype machines, the latest type, to make a bold face; a high-speed job press, a new power paper cutter and all other necessary pieces of machinery needed for a job shop.

In addition to publishing the school's weekly newspaper, El Mustang, the school also produces the monthly magazine of the State College of Agriculture and the country school paper, The Arizona Farmer and News. The school also publishes a student organization of the State College of Agriculture and the country school paper, The Arizona Farmer and News. The student body of the school is required to do such work as the instructor and the student deems necessary.

Union Pacific Ag Program

Aids California Students

Joe W. Jarvis, supervisor of agricultural development of the Union Pacific railroad, was the principle speaker at a banquet of the Cal-Poly chapter of Young Farmers, held Thursday night, Feb. 12 at cafeteria No. 1. Jarvis presented a picture of the late Carl Raymond Gray, originator of Union Pacific Aid California Student.

"Mr. Jarvis was happy to hear approval for the picture of Gray and stated that he was eager to hear the song in the song and I have observed that Carl was doing just that," Jarvis reviewed the history of the Carl Raymond Gray scholarship plan.

The scholarship, first given in 1921 in Nebraska and since then 'has been opened to every state served by the Union Pacific colleges,' Jarvis said. He pointed out that seven students have been given the award since its inception and stated that he was happy to hear that the program had been expanded to the college.

Verena H. Memach, dean of student welfare, introduced the speakers and introduced the students at the banquet, and a cover picture showing Department Head Dick Leach and student Ted Cope.

As the result of a recent visit to the California State Polytechnic College campus by Roland C. Hartman, editor of the "Pacific Poultryman" magazine, the February issue of the magazine contains a feature story on the poultry department and a cover picture showing Department Head Dick Leach and student Ted Cope.

The magazine, with a circulation of more than 50,000 copies, reaches practically all of the poultry industry of the Far Western states.

Subsidy Boost

An increase in the budget for the 16th annual Poly Royal was approved by the Student Affairs Council last Tuesday night. The increase boosts the subsidy from the Associated Student Body to $1,500. The additional funds were requested to meet rising costs in many phases of the show.

Major increases were made in the traffic control department, transportation costs for queens and princesses, and an additional outlay for more publicity. The latter was made necessary by the decision to publish an additional 26,000 copies of the Poly Royal Pictorial.

Other Business

Ed Durlin, member of the interdepartmental council presented a revised plan for the awarding of activity keys. Following discussion of the revisions, the plan was tabled until the next meeting.

John Conner, president of the Boots and Spurs, presented a request to the SAC for partial support of the rodeo team for their forthcoming trip to the intercollegiate rodeo in Arizona. The Student Affairs council voted to authorize $300 expense money to each member of the team going, stipulating that there would be a maximum of six members on the team.

John Wright was authorized to investigate the costs and possibilities for cleaning and fixing many of the College trophies before they are put in the new trophy case.

"New Far East" To Be Discussed By Chinese Historian

Dr. Yu-Shan Han, eminent historian and orator, is in San Luis Obispo and will present an open forum tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the library of the local junior high school according to Fred L. Petersen, principal of the night school.

The topic for his discussion will be the "New Far East" and will incorporate the United States' role in the Japan-China-Manchuria locality, explained Petersen.

Petersen added that Dr. Han is said to be well acquainted with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and is at present on leave of absence from St. John's University, Shanghai.
