Gridiron To Echo Pounding Hoofs As Mustangs Begin Season Workouts

King football will take over the Cal Poly campus next week as Coach Chuck Pavelko's Mustangs return to the grid. Close to 60 gridders will return for one day's practice under a new mentor. Pavelko will be aided by assistant coaches Sheldon Harden, Bob Steele, former Cal Poly player, and freshman scout Bob House, former San Francisco City College player. Pavelko stated yesterday that the equipment will be issued Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday, along with the equipment, will be a well-rounded pre-season workout to get the team in top physical condition.

The state championships for the newspaper boy baseball championship will be decided Sunday at Cal Poly's new athletic field. Game time is 3:30 p.m.

Contending teams will be those of the Stockton Normal and the Los Angeles Examiner. Each team has a baseball team that has been built to compete under the usual rules. The Los Angeles team is to be used to train the local baseball team and is to be supported by an air of irreproachable pride.

Not only will be seen at the games but the local baseball team will be a part of the players. The games will be played to promote the entertainment of the players and the enjoyment of the spectators. The games will be played in San Luis Obispo tomorrow. The state champions for the Los Angeles Examiner will take over the Cal Poly campus next week.

Moroski's Mailbag

Ray Young flew into town the other day and managed to give me a few interesting bits of information. It seems as though Pete Moroski, the new head of "O'See's" All Stars, has registered at the U.S. Open at San Francisco Country Club, and I saw to see a man of Pete's capabilities, and casually, I ask and I know for sure that Bob Moroski is back with the 101st shirt, will miss him too.

Bob Balich, Cal Poly's John Wayne, has finished his north woods logging project months before the deadline and is now rest­ ing in Pasadenawith his cohort, Bobby Cobign. Do any of you wonder that Davy's favorite metal Balich used to wear on his key chain? It's well's been rumored that he has partied with this most private profession, and that one of the local bellas is sporting it with an air of irreproachable pride.

It was nice to see the fine young National Guardsmen mingling around the streets of San Luis Obispo. It is kind of me with that feeling of comfort. It was also very nice to see those leaves for now it is possible to walk.

I see where Joe Griffin and his old buddy Len Swanson are a couple of the more anxious re­ turnees for Coach Chuck Pavelko's team.

Naval Authorities Reject County Armory Proposal

An announcement was made last week by Vance D. Lewis, local representative of the county Naval Reserve district, that the Navy department has officially rejected the application for establishment of the local Naval Reserve unit for an organized battalion and armory in San Luis Obispo.

"Although establishment of an organized battalion in San Luis Obispo is justified on the basis of interest, need and accomplishment," he read, "the Naval Reserve budget has been set up for a certain number of units, and these have all been assigned.

In commenting on this new reversal of events, Lewis said, "Our only remaining hope is for larger Naval Reserve programs so as to possibly reallocation of units within the twelfth Naval district."

During the regular U. S. N. R. meeting at Cal Poly Monday night, a four point program was outlined for the future of the local Naval Reserve unit.

1. Continue to be rated the number one volunteer unit in the twelfth Naval district.
2. Plan an educational program of semi-monthly meetings leading to enlisted advancement in rate.
3. One day training outside of San Luis Obispo at least four times a year.
4. It is possible for local men to qualify for benefits under the new system.

Groups of Naval Reserves in different communities were requested to get together informally with the county-wide meeting, September 15, and discuss this program with the idea of advising county-leaders of the desires of the men themselves.

Withdrawal of Students
Required To Complete
Forms Before Leaving

Students, who are leaving this college at the close of the current quarter, should withdraw properly by completing forms available at the Student's offices, Adm. 102.

PL 348 veterans should obtain form 11-103 and make application for a supplemental certificate of eligibility at the time of withdrawing

Vets Urged To Keep
Records of Benefits

Veterans are advised by the Veterans Administration to have on file, certified copies of public records. These include marriage license, proof of legal relationship of children, and proof of dissolution of former marriage, if any.

By so doing the veteran helps to expedite the processes if he ever becomes necessary for any member of his family to file for any kind of compensation.

346 Vets Must Complete
Re-Enrollment Form

All veterans students currently enrolled under PL 348 will be dropped from subsistence rolls by the VA at the closing of the summer quarter on Sept. 15. A re-enrollment form 70-52 will be furnished to each student so he can enroll for the fall quarter. It is absolutely necessary that this form be completed and handed in with registration fees if subsistence payments are to be received.

Knowing "C" Number Eliminates G.I. Confusion
In The Future

Every student who applies for pension, compensation, education, or other GI benefits is assigned a "C" number by the Veterans Administration. This number appears on his case file which is kept by the VA. With some 24,000,000 names on file, there are many duplicates, even to a middle name, but a "C" number belongs to only one veteran. He will ask the VA and himself when writing or calling for any information concerning benefits if he knows the number. Advice from the index file must be searched under "C" says VA.

If a veteran can't give his number, he is urged to get a book or a proper card is found. His file may then be located and business resumed. This results in keeping the veteran waiting and the VA busy.

Veterans, if you have a "C" number, write it down and carry it with you and give that number in all dealings with the VA.

700 Frosh To Enroll

Enrollment of incoming freshmen will total 790 students for the beginning of the fall quarter. This is the highest number of freshmen to enroll at one time in Poly history.

A harvest love offering will be taken for the Bible school. Coupons purchased. Independent, Morro Bay, N. Y.
