Re: Approval for Changes in Math Prerequisites

Because the Math Department no longer gives the MAPE exam and instead uses the ELM test to direct students to the appropriate math courses to fulfill the GE requirement, they revised the prerequisites in the catalog copy for a number of their classes. Mary Whiteford is reluctant to incorporate these changes in the catalog since they were not approved by the GE&B Committee. Tom Hale and Jim Mueller discussed the rationale for these changes with us and we brought this issue to the GE Committee last week. The GE Committee supports these changes and we request that the Executive Committee approve them as well as a consent agenda item for the next meeting. Mary Whiteford is working under a tight catalog deadline. None of the changes sought by Math involve course content; the changes simply reflect the substitution of the ELM exam for the old MAPE test.
