Final Examination Schedule

Following is the final examination schedule for winter quarter, 1949-50. Examination days, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, are listed in the left hand vertical column. Examination hours, 8 a.m. through 10 p.m., are listed in the top horizontal column. Only those classes listed in squares will have final examinations at that time and will indicated by the column headings, and those to be held in the regular classrooms. For example, from 10 to 12 on Friday only classes given at 9 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, Monday and Wednesday, and Wednesday will have final examinations.

Recent Advances

As the winter quarter draws to a close and final exams loom up on the near horizon, perhaps we can pause for a moment to consider just what has transpired here at Poly. And, by so doing, we can see that the quarter now ending has been a fairly active three months. We've accomplished quite a lot.

Athletically, we've seen our basketball men go out on the court to do a bang-up job. We haven't hit the win column as often as we might have liked, but the Mustangs have nonetheless proven to be a hard fighting, highly respected team. The boxing team has fared much better than the hardwooders; our wrestlers are genuinely a gang to be proud of—they're easily in the big three in NCAA rankings.

The boxing team has fared much better than the hardwooders; our wrestlers are genuinely a gang to be proud of—they're easily in the big three in NCAA rankings.

We haven't covered all the campus achievements, there are numerous. The Staff.

The Staff.
We can't decline, whether the Women's Page was welcome or not, but one thing sure, we know it was well read. The content of opinion was that we said too much about events that were well known. So we feel that we have a duty to say this way. Come now fellow, permissions have been given to women to know that we never run out of chatter.

The student wives' treasury needs building up if they are to continue their many activities. There is equipment to buy for the baby clinic, and the bridge club has yet to receive its new supplies. Activities of the group cannot be supported on five $3 a year. This can be accomplished by any money-making event, but it is limited only by the idea of the new look comes to Cal Poly Red. This type of note is unique in that those purchasing tickets may play any game that wish in their home with their own cards. At a designated hour, all the players assemble and turn all their prizes and enjoy refreshments at Hillcrest. Anyone who wishes to buy a table is welcome to call Elizabeth Gong at 5079-N.

At the most recent Student Wives club meeting last week a musical program was enacted by an appreciative audience. Mrs. Helen Greenwell, an experienced singer with vocal selections accompanied by an accompanist. Mrs. Greenwell explained the singing of the Maids and Minors. The program of music will be held at 7:30 p.m. for the students and others to enjoy. A table will be held at the ski jump. There will be a radio in the lounge for you when the annual Student Wives banquet is presented next quarter. Elections will be held at the last meeting. This is the time for anyone who is interested to be present.

The November concert of student wives will show band made ladies which was especially made for this event. This is a chance for a night out when you don't have to worry about a baby-sitter—take the children along. After all, they may enjoy hearing their own in music. With the end of the quarter in sight, we'll like to say thanks to Barbara Carter for her splendid job as Student Wife's president. Under her direction many worth-while activities have been initiated. Bill Hufnall deserves thanks for her efforts to produce such enter- taining programs as we have enjoyed this year. Mary O'Hara also has given much time to this place placement committee. All of the officers, committee heads, and executive chairman have worked together as a whole in making the program a success, and one specialty shop

Mary and Ed Jenkins took a quick trip to Yosemite a couple of Saturdays ago. While there, they met Charles Anderson and his family, who were also staying the 10 inches of snow that had fallen over the weekend. The Jenkinses strolled around the park, admiring the beauty of the landscape. Charles Anderson is a retired schoolteacher, and he related some of his favorite memories of the park. Mary and Ed plan to return to Yosemite in the spring to continue their exploration of this magnificent natural wonder.

Out Of Town

At San Jose State, the Associated students and faculty members are working on new projects, including the creation of student uniforms, which are being designed by the fashion students. The uniforms will include shirts, pants, and sweatshirts, and they will be available to students for purchase.

The Police school of San Jose State has announced that they will be holding regular shifts for the safety of the community. The students will be working in pairs, and they will be responsible for maintaining order and ensuring the safety of the public. The Police school hopes that this initiative will help to prevent crime and keep the community safe.

The refreshment bar will be open all night, and a variety of food tables will also be going. The committee is composed of Mrs. Hensley, a man and a man, Cook, Campbell, Caldwell, Epp, Bracken, Brown, Howes, Hensley, Dorrance, Deane, and Van Allen. R. Anderson and D. Raynor.

Marchbeef Gets New Owner
At Poly Royal

The members of Paul Dougherty's irrigated pasture class made a fieldtrip to a number of San Luis Obispo county ranches last Saturday, February 16.

The group's first stop was at the G parsley Ranch near Atascadero where harding grass was being grown for next season's grazing. Following that the group went to the Shaver, Templeton, and the group continued on to Shafter.

Bill Rogers, ranch superintendent of the Riverton Ranch, Shafter, explained the ranch's operations to the students. There are 500 acres of irrigated pasture, 150 acres of coarse grass, 4,000 acres of range land, and 100 acres of granland.

The trip, according to Dougherty, will help students better understand the problems of irrigation and management in the southern irrigated field. The trip will be sponsored by the ranch and the results will be published by the students.

Moroski Leads 2C2A Scoring
As Cage Season Nears End

Henry Moroski, Cal Poly's all-conference guard, has moved into the scoring lead in the California Collegiate Athletic association, as conference play nears an end. Figures show that Moroski, a junior at Cal Poly, and twice named to the CCAA all-conference teams, has topped a total of 130 points in nine games for an average of 14.45 points in each outing followed by 125 points in nine games for an average of 13.8 points. Hank McMurchie, San Jose State's all-conference center, followed by 264 points in nine games for an average of 29.33 points. McMurchie and Moroski are the only representatives of their respective schools among the first 10 leaders. San Diego State college and the College of Pacific each have three men among the first 10.

Fresno State college continues to pace the conference in fouls per game with 25.5 fouls in nine games.

In team standings San Jose State leads the pack with seven wins and three losses, followed by the Bakersfield JC with an upset last week to Santa Barbara college, 60 to 58. Santa Barbara, mortifying feats, has stepped up into second place. All teams have one more game left in conference play, except Santa Barbara and San Jose, who both have two more contests.

Hoof Prints

By Russ Pyle

But what we lack is the ability to get 1,000 people to adorn our Baptist churches with flowers. The answer lies in the Baptist motto: "By His grace we can do all things."

The past is largely responsible for setting the stage for our present, and it is obvious that we need to look to the future for our present. But it does not mean that we should ignore the past. We need to learn from the past and use it to build a better present and future.

Somehow, we must find a way to get the public to understand the significance of our Baptist heritage and the role it plays in our present and future. We must find a way to make our Baptist identity more visible in our community and in the world. We must make it clear that our Baptist identity is not just a matter of personal faith, but it is a matter of community and social responsibility.

The future is ours to create, and we must do so with a clear understanding of the past. We must find a way to make our Baptist identity a source of pride and a source of inspiration for all who come after us. Only then can we truly be "Americans."

Blessed Begins New Column For El Reg
Beginning this week, a new quarter, a new column, Where It’s Deepest, will be a feature of El Mustang. Authorized by the ambitious editorial printing major, J.R. “Bob” Blesses, the column will deal with athletics, campus festivities, and femininities.

Blesses has been a fairly regular contributor of features in the past. This column will replace The Way Things Are.

CROONERS FACE CAC
The Southern California Athletic Club will invade the Hillcrest Hotel lobby at 8 p.m. tomorrow night to meet the Mustang grapplers in an eight bout event. Bal- lanced with top-notch talent, the CAC will be pressed now ready to make life miserable for the local men.

Without a doubt tomorrow evening’s meet will be one of the toughest of the season for Coach Shoes Marion’s crew. Fresh from last week’s 90-0 victory over San Diego JC, the Mustangs have been working hard all week for this match and should be ready to give the visitors a solid battle. The probable starting lineup up for the Mustangs is as follows:

Back: Marshall, 160 pounds; Lawson, 190 pounds; Marston, 185 pounds; 165 pounds; Adams, 165 pounds; 160 pounds; D’Adamo, 175 pounds; and Jack D’Esposito, heavyweight.

Pedro Armandariz
Once Poly Student
Did you know that Pedro Armandariz, featured in the movie “Three Godfathers,” was once editor of the Mustang? Pedro was a Poly student from 1929 to 1932, and was active in the publication and dramatic clubs.

Upon returning to Mexico after graduation, Pedro appeared in the Pan American Little Theater. He also wrote for papers and magazines in Mexico City, covering bull-fights and football games. Armandariz appeared in numerous Mexican films, including “The Pea,” playing opposite Ursula Andress. He is now under contract with Mary Pickford for two pictures a year. His recent pictures include “The Fugitive” and “Fort Apache.”

BLACK TIE DINNER DANCE
The Southern California Athletic Club will invade the Hillcrest Hotel lobby at 8 p.m. tomorrow night to meet the Mustang grapplers in an eight bout event. Balanced with top-notch talent, the CAC will be pressed now ready to make life miserable for the local men.

Without a doubt tomorrow evening’s meet will be one of the toughest of the season for Coach Shoes Marion’s crew. Fresh from last week’s 90-0 victory over San Diego JC, the Mustangs have been working hard all week for this match and should be ready to give the visitors a solid battle. The probable starting lineup up for the Mustangs is as follows:

Back: Marshall, 160 pounds; Lawson, 190 pounds; Marston, 185 pounds; 165 pounds; Adams, 165 pounds; 160 pounds; D’Adamo, 175 pounds; and Jack D’Esposito, heavyweight.

Pedro Armandariz
Once Poly Student
Did you know that Pedro Armandariz, featured in the movie “Three Godfathers,” was once editor of the Mustang? Pedro was a Poly student from 1929 to 1932, and was active in the publication and dramatic clubs.

Upon returning to Mexico after graduation, Pedro appeared in the Pan American Little Theater. He also wrote for papers and magazines in Mexico City, covering bull-fights and football games. Armandariz appeared in numerous Mexican films, including “The Pea,” playing opposite Ursula Andress. He is now under contract with Mary Pickford for two pictures a year. His recent pictures include “The Fugitive” and “Fort Apache.”
