Welcome To 17th Poly Royal

Bob Bowman Victorious In Presidential Race

Ag man Bob Bowman, winding up the most spectacular presidential campaign in Poly's history, romped home to victory in Wednesday's balloting to defeat Art Gandy, son of the University of San Luis Obispo, California, Friday, April 29, 1949.

Remedial Reading Demonstrates New Depth Screen

Using a specially constructed screen for the first time, Robert L. Maurer is giving demonstrations of three dimensional projections today and tomorrow in the Poly Royal tent.

Remedial Reading is important in helping students to overcome reading difficulties in class work, and thus draw bigger and better grades.

C. O. P. Withdraws From Circuit

Reservation was rampant today among the coaches at Cal Poly, as in the future of the California Collegiate Athletic Association following the announcement Tuesday that the College of Pacific had withdrawn from the conference.

Reports have come in from a number of schools which have decided to drop from the conference.

The conference has been hit by a series of withdrawals for the past year, and the question is whether there will be a conference in the future.

The CCAA has been unable to locate a suitable one for three dimensional work. Regular movie screens have rough surfaces which break up the threedimensional effect and ordinary flat projections result.

Demonstrations are in classroom 12 and other locations Monday afternoon. A total of five shows have been scheduled. The CCAA plans to hold at least one exhibition per week.

Climax of the 17th annual Poly Royal carnival and Country Fair dance, class reunion on Saturday night, April 30.

Prom promises to be a gala one, with a big Coronation Ball at 11:00 P.M. in the Camp San Luis Obispo field house.

Bob Bowman, left, is congratulated by his opponent Art Gandy. Following the announcement of Bowman's victory, both men said they were glad the campaign was finally over.

BULLETIN

Dr. Leroy Anderson, president of student body, and Stan Raymond and Lou Llitsle, executive vice-presidents, announced the results of the Presidential election yesterday.

The results show that Bob Bowman, son of Poly President Aaron Bowman, is the new President of Poly.

An estimated 12,000 persons will be on the California Polytechnic college campus today and tomorrow to observe the 17th annual Poly Royal. All campus personnel will serve as hosts for the event and all college departments will feature displays and activities to point up the college's educational programs.

Exhibits, Activities Prepared For Guests.

The Poly Royal committee, under the direction of Bob Bowman, President, and Stan Raymond, Executive Vice-President, has made careful planning to make the Poly Royal weekend a real experience for the participants.

The campus is decorated with Poly Royal banners and streamers. The Poly Royal theme is "The One and Only Poly Royal." The Poly Royal colors are black and silver.

The Poly Royal executive committee is composed of the following members: Bob Bowman, President; Stan Raymond, Executive Vice-President; Art Gandy, Vice-President; Bob Walker, Secretary; and Mr. Robert Mott, Advisor.

A total of 859 votes were cast in the election, a new record for Poly Royal voting.

The campaign was one of the most exciting in Poly Royal history, with Art Gandy, son of the University of San Luis Obispo, California, Friday, April 29, 1949.

A total of 1,447 votes were tallied after Wednesday's balloting, it was estimated to be about a 50 percent turnout.

The contest was between Don Carothers and George Gandy, son of the University of San Luis Obispo, California, Friday, April 29, 1949.

The dairy manufacturing display will be housed in a booth featuring a cheese identification contest and a revolutionary soft ice dispensing machine. The contest will be open to everyone except members of the Poly Royal committee.

Hybrid Onions on Sale
At OH Department

Approximately 5000 California number one hybrid onion plants are offered for sale at the OH department, according to Jack Wink, student project owner.

The plants are now ready for planting and are grown by the students of the Poly Royal department.

Security Staff Reports
Parking Traffic Hazard

An increasing number of students are creating a nightly traffic hazard by parking on the wrong side of the street in front of the dormitory. E. A. Bieler, chief security officer, said recently:

"Students are parking on the side of the street in front of the dormitory. This practice is creating a nightly traffic hazard for everyone except members of the Poly Royal committee.

The contest consists of 15 kinds of onions which must be identified by the students. The prizes will be chosen by the dormitory committee and will be awarded to the three contestants.

Students Edgar Brower, Russell Christensen and Joe Gordon have worked the booth.

Governor Signs
Bill Granting Masters Degree

California State Polytechnic college will be eligible to grant the masters degree in education beginning Jan. 1, 1950, under a bill signed by Gov. Warren yesterday. The bill provides that the state board of education pass on a state college's request that the masters degree be granted to students meeting the standards for the degree. The standards will be set up by the state board and Cal Poly will be asked to comply if interested. The bill, vetoed last year by Gov. Warren, allows Cal Poly students to compete in the California state exhibit at the Meeker, Humboldt and other state college campuses to gain the masters degree if they meet the standards set by the board.

Campus Will Host
Prep Judge Teams

Cal Poly will host more than 100 high school vocational agriculture students and their instructors May 7 for the annual state championship judging contests of the Future Farmers of America. The FFA members and their teachers will arrive May 6, and the judging contests will take place May 7. Present plans are for the students to be housed in half of the group at the San Luis Obispo and the rest on campus.

The contest will be conducted in the judging of general livestock, dairy products, poultry, milk, feed, agriculture, and general knowledge. Winners in the first four contests above will represent California in the national finals at Waterloo, Iowa, and Kansas City, Mo., this fall. Judging teams will come from Chico, Humboldt and other state colleges to judge the masters degree if they meet the standards set by the board.

Industrial Displays Climax Many Hours Of Labor

By Aron Abrahamson

Cal Poly's annual "Country Fair on a College Campus" will see the industrial division taking an active part in this affair. Work on the exhibits started months ago, and the students, who are the sole owners of the display, have put in many, many hours in creating the exhibits.

The display will be divided up into sections, each of which will feature a specific department. The electrical department will have an exhibit consisting of all kinds of electrical equipment not used in the classrooms. The woodworking department will have its shop open and showing its precision tools. The metalworking department will feature a display of parts, and the physics department will display its various instruments.

The largest section of the fair will be devoted to the engineering department. The engineering department will display an entire section to its display, and the student engineers will be on hand to explain their exhibits.

The exhibits will be open to the public throughout the day, and visitors will be able to see the various displays and speak with the students who created them.

The fair is scheduled to open at 9 a.m. and will continue until 5 p.m. Visitors are encouraged to come and take part in this exciting event.
Welcome to Poly Royal

The 17th annual "Country Fair on a College Campus" is here. This year we have been given the privilege of planning and preparing the fair. Our students, both faculty and alumni, are working to make this the best Poly Royal ever. This year, as in the preceding sixteen years, Cal Poly opens its doors to all. We pride ourselves on being a neighborhood college and every visitor is welcome to feel at home on the campus. This year, during the two days a visitor will be entertained through the cooperation of every student. The guests will be taken on a tour of the campus where scenic and historic points of interest will be drawn to the visitor's attention. There will be judging exhibits to show the students the work carried on by the departments throughout the school year. The industrial, agricultural, and humanities divisions will be open to everyone's inspection. A barbecue will be held in Poly Grove where expert chefs will prepare the choicest meats with that true western flavor. The best barbecue in the world.

Many contests will be open to visitors. Football, baseball, tennis, swimming, and other athletic events will take place during the two day festivities. Another innovation this year will be the "Big Show." During these two days visitors will be entertained with the animal events. There will be poultry and livestock judging shows, showing the prize stock on the campus. Individual departments have prepared exhibits to show the friends of the school the work carried on by the Department of Agriculture. This year, the industrial, agricultural, and humanities divisions will be open to everyone's inspection.

A barbecue will be held in Poly Grove where expert chefs will prepare the choicest meats with that true western flavor. The best barbecue in the world. Calf roping, bareback riding, and bull dogging will set the dust at the Poly Royal rodeo. Here students will ride the finest of the finest. The prizewinning animals will be on display at this time. A wild pig scramble will be one of the feature events this year. Grand marshal for this year's rodeo will be George O'Brien of the movies. He will ride with the Poly Royal queens in the grand entry.

This year for the first time in Poly Royal history, a carnival will be held. This carnival will take place on Friday night with most of the clowns on the campus having booths. All kinds of booths from the usual game to the unusual will be available. The money raised from this carnival will go to the student Memorial Fund. This fund is the project of the student body to raise enough money to build a student union building for future students at Cal Poly. This money is necessary to finance the building and help the students to carry out the work for the union and help the students to carry out the work for the union and help the students to carry out the work for the union.

The events scheduled to take place are: Brahman bull riding, calf roping, ribbon cutting, judging of the big show, and a grandstand parade.

This year's carnival has been added to Poly Royal. This carnival is put on by the students with the help of the Poly Royal committee. This will be an annual affair during Poly Royal. The events and judging of the big show will be of interest to the general public.

Throughout the festivities, the Poly Royal Band will give its concert at this time. The Poly band will give its concert at this time. The Poly band will give its concert at this time.

Biology Exhibits

Feature Films, Plants, Animals

The biology department's program for Poly Royal includes movies and a live animal exhibit. Dr. John E. Collette, in charge of the biology department, said today.

The pictures show a flight between a rattlesnake and a Wasp, a short article on insects as carriers of diseases, and a science fiction film about an alien life on another planet. The picture show will be shown on the hour 1-2-3-4, 8-9-10-11.

Hydraulics Lab Demonstration

Open To Visitors

In its new demonstra­

The building is located on the south side of Poly Royal and is equipped with a demonstration machine, a pipe test rack, and a number of other pieces of equipment.

The demonstration will be open for inspection in classrooms 15 from 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Friday and from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Saturday.

"This is the second year the biology department has taken an active part in Poly Royal," David H. Thomsen, biology instructor, said.

Last Year's Poly Royal Highlights

Engineers Participate Too...

The engineers by no means dominate the Poly Royal. Below we present scenes from last year's engineering exhibits. One feature of the current celebration will be the hydraulics lab, which is to be demonstrated before Poly Royal guests today and tomorrow.

Visitors to the 17th annual Poly Royal will be entertained by a bit of old fashioned Americana—the Saturday afternoon band concert. The 50 piece Cal Poly band, under the student direction of Eddie Jay, is shown above. They will provide plenty of opportunity for foot tapping when they play on the football field from 12 to one p.m. Saturday. Poly's band has ample opportunity to exhibit its skills when football season is in session. Their between-halves playing is a highlight of the autumn.
Past * and * Present

Tonight and tomorrow night will provide the most interesting contrast of the Cal Poly school year. The Friday night barn dance is strictly a rural affair, the participants sport western attire and the evening is symbolic by good natured, if boisterous, revelry.

But for Saturday night’s Coronation Ball—all is dignity. Composites break out in ties, shoes, and matching coats and pants. The ladies wear their most bewitching spring formats, conversation is almost subdued. Plan to attend both affairs. A good time assured for all—and note the contrast.

To the left are the Misses Katie DuPont, above, and Pat Walker, below; Miss Dona Grace Burbage of Humboldt appears above. EL MUSTANG runs these repeat cuts in order to point up the quality of femininity imported annually to San Luis Obispo to govern over our Poly Royal each year.

Miss DuPont, however, is no longer a Miss nor a DuPont. She was married recently and undoubtedly spawned many an auricle among the campus hearts. Katie was crowned queen in ’47. Pat was queen last year and will return to turn over her crown to Dona.

Agriculture Division Takes Over Stadium Tomorrow

By Jack Kliton

Leading implement dealers of California who are planning a big show for the Poly Royal Students were entertained at an agricultural tour yesterday. "Agricultural "tours will be held here," the judge said.

This evening, during the central event, the "Agricultural Tour," an operation tour will be given in the gymnasium. For this reason, the poly exhibits, a feature exhibit in the room. One of the speakers, a distinguished agricultural association, was present. Stuart, the owner of the California implement dealer's display, was present and other students from the student projects and colleges touring will be seen in the gymnasium. At the event, the students present were Stuart with an egg display, Ribbon, and the California Implement Dealer, a chicken, from the student project, and President Mead of the California Implement Dealers Association.

Over 100 agricultural engineers, their wives, and friends attended the banquet, and the college was initiated a departmental competition to increase student participation in exhibits. The judges, who have not been announced, are all members of the air conditioning department, and should be returned to visit Poly Royal.

Method of presentation rather than material presented, will be used in judging exhibits. Each group is responsible for explaining and giving its own demonstration.

First year degree students are showing graphic results of their work, due to a dirty condenser. First year technical students are representing the Frida ammonia system, second year degree students have selected projects on view.

Rehearsing and ventilating projects are being shown by second year technical students. The air conditioning system in the Engineering auditorium is being presented by the third year technical group. Fourth year degree students are using a heat pump in their exhibit.

Advance Notice Asked For Transcript Copies

Students who have an opportunity to request that copies of their transcripts be prepared by the registrar's office should give the office notice as early as possible. C. Paul Winner, dean of admissions, said today that each Friday morning, he duplicated, but added that transcripts may be typed if an emergency should arise. In the case, however, great care should be taken in making copies of original transcripts involved and there is always the possibility of errors in making typed copies of student records.

Strawberry Experiments Conducted By Crossmen

Five hundred individual strawberry plants have been donated by the Heye Nursery of Watsonville, California, to the crop department here at Cal Poly. The planting and raising of these plants will be done by students as a class project. The plants will be grown in the Engineering auditorium as an experiment to determine which plant grows the best in this climate and soil. The varieties are Donner, Lassen, Tahoe, Blanca and Sierra, besides two unknown varieties designated by numbers. This event takes place tomorrow.

Knock Heads
In Annual Fray

The 17th annual Poly Royal Intra-squad game will swing into action on the local grid at 1:30 this afternoon when captain Jack Frost leads his Kelly-green chargers against captain J. D. Phillips' white hounds from the plates beyond the Cran- dall gym. Both teams have been practicing strong forces of winning the game with five bits to his last year, will be in his guard position next of the morning, says Coach Harden and Captain Frost. "We can't ide. Those barricade tickets are in the bag."

Colt Win Streak

In a short one hour and 45 minute pitching duel, the Colt-Copy Colts dropped a 1-3 decision to Camp Cotton's khaki's on Mustang field. This loss to the Camp Cotton team ended a winning streak of nine consecutive victories without a defeat for Coach Bob Sevon's team. The Colt's had defeated Mustang held. This loss to the Mustangs will look out for both the Greens and the White teams. They feel that this will keep the contest on more even basis.

With the league championships at hand, Poly Panter will tie two weeks away, Coach Dick Anderson's team tied last time up before the NCAA finals when they went over the San Francisco State 54-21 in the local pool. They won the double events this Saturday morning. Coach Chuck Pavelsky announced that quarterback position next fall. Pavelsky has been joined by an older brother, Grover who will hold down the slot in the three back. The Greens and Ed Jorgensen masterfully held the White team, 54-21 in the local pool. The Greens will be Andy Severson, and Jim Hardy, a boy who is going to be quite a ball carrier and Jim Hardy, a boy who will be quite the shake down at the quarterback position. GREENS SEMINARO...will be in his familiar quarterback position, calling signals for both the green and the white squads this morning. Coach Chuck Pavelsky announces that his three quarterbacks will be "the only solid shots on the field, and they will operate from both sides of the line."

COACH ED JORGENSEN... of the white squad gives game captain J. D. Phillips a last minute look at the plays before sending him on to the field against the green division in this afternoon's 17th annual Poly Royal Clash. Phillips has been the leading Mustang back for the past two seasons and will once more be out to show his stuff in the coming grid campaign. Says Coach Ed Jergensen and captain J. D. Phillips, "The green squad will look their true color when we get on the field with them today."

Poly Royal Relays Today; Pole Vault Dual Tops

SAN LUIS OBISPO, April 28—One of the outstanding vaulting contests on the coast is expected this Saturday when Bill Maxwell of Hartnell Junior college and Walt Jansen of Modesto Junior college get their team together at the first annual Poly Royal relays to be held at the University campus. The relay is part of the college's two day outing to be held Friday and Saturday. Close to 3,000 persons are expected for the festivities.

Fourteen junior colleges are entered in the relays. Maxwell and Jansen are classed as the leading vaulters in the Pacific Coast. Maxwell, last year's national champion, has cleared 14 feet three times this year, while Maxwell has cleared 14 feet one-half inch. Not to be outdone is Bill Pixley of Bakersfield Junior college who has cleared close to 14 feet this year.

The special mile primeval to be another close contest with Bob Weiler of Riverside and Dave Welles of Antelope Valley battling for honors. Both men have registered six feet.

The high jump will prove to be an interesting event with four men entered who have cleared well over six feet. Floyd Blackwell of Mt. San Antonio has the best performance, a height of six feet four and one-half inches. Richard Richardson and Richard Robertson, both of Los Angeles City college, and Bob Rogers of Bakersfield, all have cleared six feet three inches or better.

Another outstanding junior college performer who will take part is Ken Holot of Santa Ana who has registered a junior class of 180 feet and jump while of baseman, which he has cleared the beyond 180 feet. William Kemp of Riverside with a 19.9 century, Myron Cleaver of Santa Ana and Dave Brownell of Los Angeles who have cleared six feet three inches or better.

In the vaulting event of Antelope Valley and Santa Maria.

Art Exhibit Deals
With Utilitarian Design, Fine Arts

The second annual Poly Royal art exhibition will follow the theme "Art in Everyday Living," and will feature reproductions used in the art classes and objections in the art faculty rooms as well as reproductions from the art classes of the student art exhibits which is designed to paint up the concepts of art as practiced in the Poly art classes.

The show will not be a conventional art exhibit, according to James S. Smith, art and English instructor, who's in direct charge of the display. Paintings and sculpture will share space with charts and everyday household items to graphically link the concepts of utility and good design.

Present day materials and processes used in the manufacture of well-designed modern implements will be stressed in the show as well as the trends of today.

Expressionism, impressionism and abstractions will also be represented in the show's presentation of paintings and other art works. Smith said, "Our art course is not a conventional course in Fine Arts," Smith explained, "it is built on the idea that good design is good design wherever you find it, whether it is painting, a chair, a building, or an oil tank."

"You haven't enough brains to come up with that," A Hobo said. "Why, that proves that I'm ten times the brains as you."

"How come?"

"I ain't proud lady, I've seen worse."

CULTURE...James S. Smith, art instructor, displays a ceramic vase against a background of Rivera and Marin. Betty Hunter and Ruth Carey, half of the El Mustang's female writing staff, appear to be favorably impressed with what they see. The reproductions and the ceramic will be part of the second annual Poly Royal art show."

Frosh Climax
ran away with both hurdle events, and the 60 and 36-yard dash were easy victories for Joe Wanscot, who seemed to be running in his sleep. Joe won the 220-yard dash, and the 440-yard relay with ease.

Poly won all of the field events except the pole vault and the short jump. Lloyd Session took a pair of wins, the javelin and the discus, and Allen Brigham won the high jump.

This marks the end of the frosh boys' meet season, but Coach Jansen is expecting to see some of the frosh team in the Fresno and Modesto Relays.
