New department chairs named in Liberal Arts

Five members of the College of Liberal Arts faculty have been named chairs of their departments. They begin their three-year terms today, except as noted.
- Art and Design – Eric Johnson.
- Ethnic Studies – Debra Valencia-Laver (one-year appointment as interim chair).
- History – Carolyn Stefanco.
- Philosophy – Linda Bomstad.
- Theatre and Dance – Maria Junco (2nd year of three-year term). □

Homecoming site available for notices, registration

Departments and clubs can have reunion notices posted on the Homecoming 2003 Web site, and alumni planning to attend the Oct. 27-Nov. 2 weekend can register for events online.

The Web address for “Homecoming 2003: The Spirit of Cal Poly” is www.homecoming.calpoly.edu. Departments and clubs planning a meeting or reunion should e-mail who, what, when, where and why to homecoming@calpoly.edu. The information will be posted on the Web site under the “Reunions” tab.

Those interested in attending Homecoming events can register and pay online. Departments should encourage alumni to sign up early, because many of the Homecoming events, including the football game, sell out.

For more information, call Alumni Relations at ext. 6-2586. □

Send articles by e-mail for Cal Poly Report

As part of Public Affairs’ efforts to make production of the Cal Poly Report more efficient at a time of reduced staffing, we now ask that all submissions for the Report be sent by e-mail. The address is polynews@calpoly.edu. Thanks. □

Cal Poly Report loses split personality, focuses on job info

The Cal Poly Report is now the same online as it is in print. And we’ve gone back to the name Cal Poly Report for both formats.

You’ll also see a shift in focus. The Report will now focus on job-related information aimed at staff and faculty members. You’ll see less duplication of general university news, which is already posted on the Cal Poly News site on the Internet (www.calpolynews.calpoly.edu).

The online Report is now produced in the same PDF format as the printed version, which means you can easily print a copy from the Web if you need one. Go to www.calpoly.edu/-communic. (If you don’t already have Adobe Acrobat Reader on your computer, you’ll need it; you’ll find a link on the Report page to download it.)

The only difference between the printed and online versions will be that Web and e-mail addresses will be live links online.

We hope these changes will make it easier for you to learn what you need to know about working at Cal Poly. □

Faculty should submit reserve materials ASAP

Faculty members should submit course reserve materials as soon as possible to avoid delays in making the material available to students.

Reserve materials should be dropped off at the Faculty Submission station in the Circulation area of the Kennedy Library. The Faculty Submission Form, which must be attached to material when it is submitted, is available on the Web at http://discover.lib.calpoly.edu/forms/reserve/. The Course Reserves Unit processes requests in the order received.

Course reserve policies are on the Web at http://poetry.lib.calpoly.edu/screens/CourseResPol.pdf. For additional information, contact Donna Lister at ext. 6-5789 or dlister@calpoly.edu. □

Teaching, Learning Center expands offerings

The Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) has expanded its program for faculty development. The center has also put details about its activities in a new online calendar at www.academics.calpoly.edu/ctl/calendar/calendar.html.

Seven Teaching Well workshops will be offered noon-2 p.m. most Fridays of the quarter. Topics will range from constructing a syllabus to the effective use of technology in the classroom.

The quarter-long Effective Teaching and Learning course, 2-4 p.m. Thursdays, will provide basic instruction on teaching for faculty members, graduate TAs and instructional staff members.

A Course Planning and Curriculum Development workshop will focus on the design and implementation of a new (or significantly revised) course or curriculum. Participants will then apply those principles to their own curricula. The workshop will be 2-4 p.m. Oct. 15, 22, 19 and Nov. 5.

In a Faculty Advising workshop 11:10 a.m.-noon Nov. 6, a panel of experienced

Teaching, Learning . . .

Faculty advisors will offer advice to new or newer faculty members and answer questions.

A year-long Newer Faculty Peer Mentoring Learning Community will begin this quarter. Faculty members at Cal Poly for three years or less wishing to discuss topics of common interest such as teaching strategies, technology in the classroom, grant writing and balancing work and life should apply by Sept. 26. Applications and more information are at www.academics.calpoly.edu; click on "New faculty." Or call the CTL.

A new Teaching with Technology Faculty Learning Community will focus on the effective use of technology and give participants the chance to develop and implement a teaching-with-technology project by the end of the academic year. Applications are due Oct. 3 to Luanne Fose (lfose@calpoly.edu, ext. 6-7360, Air Conditioning 102).

For all workshops, space is limited and advance registration is required; contact Ann Wilenius at the CTL (ext. 6-7002; awilenius@calpoly.edu).

Women’s Club to hold Fall Reception Sept. 28

The Cal Poly Women’s Club will hold its annual Fall Reception 2-4 p.m. Sept. 28 at the Jack House, 536 Marsh St., San Luis Obispo.

Any faculty or staff member -- or spouse of a faculty or staff member -- who is interested in joining the club is invited.
