More tours planned during spring break

To accommodate the many hundreds of campus visitors expected during the high school spring-break weeks of April 6-10 and April 13-17, POLY Reps and the Admissions office will offer campus walking tours Monday through Friday, up from the usual three days a week.

Tours begin at 10 am and 2 pm in the Administration Building lobby and end general admission hours.

Admissions counselors will also offer an optional Admissions Information Workshop at noon every tour day for prospective students. The sessions last approximately 1-1/2 hours, and appointment dates are not necessary. Those interested in attending should plan to meet in the Administration lobby.

Also during those two weeks, the Housing Office will offer residence hall tours at 1 pm every weekday. Visitors interested in touring the residence halls should meet in front of the Administration Building at 1 pm. Again, no reservations are needed.

All students accepted for fall 1998 are encouraged to attend Cal Poly's Open House for Admitted Students Day on Friday, April 17.

Those unable to visit the campus during Open House may want to visit during one of the special Green and Gold Days designed as an alternative to Open House.

In addition to the above schedule of campus and residence hall tours, Green and Gold Days features a special session in Chumash Auditorium for newly admitted students and their supporters at noon each day.

Green and Gold Days are scheduled for Monday, April 6; Friday, April 10; and Monday, April 13.

During Open House, POLY Reps will offer campus tours every hour. On Friday, April 17, the first tour will be at 9 am and the last tour will be at 5 pm. On Saturday, April 18, the first tour will be at 10 am, the last tour at 2 pm. All Open House tours begin and end in the UU Plaza.

Information about campus tours is included in a recorded message on the Campus Tour Information Line. Calls inquiring about campus tours can be transferred to ext. 6-5714.

Fresno State wind ensemble to give benefit concert

The CSU Fresno Wind Ensemble will give four performances this spring to raise money for the u-tal and contemporary music at 8 am on Thursday, April 2, in the Music Building.
Guitarist Gallardo del Rey to hold master class

Guitarist José María Gallardo del Rey, known for his command of the classical guitar, will hold a free master class from 2:10 pm to 4 pm Friday, April 10, in Room 216 in the Davidson Music Center.

Heralded by critics as the successor to Segovia, Gallardo is established as a consummate musician, composer and conductor.

His many and varied compositions include an opera, a film score, and an array of original guitar music and transcriptions. Founder and director of the chamber ensemble La Maestranza, Gallardo strives to expand the boundaries of the classical guitar.

Patrons of the San Luis Obispo Symphony might recall Gallardo's performances of Cal Poly music professor Craig Russell's "Concierto Romantico."

The master class is intended for Cal Poly music students but others are welcome to observe. The class is sponsored by the Music Department and College of Liberal Arts. For more information, call the Music Department at ext. 6-2406.

Health fair winners take home prizes

Seven employees and one student won door prizes at the recent health and wellness fair, "Optimize Your Own Health Legacy," sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program.

The prizes included mugs and smoothies from Jamba Juice, Sunday champagne brunch for two at the Tiger's Folly, gift certificates from the Bagel Cafe and Enchante Body Care, and gifts from Trader Joe's and Skin Deep.

The winners were Maria Cedillo, Admissions; Elise Curry, Health and Psychological Services; Cindy Decker, El Corral; Sharon Glasgow, State Cashier's; Katie Kroeger, Facility Services; Skye Patterson, Political Science; Jolene Wittenberg, Campus Dining; and Witney Phaneuf, a journalism sophomore.

Two chairs appointed

Professors Carolyn Stefanco in History and Dick Shaffer, Social Sciences, have been appointed chairs of their respective departments beginning spring quarter.

Stefanco will continue directing the university's Women's Studies Program through June. She began teaching in 1990 and has directed the Women's Studies program since 1992. She succeeds Bob Burton as History chair, who will be in London spring quarter.

Burton twice served as department chair for a total of 18 years.

Shaffer has taught at Cal Poly since 1974. He will succeed Harold Kerbo, who will lead a new study program in Thailand.

Kerbo has served as department chair since 1993.

College of Ag to host dinner in St. Helena

Alumni, students, parents and friends are helping to bring the inaugural "Vintage Green and Gold Dinner" to St. Helena on Saturday, May 2, in support of Cal Poly's budding viticulture and wine marketing programs.

Hosted by Janice Mondavi, a 1977 agribusiness graduate, the event will be at The Carriage House on the Krug Winery Estate. Festivities are to begin with wine tasting and hors d'oeuvres at 6:30 pm.

Melissa Teaff, Napa's premiere caterer and a Cal Poly parent, will prepare the cuisine to complement the regional and Cal Poly wines being served. Students from Cal Poly's Viticulture Club will act as servers and table hosts.

Tickets cost $75 per person, and proceeds will benefit the Viticulture Club and the St. Helena High School agriculture program.

Cal Poly alumni James Wright (agribusiness '70), Jane Wright (English '70), Tom Clark (agribusiness '71), and Laurie Clark (English '71) and Poly parents Pat and John Garvey are coordinating the event.

To round out the weekend, a golf outing and winery tour are scheduled for Sunday.

For reservations or more information, call Lisa Hersh of the College of Agriculture at ext. 6-5370.

Get facts about CETI

The campus is urged to get informed about the California Education Technology Initiative (CETI), a planned partnership between the CSU and four technology firms to create, improve, and continually update communication technology throughout the system. Faculty, staff, and student opinions are solicited and should be forwarded to Jerry Halley, vice provost, Information Technology Services (ext. 6-2666 or e-mail jhalley). Complete information is on the CETI homepage: http://ceti.calstate.edu
Pre-performance lectures planned

Two pre-performance lectures are scheduled with upcoming Cal Poly Arts events.

Theatre and Dance professor Moon Ja Minn Suhr will talk before the performance by the Georgian State Dance Company. Her talk will be at 7 pm Thursday, March 26, in Philips Hall in the Performing Arts Center's Cohan Center.

Music professor Craig Russell will give a lecture before flamenco guitarist Paco de Lucía's concert. He will speak at 7 pm Tuesday, April 7, also in Philips Hall.

Piano lecture, demo scheduled April 9

Renowned pianist and composer Larry Karush will give a free lecture and performance on Thursday, April 9, from 11:10 am to noon in Room 218 of the Davidson Music Center.

Karush, whose works contain elements of East Indian, African, Brazilian, and contemporary Western music, has played in venues from Carnegie Hall to the Purple Onion. He has performed jazz with John Abercrombie, Eddie Gomez, Jane Ira Bloom, Jay Clayton, and Bennie Wallace; world music with Kanai Dutta, Francisco Aguabella, Collin Walcott, and Glen Velez; and "new music" with Steve Reich.

According to Contemporary Keyboard, "Karush endows the piano tone with bell-like clarity. He also lets his roots hang out while retaining a contemporary approach." Jazz great Dave Swarbrick hailed one of his performances as "wonderful."

The lecture-demonstration is sponsored by the Music Department and College of Liberal Arts. For more information, call the Music Department at ext. 6-2406.

'ADA Quiz' results on Web

Here are more questions and correct answers to the "ADA (Americans with Disability Act) Quiz" that was distributed to faculty and staff fall quarter by the Disability Resource Center. The information is also posted at www.sas.calpoly.edu/drc.

Other questions and answers will appear in upcoming issues of the Cal Poly Report. Comments and questions are welcome at ext. 6-1395.

Question 7: Students are required to assume the responsibility for securing a necessary accommodation.

Answer: No.

The institution is required to provide reasonable accommodations for a student's known disability so that the student has an equal opportunity to participate in the school's courses, programs or activities. The designated compliance officer or disability services office may provide the accommodation or the instructor, but ultimately it is the responsibility of the university.

Answer: Yes.

A section of the Rehabilitation Act mandates that programs be accessible to students with disabilities. The institution does not need to make every classroom accessible but must allow the participation of students with disabilities when "viewed in its entirety." Therefore, the institution may choose to move a class to an accessible location without making every campus building accessible.

Retirement reception

A retirement reception is planned for Dorothy Jefferson, a 15-year employee of Cal Poly, from 2 to 4 pm Friday, April 3, in Crandall Gym.

Jefferson currently works with the MESA Engineering Program and is also the advisor for the American Indian Science and Engineering Society.

Ehrenberg, 60

James Ehrenberg, engineering professor emeritus, died March 7 in a San Luis Obispo hospital.

Ehrenberg began teaching in the Engineering Technology Department in 1977, after a 17-year career as an engineer. From 1981 to 1988, he served as faculty advisor to the Cal Poly Rose Float Committee and introduced hydraulic motion to the floats during that time.

He retired in 1998.
Two days to audition for 'A Streetcar Named Desire'

The Theatre and Dance Department will hold auditions for its spring production of "A Streetcar Named Desire" from 7 to 11 pm Thursday and Friday, April 2-3, in Room 212 of the Davidson Music Center.

Directed by Pamela Malkin, the play chronicles the psychological deterioration of Blanche DuBois during a fateful visit with her sister, Stella, and Stella's husband, the brutish Stanley Kowalski, whose part was made famous both on stage and in film by Marlon Brando.

Roles are available for five women and five men.

More information is available at the department's Web site at www.calpolyarts.org. []

Tickets are $14 to $28.

Committee formed to pick academic vice provost

The following individuals have been appointed to the consultative committee to select a vice provost for academic programs and undergraduate education: Amy Morebello-Sosa, Academic Senate; Juan Gonzalez, Student Affairs; Vicki Stover, Administration and Finance; Linda Dalton, Academic Affairs; Walter Rice, College of Business, representing associate deans; Hiram Davis, Library, representing the Dean's Council; and Mary Kay Harrington, Writing Skills, representing Academic Programs.

An ASI representative has not yet been named.

Students vote no on health fee increase

Cal Poly students have voted not to recommend increasing the quarterly Health Services Fee they pay.

With 6 percent of students voting over two days, 587 voted against the increase, 384 in favor. The election results have been forwarded to President Baker.

The current $28 quarterly health fee was proposed to increase by $14 in summer 1998 and by another $10 in summer 1999. One third of the new revenue would be set aside for financial aid, according to California State University policy.

The additional fees were to cover increased costs in providing next year's projected Health Center deficit, and provide three programming enhancements: extended Health Center hours, an after-hours telephone nurse line, and increased specialty medical services.
