Continued from page 7

(SAP) at a different location. May be required to occasionally work additional/varied hours.

Vol. 54, No. 8 • October 27, 1999

Position vacancies

#0541: Director of Advancement (Ad­ minimistrator II), College of Architecture and Environmental Design. Closing date: position is open until filled. For full consideration all application materials should be sub­ mitted by Oct. 13. Salary: $45,000 - $65,000 annual hiring range remunerate with qualifi­ cations and experience.

REARRANGEMENT:

#0568: Nurse Practitioner, Head of Nursing Services (Administrator II), Stu­ dent Affairs, Health & Psychological Ser­ vices. Closing date: position is open until filled. For full consideration application materials should be submitted by Nov 10. Salary: $56,400 - $72,000 annual hiring range depen­ dant on qualifications and experience.

#0833: Predoctoral Internship (Hil­ tader Aide) Health and Counseling Services. Closing date: positions open until filled. Ap­ plication review will begin Dec. 1. Salary: The annual compensation for full-time is $15,000 ($1,250/month) and includes em­ ployee benefits of vacation time, sick leave, and health insurance.

The Cal Poly Health and Counseling Services Center is a member of the Association of Psychology Postdoctoral and Internship Centers (APPIC) and the Asso­ ciation of Counseling Center Training Agen­ cies (ACCTA). Participants in the Cal Poly Predoctoral Internship Program receive two hours of individual supervision, a weekly case conference, seminars addressing professional specialties training such in counseling disorders, sexual abuse, trauma recovery, ethics and the law, multi-cultural counseling, stress management and organizational corn­ trolation. Additional training in the university’s Employee Assistance Program is also avail­ able.

The position: There are approximately 12-month positions available beginning July 1, 2000. One position is in Counseling Services and one is in the Employee Assistance Program.

Candidates interested in faculty positions are asked to contact the appro­ priate department office at the phone number listed for more information and an application. Please submit all application materials to the department head/chair unless otherwise specified. Rank and salary will be commensurate with qualifications, experience, and timebase where applicable, unless otherwise stated.

#0517: Visiting Lecturer, Global Strat­ egy & Law Area, College Of Business (750­ 6530). Closing date: Nov. 1. Visiting lecturer position available full-time for winter and Spring quarters of the 1999-2000 academic year. Appropriate doctoral level training with primary teaching area in business policy/ management, and secondary area in interna­ tional operational procedures and IT budget; supervising computer support staff. Requires B.S. in computer science, business, or related field; 3 years’ related experience. Complete position descriptions and applications available in ASI Business Office.

Coordinator of Athletics and Recreational Programs, Recreational Sports. Open until filled. Review of applications will begin at 1. Salary range: $3,102 - $4,188/month, full­ time. Under the supervision of the director of recreational sports, provides oversight and supervision for a staff of lifeguards and water safety instructors. Works directly with profes­ sional and student staff to develop and imple­ ment summer programs for children and aquatics programming for the campus com­ munity. Requires bachelor’s degree, two years’ progressively responsible student services work experience, and current applica­ ble American Red Cross certification. Master’s degree and two years’ post-master’s degree work experience preferred.

#0518: Full-Time Lecturer, Physical Education & Kinesiology (756-2545) Clos­ ing date: Dec. 15. Full-time position available for 2000-2001 academic year (salary $33,792 - $46,488). Teach classes in biomechanics, advanced biomechanics, and professional activities. Supervise undergraduate field ex­ periences and research. Requires M.S. in appro­ priate field; Ph.D. and college teaching pre­ ferred. To be considered, applicants must submit the following (referencing recruitment $00318 on all correspondence): 1) completed any application form; 2) profes­ sional resume; 3) copies of official transcripts from all colleges attended; and 4) three re­ ference recommendations to Gerald DeMers, head, P.E. & Kinesiology Depart­ ment (fax 756-7273).

FOUNATION (Foundn. Admin. Building, Room 127, ext. 6-7817). All application materials should be received by 5 p.m. of the closing date. No faxed applications will be accepted.

REARRANGEMENT: Baker, Bake Shop, 95 50 - $12.35/hr. Requirements: high school degree or equiva­ lent. Minimum of one year experience as a journey level baker, preferably in a large scale, variety bake shop. Must be able to bake from scratch, using ovens, mixers, dough shapers, fryers, measuring devices and kitchen cutlery. Must develop and maintain successful working relationships with the owner and a valid California Driver’s license and be able to lift and carry 50 lbs. Closing date: position is open until filled; review of applications begins Nov 5.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS INC., (accepting applications for the following positions). Complete position description and applications are available at the ASI Business Office, University Union, Room 212, M-F, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m., ext. 6-1281. All applications must be received by 5 p.m. of the listed closing date. AARD.

Information Technology Manager Open until filled, review of applications will begin Feb. 1, Expected to pay $37,771 - $53,145/year. Full-time. Responsible for maintenance, installation, and development of enterprise network utilizing Novell 4.11, Windows NT 4.0 and Unix. Manage Web server and its content, maintain archival storage and network security; develop and manage operational procedures and IT budget; supervise computer support staff. Requires B.S. in computer science, business, or related field; 3 years’ related experience. Complete position descriptions and applications available in ASI Business Office.

Baker, Zingg on talk accreditation

President Baker and Provost Zingg will hold an open forum on the current reaccreditation process 11 a.m.-noon today in UU 220. A special session of the Academic Senate to address reaccreditation is also planned 3-5 p.m. Nov. 9 in UU 220.

Marketing, University Advancement & Communication, Cal Poly, 8 a.m.-noon today. The next accreditation visit will be in March 2000. The accreditation process is expected to take at least two years. The campus community is invited to review and comment on the Self-Study on line at http://www.calpoly.edu/reports.

The Appointment Committee, chaired by Donald Chaney, director of the Cal Poly Planning Steering Committee, is accepting applications for the following positions.

1. President Baker and Provost Zingg will hold an open forum on the current reaccreditation process 11 a.m.-noon today in UU 220.

2. A special session of the Academic Senate to address reaccreditation is also planned 3-5 p.m. Nov. 9 in UU 220.

3. Every nine years Cal Poly undergoes an accreditation review by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WSCA). The next accreditation visit will be in March 2000.

Toward this end, several committees of faculty and staff members have been working on a Cal Poly Self-Study. The campus community is invited to review and comment on the Self-Study on line at http://www.calpoly.edu/reports.

Cal Poly Plan Steering Committee needs members

State, Foundation and ASI permanent and probationary staff Humberns are invited to submit applications to fill two vacancies on the Cal Poly Plan Steering Committee.

The appointment Committee, chaired by Anna McDonald, director of human resources and employment equity, will screen the applications and forward recommendations to President Baker.

Candidates are asked to submit a brief statement of interest, have sufficient experience in evaluations, and a need endorsement from their supervisor.

Any interested in serving should complete the application page 6 in this edition of the Cal Poly Report and fax it to President Baker.

The selection process will begin at 11 a.m. tomorrow morning. The campus community is invited to review and comment on the Self-Study on line at http://www.calpoly.edu/reports.

Masters of the steel-string guitar Cephas & Alpine will play at the PAC (see page 3).

Onlyvacation credits can be donated to Ramos

Only vacation credits may be donated to Judy Ramos, administrative support coordinator in Academic Records, because her leave is for family illness.

Last week’s Cal Poly Report solicitation article incorrectly stated that both vacation and sick leave credits could be donated. To donate leave, contact Party Warnick­ Wait in Academic Records at ext. 6-2723 or by e-mail at the Catastrophic Leave Donation form.

This year’s CSEA employees (Units 2, 5, 7 and 9) may donate up to 16 hours of vacation and sick leave credits per fiscal year in increments of one hour or more.

Five other eligible state employees may donate up to 16 hours.

Ride shavers credits to Express cards delayed

Commute Services wants “registered” ride shavers to know that stipends to Campus Express cards are being delayed because of the following shares:

1. Flight delays.

2. Ridership levels will be notified when cards are credited.
Memorial scholarship created for Don Floyd
A memorial scholarship has been named for Don Floyd, a retired social sciences professor and long-time supporter of the CSU's International Programs who died earlier this year.

In honor of his commitment to international education, his widow, Yvonne, has set up a scholarship fund in his name at Mid-State Bank for an International Programs applicant from Cal Poly. Anyone wanting to contribute to the scholarship or needing more information should contact Marilyn Yoke at ext. 6-5964 or e-mail at <myork@calpoly.edu>.

CPR schedule change

Because campus will be closed on Veterans' Day, Nov. 11, in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday, Nov. 25-26, we've had to move up the deadlines to submit articles for two issues of the Cal Poly Report.

For the Nov. 17 Cal Poly Report, we need items by 10 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 10, and for the Dec. 1 report by 10 a.m. Tuesday, Nov. 23. The e-mail address is <polynews@polymail>. Please check the CPR schedule on the campus intranet for details.

CFA president Meisenzahl to visit Cal Poly Nov. 5
Susan Meisenzahl, president of the California Faculty Association, will be on campus 10 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Nov. 10.

From 10 a.m. to noon she will meet with members of the Academic Senate and the Cal Poly Labor Council in UU 320. The remainder of her schedule is:

• Noon-2 p.m. – Lecturers’ Luncheon in the Veranda Café.
• 2:30-4 p.m. – General Faculty Meeting, UU 220.
• 6:30-10 p.m. – General Membership Dinner, Alumni House.

All Unit 3 members, including faculty members, counselors, librarians and coaches, are urged to attend the luncheon or dinner.

For more information, contact Phil Fetera, CFA chapter president, at ext. 6-6417 or by e-mail at <pfetera@calpoly.edu>.

Waldorf and Braun will explain how the participating students and faculty members around the country understand learning and teaching practices that support effective learning for all students.

Although the NSF workshop was geared toward engineering professors, the content of much of the workshop is relevant to other faculty members, particularly those new to teaching.

The talk is sponsored by the Faculty Instructional Development Office. For more information, call Penny Ross at ext. 6-5933, D.

Offer priority enrollment and free parking and they will come

Dear Editor:

If this campus wants to get serious about increasing summer enrollment, it should offer a package-deal priority for summer enrollment (if available) that gives first priority to students who want to sign up and pay for summer and fall classes. Then give them free parking in the summer. They will drive here in droves.

A. J. Schaumert
Journalism Department

Harry Sharp, senior university associate dean, Extended University Programs and Services, responds:

Cal Poly’s summer quarter enrollment peaked in 1990 when 6,464 students took as average of 9.8 units each. Beginning the next year the campus deliberately reduced summer enrollments and enrollment as one important way of addressing the severe budget cuts. Those cuts were made by the Legislature as its result of the recession. By 1990, the summer enrollment had fallen almost in half to 3,377 students, taking, on average, only 8.6 units. The president and department staff are committed to increasing the enrollment of both new and continuing students in summer. The Deans’ Enrollment Planning Advisory Committee (DEPAC), which I chair, is particularly preparing reconstituent Life Forms on how that goal might be attained. We will be reporting to the provost in a couple of weeks.

We welcome suggestions from students, staff and faculty. They may be mailed to me at Extended Education or emailed to <sharp@calpoly.edu>.

* * *

Pie C of Mind

For your letters about campus issues. Questions, exceptions, plans, complaints, compliments — we want them all. Keep them brief, please. By 11:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 10. E-mail <polynews@polymail>, fax it to ext. 6-5933 or mail to Public Affairs, Heron Hall.

Learning, teaching topic of next FIDO talk Oct. 28

Professors Dan Waldorf of the Industrial and Manufacturing Engineering Department and David Braun, Electrical Engineering, will present new "Center of Excellence for Teaching, Learning, and Your Academic Career" noon-1 p.m. Oct. 28 in the San Luis Lounge in the UU 220.

Their talk will cover the highlights of a one-week National Science Foundation education workshop held at Stanford University last summer to help new engineering faculty members from around the country understand learning and teaching practices that support effective learning for all students.

Workshop participants learned to integrate pedagogical knowledge with other forms of scholarship while recognizing the multiple demands for faculty productivity.

Wilderness Medicine to be taught at Cal Poly

Those looking to develop the confidence and skills needed to handle backcountry emergencies should plan to attend the Wilderness First Responder training program to be offered at Cal Poly Dec. 11-20.

Taught by members of the Wilderness Medicine Institute of the National Outdoor Leadership School, the program is a nationally recognized, 80-hour course that trains participants to respond to emergencies in remote settings.

Attendees will learn how to monitor a patient, manage wounds and fight infection, realign fractures and dislocations, and improve splinting techniques.

Long-term management problems, the latest information on environmental emergencies, and drug therapies will also be discussed.

Attendees will learn how to monitor a patient, manage wounds and fight infection, realign fractures and dislocations, and improve splinting techniques.

Long-term management problems, the latest information on environmental emergencies, and drug therapies will also be discussed.

This position will provide general office support on a variety of complex projects for the associate vice provost/chief information officer. This position serves as the office receptionist and provides general clerical support to the director, staff and faculty. Must be willing to work a full range of administrative support on a variety of complex projects for the associate vice provost/chief information officer.

Closing date: Nov. 10. Salary: $1,794-$2,315/month.

Job #07047: Billing Coordinator (Administrative Support Coordinator I)

Administrative Support Coordinator I

Information Technology Services-Communications and Computing Services (Unit 7). Closing date: Nov. 10. Salary: $2,425-$3,305/month. This position will provide the full range of administrative support on a variety of complex projects for the associate vice provost/chief information officer. This position will independently coordinate the production and distribution of the campus telephone bills and monitor and analyze newspaper bills and output reports maintain circuit inventory and provide administrative reports.

#07084: Administrative Support Assistant I, Information Technology Services

American Red Cross HeartSaver CPR certification.

The course costs $420 for students and $475 for the public. For more information, call Penny Ross at ext. 6-5933, D.

Position vacancies

Vacancy information and applications for the following positions are available from the appropriate Human Resources office. Information is also available on the Cal Poly home page (<www.calpoly.edu> on "General Information".

STATE (Adm. 110, ext. 6-2236 or job line at ext. 6-5533). Official application forms must be received by 4 p.m. on the closing date or be postmarked by the closing date. (No faxes, please.) For positions marked with an asterisk, candidates on campus applications will be given first consideration.

#07082: Administrative Support Coordinator I, Office of the Associate Vice President for University Advancement (Unit 7) Closing date: Nov. 10. Salary: $2,413-$3,065/month. This position will provide the full range of administrative support on a variety of complex projects for the associate vice president in addition to the incumbent will oversee the functions of other office support staff under the vice president’s jurisdiction.

#07048: Administrative Support Assistant I, Information Technology Services

American Red Cross HeartSaver CPR certification.

The course costs $420 for students and $475 for the public. For more information, call Penny Ross at ext. 6-5933, D.

The Mad Scientists team from the Chemistry and Biochemistry and Physics departments won the championship in the ninth annual faculty category of the 2nd annual Mark S. Reuling Volleyball Challenge held earlier this month.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the student division.

Other teams came from ASI Recreation Sports, the ASI Business Office, Career Services, Health and Counseling Services, the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs, Statistics, Student Academic Services, Student Life, and the University Recreation.

Team fees added to an endowment named in honor of former student Mark Reuling, who suffered from depression and committed suicide.

The tournament, coordinated by Rec Sports, is expected to expand in the future and continue to raise funds for education and training about mental illness and depression.

For more information on the endowment, call Marty Bragg, director, Health and Psychological Services, at ext. 6-5279.

The Mad Scientists team from the Chemistry and Biochemistry and Physics departments won the championship in the ninth annual faculty category of the 2nd annual Mark S. Reuling Volleyball Challenge held earlier this month.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the student division.

Other teams came from ASI Recreation Sports, the ASI Business Office, Career Services, Health and Counseling Services, the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs, Statistics, Student Academic Services, Student Life, and the University Recreation.

Team fees added to an endowment named in honor of former student Mark Reuling, who suffered from depression and committed suicide.

The tournament, coordinated by Rec Sports, is expected to expand in the future and continue to raise funds for education and training about mental illness and depression.

For more information on the endowment, call Marty Bragg, director, Health and Psychological Services, at ext. 6-5279.

The Mad Scientists team from the Chemistry and Biochemistry and Physics departments won the championship in the ninth annual faculty category of the 2nd annual Mark S. Reuling Volleyball Challenge held earlier this month.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the student division.

Other teams came from ASI Recreation Sports, the ASI Business Office, Career Services, Health and Counseling Services, the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs, Statistics, Student Academic Services, Student Life, and the University Recreation.

Team fees added to an endowment named in honor of former student Mark Reuling, who suffered from depression and committed suicide.

The tournament, coordinated by Rec Sports, is expected to expand in the future and continue to raise funds for education and training about mental illness and depression.

For more information on the endowment, call Marty Bragg, director, Health and Psychological Services, at ext. 6-5279.
League of Women Voters honors two staff members

Rosemary Bowker, information technology consultant in the Biological Sciences Department, and Donna Davis, Career Services counselor, received the 1999 Mary Rhodes Awards from the San Luis Obispo League of Women Voters.

Bowker was honored for her community efforts and volunteer work in Los Osos, particularly for environmental causes.

Davis was selected for her educational outreach and mentoring activities.

The awards are given annually to a few community leaders who exemplify in their professional and community achievements the values of Mary Rhodes, first woman president of the California State Teachers Association and a founding member of the San Luis Obispo League of Women Voters.

---

Grants, other opportunities to be discussed Nov. 5

An orientation for new and tenure-track faculty members, "Internal/External Grant Programs and Other Professional Development Opportunities," will be held at noon Nov. 5 in Room 201 in the Business Building.

Box lunches will be provided. Those who plan to attend are asked to call the Research and Graduate Programs Office by Nov. 1 at ext. 6-1508, or e-mail <cbrooksh@calpoly.edu>.

---

Bhutan subject of talk

Architecture professor Christopher Yip will present "Tradition and the Question of Change in Bhutan" at noon Nov. 2 in the Veranda Café Conference Room.

Bhutan, roughly the size of Switzerland, sits on the southern slope of the Himalayan mountains. The majority population is of Tibetan origins and is the last surviving Buddhist theocratic state selectively introducing foreign technology while limiting the impact of foreign influences on its culture and religion.

Students as well as employees are invited to the talk, sponsored by International Education and Programs (IEP). Those attending can bring their own lunch or buy one at the Veranda Café. For details, call IEP at ext. 6-4477.

---

Steel string guitar featured in concert

"Some of the sweetest guitar playing this side of heaven... as good as a musical performance can get."

That's how Impact News Magazine described Masters of the Steel String Guitar, a national concert tour that includes a stop at Cal Poly on Nov. 5.

Folk guitar virtuosos Eddie Pennington, Johnny Bellar, John Cephas and Wayne Henderson will play their own distinctive styles at 8 p.m. in Harman Hall in the Performing Arts Center's Coban Center.

Pennington is known as the grand master of "thumbpicking," an intricate technique made popular by Merle Travis and Chet Atkins.

Bellar plays the acoustic resonophonic guitar and its electric counterpart, the lap steel guitar.

Cephas plays the Piedmont blues — the oldest form of the blues, with links dating back to the black string bands of Colonial America.

Phil Wiggins, a world-class harmonica player, will perform with Cephas.

Appalachian guitarist Henderson uses a thumbpick and fingernails to achieve "amazing speed and fluidity, transforming fiddle and banjo pieces and even the occasional jazz standard into stunning guitar solos."

The group will also give a free workshop at 2 p.m. Nov. 5 in Room 218 in the Davidson Music Center.

Music professor Craig Russell will give a pre-concert lecture at 7 p.m. in Phillips Recital Hall.

Tickets to this Cal Poly Arts event cost $9 to $24.
Correction
In last week’s Cal Poly Report article announcing David Rackley’s Telly award, he was credited as director of the Mustang Marching Band. Music professor William Johnson is director; Rackley is associate conductor. Our apologies for the error.

Oct. 28 talk to explore size, life span link
A physicist from the Los Alamos National Laboratory will discuss theories that help explain why larger organisms live longer, in a joint Biology-Physics Colloquium 11 a.m.-noon Oct. 28.

Geoffrey West will present “The Tree of Life: The Origin of Universal Scaling Laws in Biology From Molecules and Cells to Whales” in Room 206 in Fisher Science Hall.

West, whose research recently appeared in the journal Science, will explain the “quicker-power scaling law,” a principle that correlates size and length of life for both animals and plants.

While scientists can show the principle is true, they don’t know why it is.

“If you could understand the origin of these scaling laws,” West said, “you’d understand something about aging and death.”

In an attempt to explain the phenomenon, West and his colleague proposed that the correlation stems from the physical constraints of the systems that distribute nutrients, whether that be blood vessels or the vascular network nourishing a plant.

In his talk, West will explain the group’s theory that the principle is based mostly on geometry and the nature of circulatory networks in particular.

West’s talk is co-sponsored by the Biological Sciences Department and the Physics Department. For more information, call the Physics Department at ext. 6-3448.

Julian’s to celebrate ‘old-time Halloween’
Julian’s in the University Union will celebrate an “Old-Time Halloween” on Friday with complimentary hot cider from 7:30 a.m. to noon and bobbing for apples from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Anyone who comes in costume will get a special treat.

‘Vanishing’ cultures focus of photo exhibit
Phil Borges, an award-winning photographer known for his riveting portraits of indigenous cultures, will give a free public talk at 4 p.m. Nov. 7 in the Rotunda (Room 215) of the Business Building.

Borges will speak about his exhibit, “Enduring Spirit,” which will run Nov. 1-1 Dec. 5 in the University Art Gallery in the Dexter Building.

After his talk, the artist will be honored at a reception from 6 to 8 p.m. in the gallery.

Seattle-based Borges studies and photographs the vanishing cultures of the world. The “Enduring Spirit” exhibit features 50 photographs of endangered cultures and tribal people from Indonesia, Kenya, Ethiopia, Thailand, Peru and North America.

The Dalai Lama wrote the text to accompany Borges’ photographs in the book “Tibetan Portrait: The Power of Compassion.” The book provides a unique understanding of the Tibetan people and the Buddhist teaching of nonviolence.

Chilean author Isabel Allende wrote in the book’s introduction, “In this beautiful book, Phil Borges celebrates, with his images and stories, life as it lived and shared in so many places on our fragile and beautiful planet.”

Information about Borges and images of his work can be found on line at www.philborges.com.

The University Art Gallery is open 1 a.m.-4 p.m., daily. Wednesday. 7-9 p.m.

For information, call ext. 6-1571.

‘School choice’ advocate to talk at Nov. 4 symposium
Terry Moe, senior fellow at the Hoover Institute and one of the country’s leading advocates of the “school choice” movement, will give the keynote address at an Education Policy Symposium 5:30-30 p.m. Nov. 4.

Titled “Alternative Approaches to Academic Excellence” in Philips Hall in the Performing Arts Center.

After the talk, a panel of local educators will comment on the issues presented.

The panel will be Julian Crocker, superintendent of the San Luis Obispo Unified School District; and Karen Gallas, teacher and principal at Bellevue-Santa Fe School in the Avila Valley.

The book “Politics, Markets, and America’s Schools,” co-authored by Moe and John E. Chubb, is considered among the most influential and controversial works on education to be published in the last decade.

Moe, a political science professor at Stanford University, is an expert on educational policy, political institutions and organizational theory. His current research projects deal with school choice, public bureaucracy and the presidency.

Moe has served as senior fellow at the Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C., and was a founding member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Refreshments will be served at 6:30 p.m.

The symposium is sponsored by the University Center for Teacher Education and Political Science Department.

For more information, call Carol Litle, director of advancement in the UCTE, at ext. 6-5934.

Central Coast chapter of IEEE to meet on campus
George Westrom, founder and executive director of the Future Scientists and Engineers of America organization, will present “Who Are the Engineers/Scientists/Technicians for the 21st Century?” at Nov. 2 meeting of the Central Coast chapter of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers.

The meeting will be 7-8 p.m. in Room 206 in English. Refreshments will be served at 6-6:30 p.m.

For details, call All Shabab in Electrical Engineering at ext. 6-2918.

Send items by Nov. 1 for fall Credit Report
Nov. 1 is the deadline to submit items for the fall quarter edition of The Credit Report, the newsletter that staff professional accomplishments.

For items, send to polynews@polymail, and please include a phone number in case we have questions.

For information, call ext. 6-1511.

Kathy Blackburn wins ‘Name the Bug’ contest
Kathy Blackburn of the Foundation’s Campus Catering office submitted the winning entry for the 1999 Y2K Bug” contest held in conjunction with Y2K Day earlier this month.

“Raiders” for short, earned Blackburn a $25 Campus Express gift certificate.

Kathy Blackburn, a server at the Mustang Marching Band, wins ‘Name the Bug’ contest.

Poet Boland to read works
Award-winning Irish poet Eavan Boland will read from her work at the first fall quarter WriterSpeak event at 7 p.m. Nov. 12 in Philips Hall in the Performing Arts Center’s Coban Center.

Boland will also be the keynote poet for the 16th annual San Luis Obispo Poetry Festival Nov. 12-21.

Boland has published several volumes of poetry, including her widely acclaimed American debut, “Outside History.” She is also the author of “In a Time of Violence,” “The Lost Land” and “Object Lessons.”

The New York Review of Books said Boland has emerged as one of the best poets in Ireland.

John Garden Castro of The Nation states, “Boland combines impeccable craft, resplendent metaphors and, above all, moral authority to witness human sufferings.”

Boland’s awards include a Lannan Foundation Award in Poetry and an American Ireland Fund Literary Award.

Send items by Nov. 1 for fall Credit Report
Nov. 1 is the deadline to submit items for the fall quarter edition of The Credit Report, the newsletter that staff professional accomplishments.

For items, send to polynews@polymail, and please include a phone number in case we have questions.

For information, call ext. 6-1511.

Only standby seating left for Marine Band concert
All free tickets have been distributed to “The President’s Own” J.S. Marine Band concert at 8 p.m. Nov. 9 in Harman Hall in the Performing Arts Center’s Coban Center.

Doors to the auditorium will open at 7 p.m., and all ticket holders need to be seated by 7:45. At that time music fans who don’t have tickets will be admitted to fill any unclaimed seats.

For more information, call Cal Poly Arts at ext. 6-6556.

Former Bandfest trombonist James Glover.

Bandfest ’99 planned for Nov. 20 at PAC
Bandfest ’99 will bring together 170 musicians in two university ensembles in a “wind instrument spectacular” set for 8 p.m. Nov. 20 in Harman Hall in the Performing Arts Center’s Coban Center.

The 80-member Cal Poly Wind Orchestra and the 90-member Mustang Band will play original tunes and toe-tapping popular arrangements in the 15th annual Bandfest concert.

Under the direction of music professor William Johnson, the Wind Orchestra will open the concert with two original works by James Curnow, “Rejoicinssance” and the “Praetorians Variations.” The orchestra will also perform Symphony No. 6 for Wind Orchestra by Vincent Persichetti.

The Mustang Band, directed by David Rackley of the Music Department faculty, will perform popular arrangements that “will add a choreographed upbeat brilliance to the concert,” said John Crocker, director of advancement in the UCTE.

The Wind Orchestra and the Mustang Band together will close the concert with “Africa, Ceremony, Song and Ritual” by Robert W. Smith and “Russian Christmas Music” by Alfred Reed.

The Wind Orchestra is an ensemble of just the woodwind, brass and percussion sections of a traditional orchestra.

Tickets cost $7 to $15.

Patrons who buy tickets to three or four Cal Poly Wind Orchestra and University Jazz Band season events will save 15 percent; those who buy tickets to five or more events will save 25 percent.

Season events to come include Bandfest ’99, the Pops Concert Feb. 26, “Just Jazz” March 11, two Festival Concerts, April 15 and 16, Jazz Night May 13, and the Spring Concert March 12.

For a season brochure and more information, call the Music Department at ext. 6-2607.

Bandfest ’99 is sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts, Music Department and ASI.
Correction
In last week’s Cal Poly Report article announcing David Rackley’s Telly award, he was credited as director of the Mustang Marching Band. Music professor William Johnson is director; Rackley is associate conductor. Our apologies for the error.

Oct. 28 talk to explore size, life span link
A physicist from the Los Alamos National Laboratory will discuss theories that help explain why larger organisms live longer, in a joint Biology-Physics Colloquium 11 a.m.-noon Oct. 28.

Geoffrey West will present “The Tree of Life: The Origin of Universal Scaling Laws in Biology From Molecules and Cells to Whales” in Room 286 in Fisher Science Hall.

West, whose research recently appeared in the journal Science, will explain the “quarter-power scaling law,” a principle that correlates size and length of life for both animals and plants.

While scientists can show the principle is true, they don’t know why it is.

“If you could understand the origin of these scaling laws,” West said, “you’d understand something about aging and death.”

In an attempt to explain the phenomenon, West and his colleagues proposed that the correlation stems from the physical constraints of the systems that distribute nutrients, whether it be blood vessels or the vascular network nourishing a plant.

In his talk, West will explain the group’s theory that the principle is based mostly on geometry and the nature of circulatory networks in particular.

West’s talk is supported by the Biological Sciences Department and Physics Department. For more information, call the Physics Department at ext. 6-2448.

‘Vanishing’ cultures focus of photo exhibit
Phil Borges, an award-winning photographer known for his riveting portraits of indigenous cultures, will give a free public talk at 4 p.m. Nov. 7 in the Rotunda (Room 215) of the Business Building.

Borges will speak about his exhibit, “Enduring Spirit,” which will run Nov. 1-Dec. 5 in the University Art Gallery in the Dexter Building.

After his talk, the artist will be honored at a reception from 6 to 8 p.m. in the gallery.

Seattle-based Borges studies and photographs the vanishing cultures of the world. The “Enduring Spirit” exhibit features 90 photographs of endangered cultures and tribal people from Indonesia, Kenya, Ethiopia, Thailand, Peru and North America.

The Dalai Lama wrote the text to accompany Borges’ photographs in the book “Tibetan Portrait: The Power of Compassion.” The book provides a unique understanding of the Tibetan people and the Buddhist teaching of nonviolence.

Chilean author Isabel Allende wrote in the book’s introduction, “In this beautiful book, Phil Borges celebrates, with his images and stories, life as it is lived and shared in so many places on our fragile and beautiful planet.”

Information about Borges and images of his work can be found on line at <www.philborges.com>.

The University Art Gallery is open 1 a.m.-4 p.m., daily; Wednesday, 7-9 p.m.

For information, call ext. 6-1571.

‘School choice’ advocate to talk at Nov. 4 symposium
Terry Moe, senior fellow at the Hoover Institution and one of the country’s leading advocates of school choice, will give the keynote address at an Education Policy Symposium 5-30 p.m. Nov. 4. The symposium, titled “Alternative Approaches to Academic Excellence” in Philips Hall in the Performing Arts Center.

After the talk, a panel of local educators will comment on the issues presented.

The panel will be Julian C. Gruver, superintendent of the San Luis Obispo County of Education; Ted Wheeler, a trustee of the San Luis Coastal Unified School District; and Karen Gallas, teacher and principal at Bellevue-Santa Fe School in the Avila Valley.

The book “Politics, Markets, and America’s Schools,” co-authored by Moe and John E. Chubb, is considered among the most influential and controversial works on education to be published in the last decade.

Moe, a professor of political science at Stanford University, is an expert on educational policy development, political institutions and organizational theory. His current research projects deal with school choice, public bureaucracy and the presidency.

Moe has served as senior fellow at the Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C., and as a visiting member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Refreshments will be served at 6:30 p.m.

For more information, call the Office of Campus Diversity at ext. 6-5934.

Central Coast chapter of IEEE to meet on campus
“George Westrom, founder and executive director of the Future Scientists and Engineers of America organization, will present ‘Who Are the Engineers?Scientists/Technicians for the 21st Century?’ at the Nov. 2 meeting of the Central Coast section of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers.

The meeting will be 7-8 p.m. in Room 206 in Engineering Center.

For details, call All Shabon in Electrical Engineering at ext. 6-2918.

Send items by Nov. 1 for fall Credit Report
Nov. 1 is the deadline to submit items for the fall quarter edition of The Credit Report, the newsletter that and staff professional accomplishments.

For information, call ext. 6-5004. Referees will be available at about 6:30 p.m.

For details, call All Shabon in Electrical Engineering at ext. 6-2918.

Kathy Blackburn wins ‘Name the Bug’ contest
Kathy Blackburn of the Foundation’s Campus Catering office submitted the winning entry for the Y2K Bug contest held in conjunction with Y2K Day earlier this month.

"Raiders—Tip the Teddy Bear?" Bronze Award for short, earned Blackburn a $25 Campus Express gift certificate.

"Raiders—Alludes to the Nazi death raid. It’s the Y2K bug. Get it?!"

Poet Boland to read works
Award-winning Irish poet Eavan Boland will read from her work at the first fall quarter WriterSpeak event at 7 p.m. Nov. 12 in Philips Hall in the Performing Arts Center’s Coban Center.

Boland will also be the keynote poet for the 16th annual San Luis Obispo Poetry Festival Nov. 12-21.

Boland has published several volumes of poetry, including her widely acclaimed American debut, “Outside History.” She is also the author of “In a Time of Violence: ‘The Last Land’ and ‘Object Lessons.’”

The New York Review of Books said, “Boland has emerged as one of the best poets in Ireland.”

Jan Gardner Castro of The Nation states, “Boland combines impeccable craft, resilient metaphors and, above all, moral authority to witness human difficulties.”

Boland’s award-winning debut Foundation Award in Poetry and an American Irish Fund Literary Award.

The reading, “Outside History” and other Boland publications will be on sale in Philips Hall.

For more information, call Carol Barnes, director of advancement in the UCTE, at ext. 6-5934.

Only standby seating left for Marine Band concert
All free tickets have been distributed to “The President’s Own” U.S. Marine Band concert at 8 p.m. Nov. 9 in Harman Hall in the Performing Arts Center’s Coban Center.

Doors to the auditorium will open at 7 p.m., and all ticket holders need to be seated by 7:45. At that time music fans who don’t have tickets will be admitted to fill any unclaimed seats.

For more information, call Cal Poly Arts at ext. 6-6556.

Bandfest ’99 planned for Nov. 20 at PAC
Bandfest ’99 will bring together 170 musicians in two university ensembles in “a wind instrument spectacular” set for 8 p.m. Nov. 20 in Harman Hall in the Performing Arts Center’s Coban Center.

The week-long event will feature two university ensembles that perform in a Wind Ensemble, Oct. 19, 20 and 22 in Forsyth Coliseum, and the Music Department, Oct. 21 and Nov. 12 in Philips Hall.

Tickets cost $7 to $15. Patrons who buy tickets to three or four Cal Poly Wind Orchestra and University Jazz Band season events will save 15 percent; those who buy tickets to five or more events will save 25 percent.

Season events to come include Bandfest ’99, the Pops Concert Feb. 26, “Just Jazz” March 11, two Festival Concerts, April 15 and 16, Jazz Night May 13, and the Spring Concert June 3.

For a season brochure and more information, call the Music Department at ext. 6-6207.

Bandfest ’99 is sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts, Music Department and ASI.

Former Bandfest trombonist James Grover.

Page 4

Page 5
League of Women Voters honors two staff members

Rosemary Bowker, information technology consultant in the Biological Sciences Department, and Donna Davis, Career Services counselor, received the 1999 Mary Rhodes Awards from the San Luis Obispo League of Women Voters.

Bowker was honored for her community efforts and volunteer work in Los Osos, particularly for environmental causes. Davis was selected for her educational outreach and mentoring activities. The awards are given annually to a few community leaders who exemplify in their professional and community achievements the values of Mary Rhodes, first woman president of the California State Teachers Association and a founding member of the San Luis Obispo League of Women Voters.

Grants, other opportunities to be discussed Nov. 5

An orientation for new and tenure-track faculty members, "Internal/External Grant Programs and Other Professional Development Opportunities," will be held at noon Nov. 5 in Room 201 in the Business Building.

Box lunches will be provided. Those who plan to attend are asked to call the Research and Graduate Programs Office by Nov. 1 at ext. 6-1508, or e-mail <cbrooksh@calpoly.edu>.

Bhutan subject of talk

Architecture professor Christopher Yip will present "Tradition and the Question of Change in Bhutan" at noon Nov. 2 in the Veranda Café Conference Room.

Bhutan, roughly the size of Switzerland, sits on the southern slope of the Himalayan mountains. The majority population is of Tibetan origins and is the last surviving Buddhist theocratic state selectively introducing foreign technology while limiting the impact of foreign influences on its culture and religion. Students as well as employees are invited to the talk, sponsored by International Education and Programs (IEP). Attendees can bring their own lunch or buy one at the Veranda Café. For details, call IEP at ext. 6-1477.

Tickets to the performances listed in today's Cal Poly Report are on sale at the Performing Arts Ticket Office 10 a.m.-6 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturdays. Call ext. 6-2787, or to order by fax, dial ext. 6-6088.
Memorial scholarship created for Don Floyd

A memorial scholarship has been named for Don Floyd, a retired social sciences professor and longtime supporter of the CSU’s International Programs who died earlier this year.

In honor of his commitment to international education, his widow, Yvonne, has set up a scholarship fund in his name at Mid-State

california Polytechnic State University

Don Floyd

Bank for an International Programs applicant at Cal Poly.

Anyone wanting to contribute to the scholarship or needing more information should contact Marilyn Yok at ext. 6-5964 • ext.yok@calpoly.edu

CPR schedule change

Because campus will be closed on Veterans’ Day, Nov. 11, 11 a.m.-3 p.m., Thanksgiving, Nov. 25-26, we’ve had to move up the deadlines to submit articles for two issues of the Cal Poly Report.

For the Nov. 17 Cal Poly Report, we need items by 10 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 10, and for the Dec. 1 report, by 10 a.m. Tuesday, Nov. 23. The e-mail address is <polynews@polymail>.

CFA president Meisenhelder to visit Cal Poly Nov. 5

Susan Meisenhelder, president of the California Faculty Association, will be on campus 10 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Nov. 10. From 10 a.m. to noon she will meet with members of the Academic Senate and the Cal Poly Labor Council in UU 220. The remainder of her schedule is:

• Noon-2 p.m. - Lecturers’ Luncheon in the Veranda Café
• 2:30-4 p.m. - General Faculty Meeting, UU 220
• 6-8:30 p.m. - General Membership Dinner, Alumni House.

All Unit 3 members, including faculty members, counselors, librarians and coaches, are urged to attend the lunch or dinner.

For more information, contact Phil Petfer, CFA chapter president, at ext. 6-6417 or by e-mail at <petfer@calpoly.edu>.

Learning, teaching topic of next FIDO talk Oct. 28

Professors Dan Waldorf of the Industrial and Manufacturing Engineering Department and David Braun, Electrical Engineering, will present “New Century Career: Teaching, Learning, and Your Academic Career” noon-1 p.m. Oct. 28 in the San Luis Lounge in the UU 220.

Their talk will cover the highlights of a one-week National Science Foundation education workshop held at Stanford University last summer to help new engineering faculty members from around the country understand learning and teaching practices that support effective learning for all students.

Workshop participants learned to integrate pedagogical knowledge with other forms of scholarship while recognizing the multiple demands for faculty productivity.

Waldorf and Braun will explain how participants redesigned courses and instructional strategies, taking into consideration new information and research concerning teaching, learning styles, inclusive classroom learning, elements of effective lecturing, project-based learning, technology in teaching, time management, developing a career strategy, and balance in personal and professional lives.

Although the NSF workshop was geared toward engineering professors, the content of much of the workshop is relevant to other faculty members, particularly those new to teaching.

The talk is sponsored by the Faculty Instructional Development Office. For more information, call Penny Ross at ext. 6-5933, D.

Wilderness Medicine to be taught at Cal Poly

Those looking to develop the confidence and skills needed to handle backcountry emergencies should plan to attend the Wilderness First Responder training program to be offered at Cal Poly Dec. 11-20.

Taught by members of the Wilderness Medicine Institute of the National Outdoor Leadership School, the program is a nationally recognized, 80-hour course that trains participants to respond to emergencies in remote settings.

Attendees will learn how to monitor a patient, manage wounds and fight infection, realign fractures and dislocations, and improvise splinting techniques. They will perform a variety of administrative support functions for the office of the vice president for student affairs.

For more information on the endowment, call Tom Needell, director of University Advancement (Unit 7) • ext. 6-1533. Official application forms must be received by 4 p.m. no later than the closing date or be postmarked by the closing date. (No faxes, please.) For positions marked with an asterisk, qualified on-campus applicants currently in Bargaining Units 2, 5 and 7 will be given first consideration.

'Wild' Scientists' win volleyball tourney

The Mad Scientists team from the Chemistry and Biochemistry and Physics departments won the championship in the men's and faculty category of the 2nd annual Mark S. Reuling Volleyball Challenge, held earlier this month.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the student division. Other teams came from ASI Recreational Sports, the ASI Business Office, Career Services, Health and Counseling Services, the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs, Statistics, Student Academic Services, Student Life, and the University Advancement.

Team fees added to an endowment named in honor of former student Mark Reuling, who suffered from depression and committed suicide.

The tournament, coordinated by Rec Sports, is expected to expand in the future and continue to raise funds for education and training about mental illness and depression.

For more information on the endowment, call Marty Bragg, director, Health and Psychological Services, at ext. 6-5279.

From left: Pam and Ed Reuling (Mark S. Reuling's parents), ChaceHoldworth, Derek Gragg, Dave Keeling, Peggy Rice, Rod Schonon. Grace Ann Neff, and Theresa Balanco. Holdworth is a member of the Physics Department; the others are from Chemistry and Biochemistry.

Position vacancies

Vacancy information and applications for the following positions are available from the appropriate Human Resources offices. Information is also available on the Cal Poly home page (www.calpoly.edu) • click on "General Information".

STATE (Adv. 110, ext. 6-2236 or job line at ext. 6-5333). Official application forms must be received by 4 p.m. on closing date or be postmarked by the closing date. (No faxes, please.) For positions marked with an asterisk, qualified on-campus applicants currently in Bargaining Units 2, 5 and 7 will be given first consideration.

• #07047: Billing Coordinator (Administrative Support Coordinator I) • Information Technology Services/Computer Communications and Computing Services

(AD) (Unit 7) • Closing date: Nov. 10. Salary: $2,413 - $3,065/month. This position will provide the full range of administrative support to various members of the IT Services staff.

• #07051: Administrative Support Assistant I, Information Technology Services (Unit 7) • Closing date: Nov. 10. Salary: $1,736 - $2,185/month. This position provides general office support to the units involved in the Information Technology Services.

• #07052: Administrative Support Coordinator I, Office of the Associate Vice President for University Advancement (Unit 7) • Closing date: Nov. 10. Salary: $2,413 - $3,065/month. This position will provide the full range of administrative support to the Office of the Associate Vice President for University Advancement.

• #07053: Administrative Support Assistant I, University Center for Teacher Education

(Advisory Council) (Unit 7) • Closing date: Nov. 10. Salary: $1,794 - $2,315/month. This position will provide general office support to the director, faculty, staff and students in the University Center for Teacher Education.

• #07054: Administrative Support Assistant I, College of Liberal Arts, Graphic Communication (University Advancement) (Unit 7) • Closing date: Nov. 10. Salary: $1,570 - $1,715/month. This position provides general office support related to the College of Liberal Arts and Graphic Communication.

Continued from page 7

(SAP) at a different location. May be required until filled, review of applications will begin November 5. Salary range: $3,102 - $4,188/month, full­ time. Responsible for maintenance, installation, and development of enterprise network utilizing Novell 4.11, Windows NT 4.0 and Unix. Manage Web server and its content, maintain archival storage and network security; develop and manage operational servers and IT budgets.
Supervise computer staff. Requires B.S. in computer science, business, or related field; 3 years' related experience. Complete description and applications available in ASI Business Office.

Coordinator of Aquatics and Summer Programs, Recreational Sports, Open until filled. Position description and applications will begin Nov. 1. Salary range:
$3,102 - $4,188/month, full­ time. Under the supervision of the director of recreational sports, provides oversight and supervision for a staff of lifeguards and water safety instructors. Works directly with professional and student staff to develop and implement summer programs for children and aquatics programming for the campus community. Requires bachelor's degree, two years' progressively responsible student services work experience, and current applicaable American Red Cross certification.
Master's degree and two years' post bachelor's degree work experience preferred.

Recreational Sports, Open.
Full-time position in creative arts programs, including dance, music, and visual and performing arts. Two 12-month positions available begin­ning January 1, 2000. Position responsibilities include:
planning and implementation of creative arts programming for the campus community; providing resources and supervision to student leaders; maintaining relationships with external agencies; and preparing reports on program participants. Bachelor's degree with emphasis in creative arts required. Experience in student service/leadership administration and supervi­sion of a menu catering business is desirable.
Closing date: position is open until filled. Review of applications will begin November 5. Salary range: $3,102 - $4,188/month, full­time.

FRIDAY, October 29

Books at High Noon: Jo Rubbo
(English), "Cold Mountain" by Charles Frazier, Veranda Cafe, noon.

Mathematics Colloquium: Carol Day
(Thomson/Scientific Measurements),
"The Eclectic Circle of Claudius Ptolemy,"
Fisher Science 289, 4­:10 p.m.

Saturday, October 30

Football: Cal Poly vs. Portland
State, Mustang Stadium, 2 p.m.

Music: Cal Poly Choirs Fall Concert with PolyPhonics and Cal Poly Vocal Jazz,
The University Singers, First Baptist Church, San Luis Obispo,
7 p.m.

Monday, November 2

Speaker: Christopher Yip (Architect), "Tradition and the Quest for Excellence in Design," Veranda

Report

PAGE 8